ENATE WRESTS OLLAR POWERS ROM PRESIDENT

Defeats Voted on Extension Bill.

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 26.—[Special.]—The senate today voted to polish most of President Roosevelt's ctatorial monetary powers. The bill extend the President's powers for o years was torn to shreds by a ries of three administration defeats d then passed without a record vote. e defeats were:

The senate voted 47 to 31 to de- prive the President of his dicta- rial power to devalue the dollar om 59.06 per cent down to 50 per nt of its former value.

The senate adopted, by a vote of 48 to 30, an amendment depriving e President of his discretionary wer to purchase domestically mined lver at any price and fixing instead mandatory price of 77.57 cents an unce.

The senate adopted, without a rec- ord vote, an amendment terminat- g all foreign purchases in the ad- inistration's silver buying program. nce the purchase of domestic sil- r is regulated by the mandatory ice fixed by the senate amendment. oday's action virtually repeals the lver purchase act of 1934.

One Provision Unchanged.

The triple defeat for the adminis- ation left only one provision of the onetary powers extension bill as riginally introduced and passed by e house. That is the President's uthority to maintain the 2 billion ollar stabilization fund, which is ed in connection with a tri-partite onetary agreement with England nd France to stabilize the dollar, the ound, and the franc in international xchange.

Neither does the senate's action dis- urb the President's power, under the homas amendment to the agricul- ural adjustment act of 1933, to issue o to 3 billion dollars in greenbacks.

The sensational and wholly unex- ected triple slap at the President as the result of a suddenly executed eal between Republican senators and estern silverites.

he westerners had filibustered for week, threatening to scuttle the onetary powers bill in an effort to orce the administration to pay a igher price for newly mined domes- ic silver. The current price, dis- retionary with the administration, is 4.64 cents an ounce, while the world rice is under 43 cents. The current rice expires June 30, and the west- rners wanted a higher price.

Call Victory Cheap.

The Republicans made the victory or the silverites possible in return or support of the amendment to de- rive the President of his power urther to devalue the dollar. The rice they paid was small, since an in- rease of 13 cents an ounce on 58,000,- 00 ounces of silver [last year's pro- uction] is only $7,540,000.

Furthermore, the Republicans laimed to be consistent in support- ng a higher price for silver so long s congress is fixing the price and ot leaving it to the President.

Although the possibility of a deal etween the Republicans and the ilverites for the purpose of smash- ng the President's monetary powers ad been discussed, the agreement as not made until a few minutes be- ore the vote came today.

These Senators Engineer Deal.

Senator Alva B. Adams [D., Colo.], enator Burton K. Wheeler [D., ont.], Senator Key Pittman [D., ev.], and Senator Pat McCarran D., Nev.] represented the Democrats n arranging the vote trading deal, hile Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg R., Mich.], Senator H. Styles Bridges R., N. H.], Senator Warren R. Aus- in, [R., Vt.], and Senator Henry abot Lodge [R., Mass.] represented he Republicans.

Sixteen Republicans voted to fix mandatory price of 77.57 cents an unce for domestic silver, while only wo Republicans—John G. Townsend R., Del.] and Charles W. Tobey [R., N. H.]—voted against it. In return or this, 29 Democrats voted to elimi- ate the President's power further to evalue the dollar.

The Democrats voting to strike out he devaluation section included such ditherto 100 per cent yes-men as Sen- tor Pittman, Senator Henry F. shurst of Arizona, Senator Sheridan owney of California, Senator James . Murray of Montana and Senator

NEW FRANCHISE PROPOSAL SENT TO CITY COUNCIL

Plan to Modernize, Extend System.

The proposal, sent to the city council local transportation committee, provides for an increase in street car fares from 7 to 8 cents, and 10 cent fares on subways, elevated lines, and express buses. Transfers between street cars and the other lines would be issued for an additional 2 cent charge.

The proposed ordinance also provides for an extensive program to modernize the equipment of all the transit systems.

First Definite Proposals.

Representatives of the transit companies began negotiations with the council committee two months ago. The franchise plan submitted yesterday is the first set of definite proposals made by either group. It will be presented today to Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson, whose court has jurisdiction over both the elevated and surface lines. The new unified company, the Chicago Transit company, would include these lines as well as the bus company and subway system.

Under the terms of the proposed franchise, the unified company would purchase 1,000 all metal elevated cars within five years. It would also buy ,000 new street cars and 500 modern buses within four years.

The ordinance calls for the purchase of an additional 1,100 street cars after the first four years. Five hundred of the new elevated cars—half the total to be acquired—would have to be purchased by the time State and Dearborn street subways are ready for use. This is expected to be in less than two years.

New Express Bus Routes.

The transit lines' proposals called for eight new express bus routes, twenty-five new street car and bus lines or additions to present routes, and substitution of buses on twenty-five street car routes. Four of the express bus lines would lead into the loop.

A valuation of $220,000,000 for the present properties of the elevated lines and surface lines was written into the ordinance draft. This sum does not include the Chicago Motor Coach company [bus lines], nor the subways now being built.

In return for the franchise the city would be paid 3 per cent of the gross revenues of the unified system. This would be paid, however, only after all operating expenses, taxes, bond interest, and sinking fund requirements and dividends on the preferred stock had been disbursed.

City Opposes Fare Boost.

Ald. James R. Quinn [50th], chairman of the transportation committee, said last night that the city opposes several of the chief provisions of the proposed ordinance. The city, he said, is unqualifiedly in favor of a 7 cent street car fare. He asserted also that the suggested valuation figure is too high, and that compensation to the city should be paid before full dividends are paid to preferred stockholders.

The city is agreeable, Ald Quinn said, to the type of franchise proposed. This is a so-called terminable permit which runs indefinitly unless terminated by the city because of failure to meet its provisions. The city would be given the right to purchase the entire system on six months' written notice, at a price equal to the book valuation on the date of acquisition.

The new company agrees under the proposal to set up a pension system for its employés, making charges for this purpose an operating expense.

Use City Traction Fund.

The transit lines also proposed that $20,000,000 be taken from the present traction fund to help pay the cost of modernizing the system. Future compensation to the city would go into the traction fund, which would be used for further modernization and for extending the subway system.

The franchise draft was submitted by the three man negotiating committee for the transit lines: Walter A. Shaw, chairman; Guy A. Richardson, president of the surface lines, and Col. A. A. Sprague, trustee for the elevated lines.

SOARS TO A RECORD IN 40 MILE ROUND TRIP, ONE WAY WITH WIND

Elmira, N. Y., June 26.—[Special.]—Chester J. Decker of Glen Rock, N. J., established a new American soaring record today for goal flight and return. He flew to Hammondsport and returned to Harris Hill, a forty mile round trip in 3 hours 7 minutes although bucking a wind one way. The record had been held by Richard C. du Pont of Wilmington, Del., who in 1936 flew to Watkins Glen and back, a total of thirty-four miles.

Immediately after his Hammondsport flight Decker flew over the mountains to Williamsport, fifty-eight miles away, where he landed.

How Stacy Lee Went Out to the Ball Game

BY WILLIAM MOORE.

Here are the peregrinations of Stacy Lee Moyer, who started out to watch the White Sox play ball last Thursday—although it was the Cubs who were in town:

Driving rapidly away from his home at 2040 Mohawk street he succeeded, by blind navigation, in reaching Gary. But he found no White Sox there.

Pushing on, he was somewhat puzzled to find that he had doubled back to Hammond. They hadn't any White Sox there, either, although police say he told them he searched diligently in Joe's place and in Heinie's.

Mr. Moyer wouldn't give up. He headed for Logansport, another likely Indiana hiding place for White Sox, eighty miles southeast.

Ah, There, Mr. Corrigan!

It was Friday morning when he reached his destination and found that he had not been driving southeast to Logansport but straight east, to Milford in Kosciusko county. Since there was no use looking there, he set out again for Logansport. But in taking a short cut through the courthouse yard at Rochester he turned east instead of southwest. Through Akron and North Manchester he sped to Fort Wayne, sixty miles in the wrong direction.

If, as police say, he drove 90 miles an hour, it wasn't so much from a desire to get to Logansport as to get away from State Policeman Estil Bemenderfer, who was chasing him.

Through some miscalculation, he got back into the right direction at Fort Wayne. Unprepared for this, the policeman lost him.

Mr. Moyer struck an abutment that wrecked his car near Huntington. Policeman John Morgan of Huntington took him and a gallon of wine into custody.

It Never Rains But It Pours.

Huntington authorities fined him $10 and costs for drunken driving. Mr. Moyer took off his shoe to get the money and discovered some one had been there before him. He stayed in jail until relatives came and paid the fine and took him to their home—in Logansport. Then Mr. Moyer stepped aboard a bus for Chicago, the home of the White Sox.

The state policeman he had eluded heard about it and had the bus stopped in Hebron, Ind. Mr. Moyer was sent back to North Manchester, where he was wanted for speeding, reckless driving, and disregarding stop signs. The fine was $90. Sunday morning he received $150 by telegram from Chicago.

North Manchester authorities made change for him yesterday and state police took him back to another Indiana town, Akron, where he was wanted for reckless driving. That cost him $40 more.

Mr. Moyer promptly set out in a general direction. It brought him back to his Chicago home, where he was resting up last night to resume his work of painting. [Houses, not towns.]

LONDON SINKS TEETH INTO RESULT OF ROYAL TOUR—IT'S A HOT DOG

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 26.—The first really tangible result of the royal visit to America—something you could sink your teeth into—made its appearance today. It was the hot dog.

This delicacy, which British artistocrats previously had scorned, has acquired a social standing of the first rank since King George VI. and Queen Elizabeth sampled it at a picnic at President Roosevelt's home.

The hot dogs had their society preview at the former home of the king and queen at 145 Piccadilly which has been opened as a museum. There the humble wieners were served amid such curios as Napoleon's shaving brush, Princess Elizabeth's cot, and Charles I.'s shirt.

London newspapers publish pictures of society belles eating the hot dogs but apparently they have not mastered the technique. They are shown holding a hot dog daintily between the thumb and forefinger.

Pledge House Vote Today on Superhighway

BY HAL FOUST.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., June 27 [Tuesday].—[Special.]—Chicago's superhighway bills are to be rescued today from a sidetrack in a roads and bridges subcommittee of the house. This will place them on second reading in the house on the main tracks racing against time toward enactment before this session of the assembly is ended on Friday night.

In a midnight conference headed by Majority Leader Robert J. Branson [R., Centralia], Republican representatives voted to release the bills from their deadly detour in the subcommittee. Representative David Hunter Jr. [R., Rockford], chairman, will call a meeting of the committee this morning to bring the bills back to the floor of the house without recommendation. The conference followed a late session of the house.

Chances for passage of the bills are excellent. There were sixty-three Republicans at the conference and only five opposed the decision to withdraw the bills from the committee. However, some of the 58 announced they would oppose the bills on the floor of the house.

Speed Bills to Roll Call.

Advancement from second to third reading on Wednesday seems likely with a roll call for passage scheduled for Thursday. The senate could concur in house amendments on Thursday or Friday.

The midnight conference also released the Republicans from a decision of a previous conference to oppose the bills. This opposition was against the proposals when they included provisions involving $60,000,000 of state highway funds.

As it is agreed that the bills are to be amended on the floor, no state money will be involved. Chicago and Cook county each will be authorized by the legislature to issue $30,000,000 of notes to be retired with their respective revenues from future gasoline tax collections.

Republicans Act First.

Republicans and Democrats, Chicagoans and downstaters, earlier joined in indorsing the life saving proposals. They were influenced somewhat by week-end revelations that the party to block the improvements will suffer at the polls next year.

Republicans made the first move in behalf of the bills. Last week it was a vote of eighteen Republicans and one Democrat that sidetracked the bills to a subcommittee. G. O. P. leaders do not want this record to stand.

Speaker Hugh W. Cross [R., Jerseyville], Representative Elmer J. Schnackenberg [R., Chicago], and Representative Reed F. Cutler [R., Lewistown] issued separate statements approving the superhighway plans. Not to be outdone by the Republicans, F. Lynden Smith, director of public works and Gov. Henry Horner's campaign manager, also voiced approval of the plans, as did Representative James P. Boyle [D., Chicago], spokesman in the lower chamber for Mayor Edward J. Kelly of Chicago.

Need for Action Cited.

"We should not make a party issue of human lives," said Speaker Cross. "Engineers estimate that Chicago's annual traffic toll can be but 130 deaths and 4,500 personal injuries by building forty-one miles of superhighways. That subject is too vital for a political football."

"Because of its house majority, said Schnackenberg, a party leader in Chicago, "the Republicans can take the credit or receive the blame according to their votes on this issue."

Police Press Search for Educator.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Baton Rouge, La., June 26.—[Special.]—Louisiana changed governors tonight as the state shook with a scandal over use of public funds which has furnished the greatest sensation since the killing of Huey P. Long in September, 1935.

Lieut. Gov. Earl K. Long, brother of the late "Kingfish," was sworn in as successor to Gov. Richard W. Leche, who resigned, giving arthritis as the reason. The oath as governor was administered to Long at the executive mansion by John R. Land Sr., associate justice of the Supreme court, shortly after Leche had filed his resignation with the secretary of state.

Shortly before this a formal charge accusing Dr. James Monroe Smith, president of Louisiana State university, with embezzlement of $100,000 of university funds was accepted by District Attorney Dewey Sanchez. Dr. Smith, who disappeared yesterday after his resignation had been sent to Gov. Leche, still is a fugitive from the police. The complaint on which affidavit of embezzlement was filed was made by R. F. Roberts, assistant state superintendent of funds.

Find Unauthorized Bonds.

Smith, head of a university of 8,500 students, one of the agencies in the operation of WPA and PWA funds, had ventured into the stock market.

One cause of the shortage at the state university, which Gov. Leche stated might reach into hundreds of thousands of dollars was reported to have been due to the issuance of unauthorized bonds. Some of these were declared to have been found in the drawer of a desk in Dr. Smith's office. Indications were that the unauthorized bonds might total $750,000. It was reported that some of these bonds had been used for collateral on Dr. Smith's stock market operations.

With the police still searching for the missing Dr. Smith, J. Emory Adams, nephew of Mrs. Smith, the president's wife, is under $5,000 bond as a material witness. He was with Dr. Smith yesterday before the latter vanished. Reports are he has not revealed where the fugitive is, if he knows.

Adams with Smith Sunday.

Adams, chain grocery store manager, formerly was manager of the university fieldhouse and book store. Police said Smith's daughter told them the university head had left with his wife and another couple by automobile late yesterday.

Late tonight a description of Dr. Smith was sent out by police on short wave radio by Sherif Newman De Brettom asking police in the United States and Canada to arrest the educator on sight.

As the university is one of the agencies in the operation of PWA and WPA funds in Louisiana, the developments and the alleged shortage were deemed to add volume to WPA scandals agitating the state.

Outside the declaration of Gov. Leche that the financial scandal at the university may reach into hundreds of thousands of dollars, figures were not available on the amount and who profited. It was declared that some of the bonds may have been destroyed. The full loss to the university has not been determined by the auditors. Whether other officials are involved is a question.

Stock Market Plunger.

Dr. Smith's plunges into the stock market covered a period of two years, it was revealed tonight. He was reported to have lost heavily, particularly in a recent drop in the price of wheat in which he had large holdings. This was made public in a memorandum issued by Fenner & Beane, New Orleans brokers, with whom Dr. Smith had opened an account in 1936 under the code name of J. Monroe.

Charles E. Fenner, senior partner of the brokerage firm, said the account was closed out ten days ago, fully paid by two checks for $100,000 each after the brokers refused to accept state university bonds, proffered through an intermediary, as collateral on account. Fenner said the intermediary at one time offered university bonds at a face value of $375,000 as a deposit on future accounts.

Efforts to obtain a legal opinion as to the validity of the transaction failed, Fenner said, and "without a legal opinion we did not consider the bonds first class collateral and we requested that they be withdrawn."

The memorandum of the brokerage firm says the firm was informed that Dr. Smith represented a group of individual investors who were people of means, and that funds or collateral would be available at all times.

Convene Grand Jury Shortly.

The board of the state university met today and appointed Dr. E. S. Richardson, president of Louisiana Polytechnic Institute, as acting president of the state university at $12,000 a year. He was suggested by Gov. Leche.

District Attorney Sanchez said the grand jury would not be convened for three or four days pending further investigation. In his statement of last night, Gov. Leche said Dr. Smith had disappeared and Attorney General Ellison and District Attorney Sanchez desired to have him available for an immediate special grand jury investigation.

"As soon as we have sufficient evidence," said Sanchez, "we will convene the grand jury."

Earl Long took the oath as 48th governor of Louisiana at 7:10 p. m. in the east room of the executive mansion built by his assassinated brother, Huey Long. A crowd pressed around him. As the new governor finished repeating the oath he turned and kissed his wife, then Mrs. Leche, wife of the retiring governor. The Leches left at once for Covington where the former governor has a country estate some five miles out of town.

Leche Turns Over Office.

"It's all yours, Earl," said Leche as he met Long before the fireplace. "If you are as good a governor as lieutenant governor we're going to have a fine administration."

Leche resigned by proclamation signed by himself, accepting his own resignation, and declaring the office vacant. After this had been read Gov. Leche shouted:

"If anybody in the crowd wants a job let him see the governor." The crowd applauded.

In his hand Gov. Long held a clipping containing a verse of scripture. Later he said this would be his motto in office. The verse follows:

"Better a little with righteousness than great revenues without right."

"That's a significant statement," said a reporter.

"Yes," replied Gov. Long, "and you can say I am going to live up to it. I mean every word of it."

Call in More Investigators.

All day long the air cooled lobbies have been jammed with politicians in white linens who flocked in to see Long inducted into office. In the hotels and on the sweltering streets there has been discussion of whether the developments will result in a thorough investigation by Washington of the administration of WPA and PWA funds in Louisiana.

It was disclosed that increases have been made in the staf of investigators here to conduct the inquiry into the scandal in WPA affairs. According to Business Manager E. N. Jackson of the university, pending completion of the inquiry some officials o' the university have been asked not to leave the state on vacations.

Jackson also said state police who took charge of his office last night had left and that work was proceeding as usual. The books were not taken over by the state authorities in connection with the alleged shortage of university funds, and are said to be fully available to WPA agents.

Speculate on Smith's Whereabouts.

Whereabouts of Dr. Smith since the hour Leche declared he had disappeared and the state police had been instructed to locate and have him available for a grand jury inquiry, caused much speculation. Some fancied he might have left the state, others that he may be sequestered in some camp in the swamps on the bayous. Smith was a protégé of Huey Long.

SEEK KIN OF DEAD SON OF REPUTED RUSSIAN COUNT

The public administrator's office yesterday began a search for relatives of Clement T. Pinchuk, 48 years old, who died Friday in the County hospital. He had been rooming at 1528 Monroe street.

According to stories Pinchuk told his landlady, his father was a Russian count who was killed with four other members of the family during the 1918 revolution. Pinchuk bore scars which he said were from beatings at the hands of the Reds.

Pinchuk came to America in 1919 and took out citizenship papers later. He studied medicine, and worked as an orderly and nurse in hospitals. He spoke six languages.

PERRYVILLE, Alaska, June 26.—(AP)—The last white resident of this village fled aboard a government motorship today at the height of terrific explosions from the nearby volcano, Veniaminof. Only 10 natives remained behind. The rest left long ago, in fear of the volcano.

With the departure of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Johnson, government school teachers and radio operators, Perryville was cut off from the outside world. Mount Veniaminof shot huge columns of smoke and fire into the air at 5 to 10 minute intervals. After each display there were loud explosions and flames streaked down the mountain. Ashes were thrown for miles.

Capt. S. T. Whitlam of the motorship North Star said he saw flames and smoke from the mountain while the government boat was 150 miles from shore.

WOODSTOCK GETS POSTMASTER, BUT WHO'S MR. DIETER?

The 5,500 citizens of Woodstock, McHenry county, didn't know for a long time yesterday whether they had a new postmaster. They had been waiting since June 7 for word from Washington, D. C., on the appointment of a successor to William J. Todd.

Todd became postmaster a year ago on a temporary appointment. William W. Desmond qualified for the job in a civil service examination. Then he waited for the official approval. Yesterday a dispatch from Washington said Woodstock's new postmaster had been appointed and that Edward M. Dieter was the man.

"Who's Dieter?" asked Woodstock's 5,500 citizens. Nobody had ever heard of him. He wasn't in the phone book. The milkman didn't know. Last night Desmond had a hunch. "There are 22 Woodstocks in the nation," he said. "Maybe I'll get the job in Woodstock, Vt."

But his hunch was wrong. Inquiry in Washington showed that Desmond really had been appointed postmaster for Woodstock, McHenry county. And Dieter? They don't know him in Washington, either.

PAROLEE ADMITS KILLING WOMAN'S AUTO COMPANION

Hitch-Hiker Has Victim's Watch When Seized.

Grand Rapids, Mich., June 26.—[Special.]—A parolee was arrested here tonight by state police, who said he confessed the hitch-hike slaying of George G. Hall, a Detroit oil promoter.

The prisoner is Daniel M. Kent, 33 years old, possessor of a police record that dates back to his boyhood. He offered no resistance and readily confessed the crime, police said.

"I needed money and Hall talked like a big shot." Kent was quoted. "I decided to kill him and take what he had."

Kent was wearing the wrist watch, with Hall's name inscribed on the back, which he took from his victim after shooting him in the back last Friday and kidnaping his companion, Mrs. Ruth Doty. The couple had invited Kent into their car to give him a ride.

Traced by Photograph.

Kent was arrested in a rooming house here where he allegedly had been living with Miss Estella Lamb, who accompanied him here from St. Johns, Mich., several weeks ago to look for work.

Police were placed on his trail this morning by Mrs. Doty's identification of him from pictures in the rogue's gallery at state police headquarters in East Lansing, Mich.

Officers sped to Williamston, where his parents live, and learned from them that Kent had come here. The arrest was made early this evening.

Kent's crime career extends back to 1919, when he was committed to the Boy's Vocational school at Lansing. He served several terms at the Jackson state prison for stealing automobiles.

Freed on Parole.

Kent escaped twice from the prison and was captured in Chicago on Sept. 13, 1935, after his last flight. He was sentenced to the Jackson prison on Nov. 1, 1937, for a term of 1½ to 4½ years as a result of this escape. He was paroled last March.

Hall's body was found in a roadside gully a few miles from Laingsburg, in Shiawassee county, about eighteen hours after Mrs. Doty had reported the crime to Grand Rapids police.

Mrs. Doty, a comely divorcée, wept today as she told a coroner's jury of six farmers how she had been forced to help the slayer push Hall's body out of the car.

She pleaded with him, she said, to straighten the slain man's head after the body had been tossed into the shallow ditch. The killer told her, she testified, "Not to be so particular," but consented to cover the body with an auto robe.

"He said some awful things to me," she said, "but I begged him to spare me, at least till we got to Chicago, and he answered, 'I guess you'll play ball with me.'"

Mrs. Doty testified that she was driving Hall's car at a speed of 55 or 60 miles an hour in the vicinity of Fowler, Clinton county, when the hitch-hiker in the back seat shot the oil promoter, then forced her to ride around with him for eight hours while he made love to her.

MILLION DOLLAR CUT IN SCHOOL AID BILL IS PROPOSED BY HORNER

Springfield, Ill., June 26.—[Special.]—Gov. Henry Horner, in a special message tonight, asked the legislature to cut the state distributive school fund bill from 31 to 30 million dollars.

The governor recalled that the 1938 special session appropriated a million dollars for needy high school districts, but declared the precedent should not be extended to districts able to support themselves. He also recalled that in 1937 he vetoed an $800,000 bill for aid to high schools because it authorized grants to districts which he felt could finance their own needs.

Gov. Horner asked that the legislature change its program and appropriate only 30 millions. He pointed out that the form in which the school bill is written would prevent him from vetoing the 31 million figure. The bill he referred to is pending in the senate, after passage by the house.

COUNCIL GROUPS TO STUDY $605,000 TUNNEL PAYMENT

A joint committee composed of members of the city council committees on finance and utilities will meet this morning to consider paying the Chicago Tunnel company $605,000 for tunnel alterations to be required because of construction of the subway. Ralph H. Burke, deputy subway commissioner, recently told the finance committee that changes will have to be made in the underground network of freight tunnels in the business district. It was recommended that the council earmark funds for those changes. An agreement between the city and the tunnel company provides that the city must pay up to $700,000 for alterations required because of subway construction.

2 PER CENT STATE INCOME TAX BILL LOSES IN SENATE

BY GEORGE TAGGE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., June 26.—[Special.]—The state income tax bill lost tonight in the senate when only half of the required 26 votes were cast for a 2 per cent levy. The vote was 13 to 13, and 25 senators contributed to the bill's defeat by their silence.

Under the measure sponsored by Richard J. Daley [D., Chicago], the income tax would have replaced the 3 per cent sales tax beginning next year. Exemptions from the tax would have been granted on $1,000 income for married couples and $500 for single persons.

Daley Defends Measure.

"At various times you senators have given vent to your feelings regarding the inequality of the sales tax," Daley said. "We all know that a commodity tax is based on the ability to consume, whereas an income tax is based on the ability to pay."

Simon E. Lantz [R., Congerville] pointed out that a state income tax enacted a few years ago was held unconstitutional by the Illinois Supreme court on the ground that no exemptions could be made in imposing a tax.

Of the eight Democrats voting for the bill, only two besides Daley are from Chicago—A. L. Marovitz and Frank McDermott. The five Republican members who favored the measure were Richard J. Barr, Joliet; A. P. Benson, Batavia; R. G. Crisenberry, Murphysboro; George C. Dixon, Dixon, and Thomas P. Gunning, Princeton.

Little TVA Bill Rejected.

Virtually killed for this session was the "Little TVA" bill, which received four less than the required number of votes. It was kept technically alive by postponement of further consideration, but since this is the last week of the session, observers do not believe that it can be passed.

The bill provides for state owned hydro-electric plants in connection with dams and locks already in existence along the Illinois waterway from Lockport to near Utica. Power would be supplied primarily to state institutions, but any excess could be sold to public utilities at wholesale.

A similar bill was stricken from the house calendar in the eleventh hour rush toward final adjournment, and the senate measure was immediately introduced by Martin B. Lohman [D., Pekin].

BLOCKADE ROADS TO HALT ROBBER AFTER KIDNAPING

More than 25 north shore, state, and county police were scouring a large area in Northfield early today for a gunman who kidnaped a taxicab driver in Chicago. All roads in the vicinity were covered by a radio blockade.

The bandit hired the cab of Frank Spierer, 5050 Sheridan road, at State and Randolph streets and told Spierer that he wanted to go to Northfield. Spierer drove north through Evanston until near Skokie road, where the bandit drew a gun and robbed the driver of about $8. He then compelled Spierer to continue northward in Skokie road. At Winnetka avenue in Northfield Spierer swerved his cab.

It crashed into the front of the Brae-Lan barbecue, opened only last Saturday night. The gunman jumped out and ran into a field. Northfield police were called and they sent out a call for help to neighboring communities. Within a few minutes squads from Winnetka, Wilmette, Glencoe, Kenilworth, and state and county stations with two bloodhounds were on the scene, but up to 7 o'clock no trace of the bandit had been found.

Hubby Drains a Bottle, but Suicide Fear Fades

When Mrs. Nellie Burak saw her husband, John, 42 years old, lift a bottle to his lips and swallow the brown contents last night, she called police. "I think my husband's trying to commit suicide," she cried. A Marquette station squad hurried to the Burak home at 2235 18th place. They found Mr. Burak quite all right but the whisky in the bottle was low.

Escapes for Wife

Charles Dezulski, with his wife Mary, at police station after he was seized in Chicago.

Charles Dezulski, 27 years old, who escaped June 21 from the Missouri state prison at Jefferson City, where he was serving a ten year sentence for robbery, was seized yesterday in the home of his wife, Mary, at 1625 Cullerton street.

Lieut. Thomas Sheridan and a squad from the Marquette station arrested him an hour after his arrival. Dezulski said he was forced to swim across the Missouri river twice to escape bloodhounds. He then went to Kansas City, he said, in an effort to see his daughter, Marion, 6, at her grandparents' home, but failed because detectives were guarding the house. An effort will be made to bring Marion to Chicago so that Dezulski can see her before he is taken back to prison.

4 TERRORISTS TRY TO STEAL RIFLES IN BRITISH FORT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 26.—Four men believed to be Irish Republican army terrorists made a daring raid on Fort Southwick at Portsmouth, overpowered a military guard and attempted to seize a supply of rifles and ammunition, it was revealed tonight.

Last evening the men parked their car near the fort, leaving a fifth man at the wheel. The four approached the guard, threw him to the floor and while two held him, the others wrenched a telephone from the wall. Soldiers heard the noise and came running. The intruders fled in their car and have not been apprehended. One of the rifles was reported missing. Fort Southwick is one of five forts overlooking Portsmouth harbor. It is in a lonely spot and only a skeleton staff is on duty Sunday evenings.

Meanwhile, Scotland Yard was keeping up its hunt for terrorists responsible for recent bombings. A small suitcase was found on a railway footpath opposite a Coventry arms factory today. It contained enough explosive to blow up several buildings. Police believe the explosive was dropped by men frightened off as they were about to plant it.

5 GUNMEN RAID OFFICE, SMASH SAFE, GET $1,000

Five gunmen smashed their way into the offices of the Hydrox corporation at 2400 Lake Park avenue last night, cowed four employés, and then broke open the safe. They escaped with $1,000.

The robbers entered the plant by breaking a window on the first floor. Then they ran up the stairs to the second floor offices, where they forced Pierce Linsig, 4608 Beacon street, the cashier, and three other employés to lie on the floor.

While one man guarded the employés, the four others worked on the safe with chisels, hammers and crowbars. The main compartment yielded $1,000. Another compartment, containing much more money, resisted their efforts to open it.

Boy, 2, Falls 22 Feet from Apartment; Breaks Leg

Although Harold Blum's left leg was fractured when he fell twenty-two feet from the second story Blum apartment at 3438 Roosevelt road yesterday, physicians at the County hospital said he was lucky. Had he fallen on his head instead of his feet he might have been killed. Harold is 2 years old.

RELIEFERS PACK GALLERIES, BALK ACTION ON BILLS

BY PERCY WOOD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., June 26.—[Special.]—Presence in the house galleries of several hundred members of the Workers' alliance, an association of reliefers, led to a decision tonight to defer consideration of the $72,000,000 biennial relief appropriation until tomorrow. When the bill is called, it is possible the galleries will be cleared.

The measure is certain to provoke controversy because of the provision that the huge sum be expended at a rate of not more than 4 millions monthly. Some members want this prohibition lifted, and the governor be permitted to dole out sums according to the monthly needs recommended by the relief commission.

Demand Cut in Outlay.

Other members would reduce the 4 million top to a maximum of 3 millions monthly. Both these amendments will provoke quarrels on the floor, hence the decision not to bring the bill up in the presence of the reliefers.

Working steadily on senate measures, the house tonight advanced to third reading—in a position to be passed tomorrow or the next day—the important series carrying out reforms at the St. Charles School for Boys.

One of the bills appropriates $250,000 for erection of a new institution to which criminally delinquent boys could be sent. These are of the type who stage the numerous escapes and depredations that have terrorized the Fox river valley.

New Plan of Commitment.

Another redefines the term juvenile delinquent and provides that all boys shall be committed to the department of public welfare, which could send them to the present school or the new institution.

Also advanced was the Ward senate bill for election of eight additional judges to the Superior court of Cook county in June, 1940. This measure would increase the membership of the Superior bench from 20 to 28. The sponsor is Senator Herold G. Ward [D., Chicago], Mayor Edward J. Kelly's legislative spokesman.

As the last action of the night the house staged a long battle over the bill to increase the "take of race tracks from 6½ to 7½ per cent of the daily wager." A. B. Lager [D., Carlisle] attempted to append an amendment to this bill increasing Fairmount and Aurora tracks to 8½ per cent, but was defeated after much debate by a vote of 64 to 57. Joseph L. Rategan [D., Chicago] led the fight against the amendment. Fairmount now receives 8 per cent.

ZOO BABY BORN WITH BEARD; HIS FAMILY'S WILDE!

A hartebeest and a wildebeest were born yesterday at the Brookfield zoo, but the wildebeest already looks much older. It's his soft white beard. His father has whiskers, too, and his mother is a bearded lady.

The hartebeest is more valuable, said Director Edward H. Bean, because it is the child of the only pair of hartebeests in any of the country's zoos. Both are members of the antelope family.

Yesterday was moving day for Bushman, the gorilla in the Lincoln Park zoo. Temporary quarters were found for him while workmen began tearing down the double cage he has been sharing with Barney, the Orang-utang. Director Floyd Young said a new cage, 36 by 16 feet, will be ready in about three weeks.

TWO UNION AGENTS PUT ON TRIAL FOR TERROR CAMPAIGN

Two union agents, accused of subjecting restaurant owners to a campaign of terrorism, vandalism, and intimidation in an effort to organize their employés, went on trial yesterday before a jury in the Criminal court of Judge Robert Jerome Dunne.

The unionists, James Crowley, 36 years old, and Andrew Varvares, 38, are charged with malicious mischief for smashing the windows of a restaurant. The maximum penalty on the charge is one to ten years in prison. Taking of testimony is to begin today.

Crowley is a business agent and Varvares an organizer for the Hotel, Restaurant, Club, and Soda Fountain Employés' union, local 563. This union has been accused by 200 restaurant owners of smashing windows, hurling stench bombs, and beating employés in a campaign of intimidation begun last fall.

WOOER RECEIVES SUSPENDED TERM AND A MOVIE BID

Robert Knight Blanchard, 21 years old, who has pursued and attempted to woo his former wife, Miss Jayne Austin, despite a court restraining order, pleaded guilty of contempt yesterday. Judge Rudolph F. Desort imposed a suspended sentence of six months when Blanchard's attorney, Frank J. Link, told the court the young man had had movie offers that would take him to Hollywood.

"If he goes to Hollywood he will find a dozen young ladies who will be interested in him," said Attorney Link. "Miss Austin need fear no further trouble."

"If there is a next time, it will mean six months in jail," warned the judge.

One of the conditions of a recent divorce decree obtained by Miss Austin was an injunction preventing Blanchard from annoying her. He was arrested by Evanston police after pursuing Miss Austin and some of her friends in an automobile. Miss Austin, who is 20, lives at 350 Elder lane, Winnetka.

SENATORS VOTE TO END CONTROL OF TRUCK RATES

Springfield, Ill., June 26.—[Special.]—The senate tonight passed a series of bills removing intrastate truck regulation from the Illinois commerce commission and placing it under the department of public works with a new set of rules. The bills now go to the house, which killed identical measures last week.

The truck bills would eliminate bureau control of rates. Monopolistic features of the present regulations would be ended. The new rules would have to do mainly with safety.

In the house tonight, representatives killed a bill passed by the senate to ban heavy trucks from the state highways on week-ends. On the floor there was a demand for amendments to exempt many types of cargoes. A lengthy debate ended by a vote of 68 to 58 to strike the enacting clause.

In the senate, a bill to increase the Illinois highway police from 350 to 500 men was defeated.

SENATE WRESTS MONEY POWERS FROM PRESIDENT

Three Defeats Voted Into Extension Bill.

Lewis B. Schwellenbach of Washington.

The agreement was made and executed soon after the senate rejected, by a vote of 52 to 26, an amendment by Senator Pittman to fix a mandatory price of $1.27 an ounce for silver. Pittman then offered an amendment to fix the price at 77.57 cents.

Senator Adams, whose amendment to eliminate the devaluation power was pending, quickly modified his own amendment by incorporating the Pittman amendment. Senator Adams' strategy was to combine the strength of the Republicans and Conservative Democrats opposed to the President's power to devalue the dollar with the strength of the silverites.

President Roosevelt's "Dear Alben" Barkley [D., Ky.] the majority leader, apprehended danger in the Adams amendment and demanded that it be separated for a vote on each section. Senator John H. Bankhead [D., Ala.], who was in the chair, sustained Barkley's point of' order, and the senate, on an appeal taken by Senator Adams, sustained Bankhead's ruling by a vote of 39 to 35.

Republicans Agree on Silver.

When it became apparent that two separate votes would be taken, and that the vote on devaluation would come first, the silverite managers rushed over and asked the Republican leaders if they could be trusted. The silverites didn't want to vote to eliminate devaluation and then risk a runout on the part of the Republicans. The Republicans gave their word to vote later for 77.57 cent silver.

It was one of the most conspicuous trades ever executed on the floor of the senate. Both "Dear Alben" Barkley and Senator Robert F. Wagner [D., N. Y.], manager of the administration bill as chairman of the banking and currency committee, were furious. After the votes had been taken they stalked out of the chamber, red-faced and muttering.

Assails Foreign Purchases.

Senator Townsend offered the amendment to terminate foreign silver purchases. In a speech last week he explained that the administration had acquired a total of more than 2 billion ounces of silver, at a cost of about 1 billion, 100 million dollars, under the silver purchase program. About nine-tenths of this outlay went to foreign producers and speculators.

Senator Adams' amendment did not actually fix a price of 77.57 cents an ounce for domestic silver but that is its effect. It requires the treasury to pay to producers 60 per cent of the monetary value of each ounce of silver tendered. The treasury may retain as seniorage, or profit, not more than 40 per cent. The producers may be paid in either silver coin or silver certificates. Since the monetary value of silver is slightly more than $1.29, the 60 per cent to be received by the producers will be 77.57 cents an ounce.

Senator Adams denied that the treasury would be paying a subsidy to the silver producers. His amendment, he said, merely reduced the "profit" by the treasury in buying silver at 64.64 cents an ounce and issuing silver certificates against it at $1.29 an ounce.

Both the Republicans and the silverites believe there is a good chance that the house will agree to the senate amendments when the bill goes to conference.

MOSQUITO FIGHT FUNDS ASKED OF FOREST BOARD

The Cook county forest preserve board will be asked today to provide $2,000 in cash to finance Cook county's share in a proposed WPA survey of mosquito breeding areas in Cook, Lake, and Du Page counties. Du Page county voted last Friday to pay its share and the Lake county board will consider its part in the program on July 11.

A request for the $2,000 was made before the Cook county board of commissioners at a meeting yesterday. Commissioner John E. Traeger Jr., who introduced the request, was advised that the forest preserve district would be the best place to find it.

President Clayton F. Smith of the board and several commissioners said they were sure Cook county would do its part in the campaign to get rid of the insect pests. The county commissioners sit as the forest preserve board, Traeger said.

Claim Train Record

Train route between Berlin and Hamburg, where German train yesterday is reported to have reached top speed of 133 miles an hour.

BERLIN, June 26.—(AP)—The German railways reported today it had bettered the world passenger train speed record with an average of 124 miles an hour. One of its trains reached a top speed of 133 miles an hour and held it as long as 25 minutes at a time.

The run was made on an almost straight 186 mile stretch between Berlin and Hamburg, by a three coach train equipped with two Maybach Diesel engines of 600 horsepower each.

COLLEGE YOUTH PUT ON TRIAL IN DESERT KILLING

Phoenix, Ariz., June 26.—(AP)—Selection of a jury to try Robert Burgunder, 22 years old, on a charge of murder proceeded slowly today after the collegian was ordered to trial over protests that his defense was unprepared.

Robert Burgunder. [A. P. Wirephoto.]

Burgunder, who gained recognition in college as a debater, insisted he be permitted to direct his own defense, but an attorney his father had retained was reappointed to defend him after twice withdrawing from the case. The young man, however, obtained permission from Judge Arthur T. La Prade to question and cross-examine witnesses.

Burgunder is on trial in the slaying of Jack Peterson, one of two automobile salesmen he is accused of luring to the desert and shooting. Trial in the slaying of Ellis Koury is set for July 5.

22 GOVERNORS DISAGREE OVER PUMP PRIMING

Albany, N. Y., June 26.—[Special.]—New Deal spending split 22 governors here for the 31st annual governor's conference, into strict party camps today after Raymond E. Baldwin, of Connecticut, denounced the so-called pump priming as competition with private industry. Herbert H. Lehman, President Roosevelt's successor in New York, led in the defense of Roosevelt's policies.

Baldwin charged that the government is taking advantage of distress to extend its powers into the states and to force acceptance of political and economic theories in which the people have no confidence. He was supported in this contention by Gov. John W. Bricker, Ohio; Payne Ratner, Kansas; Nels Smith, Wyoming, and Geore D. Aiken, Vermont.

Lehman's defense of federal spending and denial that men are kept out of private industry by public works was echoed by M. Clifford Townsend, Indiana; Lloyd C. Stark, Missouri; Robert L. Cochran, Nebraska; Richard McMuller, Delaware, and Fred P. Cone, Florida.

HOUSE IS URGED TO CUT FEDERAL COSTS ½ BILLION

G. O. P. Answer to Huge New Spending Plan.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 26.—[Special.]—The Republican reply to President Roosevelt's 3 billion 800 million dollar spending program was voiced in the house today by Minority Leader Joseph W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts, who pleaded in support of a resolution for a 500 million cut in federal expenses.

"The country is greatly disturbed by this new spending proposal of Mr. Roosevelt," Martin told the house. "This congress is on the way to authorizing the spending and lending of thirteen billions of dollars, one-fifth of our national income. The nation is appalled by the latest four billion dollar spending proposal."

Provides 10 Per Cent Cut.

Martin's resolution provides for a 10 per cent reduction in all appropriations susceptible of economy cuts. It would exclude relief and unemployment measures, social security, war veterans' benefits, and interest on the public debt. All regular government department appropriations would be affected and a saving of half a billion dollars realized.

"I sincerely hope the appropriations committee will give this resolution the serious consideration it deserves," Martin remarked to members.

There was no reply from Democratic leaders to Mart'n's assertions that administration spokesmen have refused to coöperate with the efforts of Republicans and a group of "patriotic Democrats" to economize in government spending.

Several Democratic leaders, however, came out in opposition to a major proposal of the President's program—that suggesting the expenditure of 750 million dollars on toll roads and bridges.

"That proposal is a return to prehistoric days," remarked Representative Lindsay C. Warren [D., N. C.], chairman of the committee on accounts who wields much influence among the majority. Representative Joe Starnes [D., Ala.] echoed his sentiment, terming it "a horse and buggy proposal" using a phrase once popular with the President.

Relief Bill in Shape.

With prominent Democrats already expressing opposition to the President's proposal to lend half a billion dollars to foreign countries, the opposition to the 750 million dollars roads and bridges suggestion indicated that these two portions of the program are in danger.

Thus, even before the bill containing the 3 billion 800 million dollar plan has been introduced, congressional sentiment has tentatively lopped a billion and a quarter from its total.

A senate subcommittee finished work on the 1 billion 735 million dollar employment relief bill which has been passed by the house and reported it to the full appropriations committee. This made possible action by the senate this week on the measure. It must be passed before Friday midnight if funds are to be made available in the next fiscal year, beginning Saturday, July 1, for the WPA and other relief agencies.

The subcommittee recommended elimination of the house provision for a three-man board to administer the WPA instead of the present single head. This was done at the insistence of administration spokesmen who said this provision was distasteful to the President who has complete dominance over a single administrator but who might meet with resistance from a three-man board with minority representation.

Theater Project Restored.

The subcommittee also discarded the house provision earmarking 125 million dollars of the WPA fund for the Public Works administration. The money was restored to the WPA fund, putting it back at the 1 billion 477 million dollar level which the President had set.

Another victory for the President was recorded in the subcommittee's action, replacing the federal theater project among WPA projects. The house had killed the theater projects on the ground that they were wasteful and extravagant and used to disseminate communistic propaganda.

The subcommittee also eliminated the house provision requiring WPA workers to leave the rolls for 60 day vacations without pay after they have been employed continuously for 18 months. It substituted a provision that when new projects are started, persons not on the WPA rolls should be given preference in.

All these changes, if approved by the senate, are expected to be fought in the house.

CHURCH DEMANDS MURPHY'S ACTION ON HOLC CHARGES

Washington, D. C., June 26.—[Special.]—Representative Ralph E. Church [R., Ill.] today sent a letter to Attorney General Frank Murphy urging he take appropriate steps to enforce the provisions of the law violated by officials of the Home Owners Loan corporation and the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance corporation, subsidiaries of the Federal Home Loan Bank board.

Last week Church called the attention of the house to evidence he had obtained which showed Nugent Fallon, $10,000 a year general manager of the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance corporation, and other officials had been taking holiday and week-end trips on personal business for which they had charged the government thousands of dollars under the pretext they were engaged in official business. Church also named another government official who resigned in 1937.

Church told the attorney general that the federal code had clearly been violated by these officials and asked an investigation and prosecution. The Illinois congressman also wrote Chairman Henry B. Steagall [D., Ala.] of the house committee on banking and currency, asserting that a complete audit of the federal agencies involved was warranted by the evidence disclosed.

COUNTY MOVES TO COLLECT PAY FOR ELECTIONS

The county board acted yesterday to force payment of nearly half a million dollars in election expense bills owed by the city of Chicago and the sanitary district.

The board passed a resolution instructing County Treasurer John Toman to withhold distribution of tax moneys until the election accounts are squared.

The city owes a $91,766 balance for 1934; $166,732 for 1936; and $114,982 for 1938—a total of $373,481. The sanitary district owes $49,640 for 1934; $33,050 for 1936, and $31,188 for 1938—a total of 113,879. The combined debt is $487,359.

Clayton Smith, president of the county board, said the city has paid nothing since the partial payment of 1934.

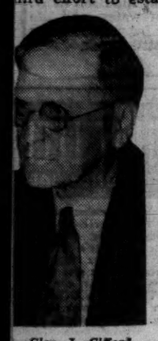
ASSAIL WALLACE MILK RULE PLAN AS DICTATORSHIP

State Farmers Protest as Hearings Open.

Secretary of Agriculture Wallace's third effort to establish government regulation of the Chicago district milk industry yesterday was branded a dictatorship scheme and a plot to impoverish dairy farmers.



Glen J. Gifford presides at hearing.

The charges were made before three hundred persons, mostly farmers, at the opening session of a public hearing on the federal regulation plan in the Stevens hotel. The accuser was Fred R. Wolf, secretary of the Union Milk Producers, an organization of 360 farmers with headquarters at Kankakee.

Assail Taxing Power.

"The proposed marketing agreement," Wolf said, "establishes dictatorial powers in the hands of the secretary of agriculture and his personally appointed administrator. It would grant them full authority to issue orders, make rules, and to assess or tax producers of milk and dairy products in this area. It would also authorize them to expend the tax money, at the secretary's discretion, to maintan an unlimited number of employés. It provides for no appeal.

"While the agreement is offered on the pretense that it would afford an equitable and a substantially higher income for the dairy farmer, we [the Union Milk Producers] believe it would fail to raise the average farm price level of the last five years. We feel that the plan would reduce substantially the average dairy farmer's income.

Charge Plot to Impoverish.

"The proposed agreement reveals an ill concealed plot to inveigle the farmer into requesting the secretary to change present poverty into permanent poverty."

Glen J. Gifford, representing the department of agriculture and the United States solicitor's office, is presiding. The hearing was requested by the Pure Milk association and the Chicago Milk Producers council, two organizations of dairy farmers.

The plan under which the government would take control of the milk industry was drawn by the Pure Milk association. The program concerns itself only with the price to the producer, not the retail price to the consumer. It would create a minimum price to the producer of $1.80 a hundred pounds (46.5 quarts) of class 1 milk and a maximum of $2.20. Class 1 milk is defined as fluid milk that is bottled and sold for drinking purposes, not for butter or cheese making. An administrator would enforce the regulations.

Urge Relief Subsidy Plan.

The government's attempt to take charge of the proceedings yesterday began with a proposal by Paul L. Miller, economist for the department of agriculture, for an amendment to increase milk consumption. His plan, which has the full backing of the department, would provide a government subsidy by which the price of milk to reliefers would be reduced to 5 cents a quart. Home delivered milk now costs 11 cents a quart in Chicago and the price in stores is 9 cents.

The plan would give farmers $1.40 a hundred pounds for milk consumed by reliefers, making the farmer's share about 3 cents a quart. The government, Miller said, would be willing to give a subsidy of 1 or 2 cents a quart to help pay processing and distributing costs.

Arthur H. Lauterbach, manager of the Pure Milk association, said the income of dairy farmers in the Chicago area would be $10,000,000 less than the $30,000,000 figure of last year unless the industry is stabilized immediately.

BLAME PARENTS FOR NEUROTICS, PARLEY IS TOLD

If children are to grow up to be completely normal adults, leading independent emotional lives, it might be wise to dissociate them from their parents at the age of 4 or 5.

This theory was advanced last night by Mandel Sherman, associate professor of educational psychology at the University of Chicago, who spoke before a conference on problems of family life at Judson court at the university. He said parents are the source of most of the tensions and conflicts of modern family life.

Mate Gets Divorce

MRS. A. S. CUNNINGHAM-REID.

LONDON, June 26. — [Special.] — Capt. A. S. Cunningham-Reid, member of parliament, today was granted a provisional divorce decree from the former Ruth Mary Clarisse, a daughter of Lord Mount Temple. The captain, who represents the wealthy St. Marylebone district of London, charged his wife with misconduct with Henry Garat, a French movie actor, at a villa on the Riviera. She is a sister of Lady Louise Mountbatten.

2 BRITISH WIVES GIVE KENT PIECE OF THEIR MIND

Tell Duke They Hate New Farm Colony.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 26.—The duke of Kent's three day tour of centers for the unemployed got off to a sour start today. The wife of a jobless mechanic gave the wrong answer when the duke asked her how she liked her place of residence.

"I don't like it at all," replied Mrs. Mary Sutton, a short, stout woman with muddy shoes, an old felt hat, and a drab coat.

The duke, untrained in handling wrong answers, fingered the lapels of his coat in embarrassment and gave Mrs. Sutton up for a bad job. Turning to buxom Mrs. Edna Purdy, 28 years old, he tried again and got a similar reply.

Complains of Poverty.

"There is nothing but hard work and poverty here," Mrs. Purdy said. "We can stand hard work but not poverty. We're leaving."

These answers were tossed at the duke during a tour of unemployed men's small holdings at Snaith, West York in Yorkshire. This is a back to the soil scheme in which the unemployed are given a cottage, land and equipment at low rental while they are being trained to become farmers.

When the duke had left the settlement, Mrs. Sutton said: "I didn't want to bother the duke, but when he asked me I had to tell him or burst."

She said her husband sold 520 pounds of cabbage the other day for $1.25 with 33 cents off for the settlement association.

Can't Make Farm Pay.

"That is twelve pounds for a pence [2 cents]," she added. "We can't make it pay."

The reaction of the duke of Kent in looking the other way when he received the complaints recalls the time his brother, the duke of Windsor, visited depressed mining towns in Wales when he was King Edward VIII.

"Something must be done for these people," he said.

SOCIAL REFORMS FORCE MEXICO TO ADOPT INFLATION

Land and Oil Seizures Cut Into Revenues.

BY CAPT. M. M. CORPENING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MEXICO CITY, June 26.—The policies of Mexico's social revolution, including the grant of practically unlimited rights to organized workers and wholesale expropriations, have resulted in economic chaos throughout the country and virtual bankruptcy of the government.

This is manifested by the fact that various government departments now pay their employés with endorsed checks which are forced into circulation to replace the currency used for public expenditures.

The decline of farm production resulting from the breaking up of big haciendas has forced Mexico to spend money to import some foodstuffs. The expropriation of foreign owned oil properties has resulted in decreased exports and smaller influx of foreign money.

Issue More Paper Money.

Declining revenues and vast plans to finance collective farming and construction projects have placed the government finances in a critical condition. In a little more than a year the peso has dropped from its old rate of 3.60 to the American dollar to a 5 to 1 ratio.

Moreover, in its desperate effort to pull through, the government has been forced to issue great sums of paper money, and it is not sufficiently guaranteed by silver or gold, judging from the inscription on the bottom of the newly issued bank notes.

The inscription now reads, "Se paga al portador"—Payment in cash to bearer. The inscription on the former bank notes read: "Se paga al portador en efectivo"—payment in cash to the bearer in metal money.

Defenders of President Lazaro Cardena's expropriation policies contend that the country's economic depression soon will be overcome and that the country's economic structure will be improved as a result of his social reforms.

Too Weak to Stand Blow.

However, such optimistic views are not shared by many foreign observers in Mexico. They believe the country is so weak economically that it cannot withstand the threatening political quarrels expected to attend the forthcoming presidential campaign and that as a result the already weak economic structure will be shattered, resulting in countrywide disorder and confusion.

Examples of the weakening of the economic structure may be observed in what has happened after the land and oil expropriations. The agrarian reforms led to the parcelling of big tracts of land among the peasants. But Mexican peasants have a nature all their own. They are accustomed to produce principally for themselves and not for sale.

Food Prices Rocket.

As a result there has been such a decrease in farm production that the country has had to import beans, corn, and wheat to supply the demands, at least to a reasonable degree. The cost of farm products has risen nearly 100 per cent during the last three years, thereby appreciably lowering the living standard of the working class population in the cities.

DAIRY COMPANY ASKS STRANGER PICKETING BAN AGAINST UNION

A petition for an injunction to prohibit stranger picketing of milk stores supplied by Lake Valley Farm Products, Inc., was filed in Superior court yesterday by Siegfried Weiss, president of the concern, and his attorney, Erwin M. Pearl.

Defendants are the Milk Wagon Drivers' union, which has headquarters at 220 South Ashland boulevard, and seven of the union officials; Robert G. Fitchie, president; James Kennedy, vice president; Steve Sumner, treasurer; F. K. Bryant and Alvin F. Richards, business agents; Joseph L. Patterson, trustee, and Fred C. Dahms, recording secretary. David Riskind, attorney for the union, also was named.

The suit charges that the defendants on April 1, 1938, entered into a conspiracy to secure a monopoly of the business of distributing milk in the city. The Lake Valley concern has offices at 5332 South Western avenue and 1310 Wrightwood avenue. It serves 700 stores.

The petition said the company's pasteurizing plant at 330 South Western avenue was bombed twice by unknown persons in 1935. It asked that the defendants be restrained from "throwing bombs or missiles of any kind."

The suit was the second filed since the Illinois Supreme court a week ago declared stranger picketing illegal.

WATERPROOFING LIQUID EXPLODES; THREE INJURED

Three men were critically burned yesterday when a water-proofing liquid they were mixing exploded in a basement at 5235 North Spalding avenue. The three are Norman Erikson, 17 years old; Louis Kubitz, 24, both of whom live in the building where the explosion occurred, and Leonard Johns, 27, of 5331 Kimball avenue. Harold Carlson, 5519 North St. Louis avenue, escaped injury.

BOND LOBBYING A DRINKING JOB, SAYS BUCKNER

Tells of Parties Given in Nation's Capital.

New York, June 26.—(AP)—William P. Buckner Jr. pictured himself today as a cocktail lobbyist who in good faith had done his best to have the defaulted bonds of the Philippine Railway company redeemed either by the insular or United States government, and acknowledged that in that campaign he never had supposed that he had to become a monk.

Wm. P. Buckner Jr. [A. P. Wirephoto.]

Buckner, described by his counsel as a trifle bibulous but no thief, is on trial with four others on charges of mail fraud and conspiracy.

The government's accusation against him is twofold: First, that as chairman of the Philippine bondholders' protective committee he wasted in conviviality the money they put up in the hope of having their securities made good; and second that it was part of the accused conspirators' plan to buy up the bonds at a low market in anticipation of their redemption.

Wining and Dining Job.

Buckner, a smiling and airy witness, spent most of the day on the witness stand. He said that he hadn't sought the job as chairman of the protective committee and that when it had come to him he had spent his money to help pay his expenses.

It was, as he told of it, a job that required a great deal of wining and dining.

"In Washington," he explained, "we entertained anybody in the government or anybody who was related to anybody in the government."

"Why?" asked Defense Attorney John Minton.

"Because," said Buckner, "I was vitally interested in getting some favorable legislation and there is nobody in Washington who will listen to you in his office. We took them to cocktail parties and fights. We took Senator David I. Walsh [D., Mass.] and any number of people."

Buckner testified that under telegraphic pressure from home the senator had reluctantly introduced a bill by which the United States government would have guaranteed payment of the defaulted bonds.

Assistant District Attorney William P. Maloney objected to vague mention of the names of other prominent persons and, without going into detail concerning Buckner's casual mention of Washington politicians, remarked that the government had made an investigation which shows that no such things happened.

Buckner's testimony emphasized his contention that there was nothing wrong in attempts to have the bonds made good. His denial of the government's charge that he spent bondholders' money in night spots was categoric.

"Parties were paid for either by me or by Gillespie [William J. Gillespie, another defendant]," he said.

Capital Reception Cold.

Buckner's description of his calls upon officials of the state and war departments in support of his bond claims indicated that he got little satisfaction. He said two army officers in the department of insular affairs didn't want to hear about defaulted bonds. A visit to the state department, Buckner said, was similarly unproductive. He said he tried to talk to R. Walton Moore, the counselor, but that Moore talked about the best families in Virginia.

Buckner told of several conferences with José Julio, then secretary of justice in the Philippine government, with no results. Among other persons with whom he testified he had interviews were Senator Gerald P. Nye [D., N. D.], who advised him to take his problem to the Philippine-American preparatory commission.

MEMORIES OF OMAR

By CALEB

IN a recess of his airy Eastern garden, bright with windblown palms and musical with fountains, sits a swarthy figure in a burnous, writing. The time is spring, in the eleventh century; the place, Naishapur, in Khorassan; the dark figure bent over his strange-charactered scroll, the astronomer-mathematician-poet of Persia—Omar Khayyam.

Centuries later, a recluse English scholar, lover of all things Oriental, recasts those strange-charactered rubaiyat into our own tongue . . . Come, fill the cup, and in the fire of Spring your winter-garment of repentance fling; the Bird of Time has but a little way to flutter—and the bird is on the wing. So perfectly, indeed, does he recapture the pagan loveliness of those pages, that the 11th-century Tentmaker remains as immortal as the Bard of Avon himself.

Nor has happy recapture, fortunately, been limited to Persia's poetry alone. The motifs and materials of her oldest arts and crafts have been equally well preserved . . . and thanks to the kindly encouragement of the present Shah, Riza Khan, the utensils and decorative pieces of Omar's own day reappear among our second-floor Art Wares, with the same exotic challenge that bade him write: For I remember stopping by the way to watch a potter thumping his wet clay.

Exotic challenge, indeed! . . . Burnished, deep-gleaming copper water jugs, delightful as flower containers, or as ornamental accents, standing alone. Slender pottery goblets, with rich chocolate-brown geometric and floral designs against buttermilk-white grounds. Pewtered copper dowry pieces — basins, ewers, wine jars, henna bowls, and ladles. Objects of steel, expertly inlaid with brass, in the manner of the Damascene swordsmiths. Pottery pieces in blue and black, dating to the 13th century; others with vivid flowers and figures on beige backgrounds; quaintly charming pottery animals and figurines; boxes and desk-pads whose lacquers carry the dainty miniature painting treasured by Persians in their ancient books. . . .

Far travels have left their spell undispelled—magic remains, despite the seal of genuineness affixed to each piece. Minarets, enameled by the rising moon, needle an Oriental sky of cobalt blue. Somewhere in black shadows, a bulbul is singing; sings, too, a fountain by the many-walled palace. Ah, love, could you and I with him conspire to grasp this sorry scheme of things entire, would not we shatter it to bits—and then remould it nearer to the heart's desire?

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN

Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait. Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

SHIPPING STRIKE PEACE NEAR IN SAN FRANCISCO

Waterfront Tied Up Ten Days by C. I. O. Men.

San Francisco, Cal., June 26.—[Special.]—The way was believed cleared tonight for reopening the San Francisco waterfront which has been paralyzed for ten days by a C. I. O. strike involving only ten ships' clerks.

The handling of all shipments, except lumber and bulk cargoes such as grains, had been tied up by picketing and the refusal to check cargoes.

The strike was called ten days ago by the Ship Clerks' union, an affiliate of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's union headed by Harry Bridges, west coast C. I. O. leader and radical alien.

Expect Agreement Approval.

It was expected the waterfront would be opened tomorrow afternoon as a result of an arbitration agreement reached late today by representatives of the strikers and employers. The proposed settlement was to be submitted to a special union membership group with recommendations of a union committee that it be approved.

Announcement of the arbitration came after a long conference of representatives of both sides with Dr. Louis Bloch of the maritime labor board who came here from Washington, D. C., to act as mediator.

Federal Arbitrator Wayne L. Morse, now functioning in a similar capacity in connection with a longshoremen's working agreement, will be arbitrator in the clerks' strike.

His first problem will be to determine under what conditions the ten clerks, or cargo checkers, will be returned to work. The controversy started over attempts of the American Hawaiian Steamship company to place them on a monthly pay roll instead of employing them by the day.

Thrust at Hiring Hall.

Their union immediately charged the move was intended to destroy the hiring hall system, under which unions have control of the manner of hiring and insist on men being employed in accordance with priority rights instead of at the will of an employer.

Picketing began after the break in relations, which employers charged violated a working agreement. Their shipments harrassed by pickets, the employers' association, which controls the San Francisco docks, issued an ultimatum on June 15 that unless the pickets were withdrawn by June 17, all loading and unloading would be halted on vessels except those carrying lumber and bulk cargo.

The strikers refused to budge from their position and the employers carried out their threat which brought on the ten day suspension of work.

JUDGE APPROVES PLANS TO AUDIT BOOKS OF UNION

Judge John Prystalski in Circuit court yesterday approved an agreement whereby the Building Service Employés' International union will audit the books of local 66 of the Elevator Operators' and Starters' union.

The international union is to choose the auditor. The audit will cover the period from Feb. 25, 1938, to July 1 of this year. It will be made under the supervision of Louis M. Quitman, custodian of the local's books and accounts.

Proceedings in the injunction suit brought by the international to restrain Matthew Taylor, president of the local, and eleven other officers from holding office were continued pending the audit.

STRIKE? ALL SAY NO, BUT SCHOOL JOB IS LIMPING

Project Hurt by Row Over Indiana Stone.

Construction work on the new $3,150,000 south side vocational school at 87th street and Chappel avenue had slowed down to the limping stage yesterday. The steel work on the superstructure has been held up. The masonry work has been delayed for ten days. Some work by mechanics below ground was the only activity.

Every one agreed, however, that there is no strike on the project.

Ground for the trade school, which is said to be the most costly in the world, was broken last Dec. 9. Since then all work preliminary to starting the building proper—such as excavating, foundations, and underground plumbing installation—had been virtually completed. Then a hitch occurred.

The masonry contractor proposed to use stone fabricated in Indiana. And this was said to be displeasing to the local stone cutters' union, which has some 600 members out of work.

Based Bid on Indiana Scale.

The masonry contract was let May 24 to the William R. Goss company on a bid of $947,000. This was $31,000 under the next lowest bidder. As near as could be learned yesterday, about $200,000 was for stone, the rest for brick. Goss based the bid on his plan to purchase the stone from the Indiana Limestone company, and have it quarried and cut in that state. The cutting of the stone in Chicago would have increased the cost from 30 to 40 per cent, a representative of the company said.

Goss was formerly a member of the firm of Coath & Goss, which obtained many contracts from the school board. He said yesterday that in figuring on the vocational school job he based his own costs on the Indiana union scale for stone cutters. He said he has been ready for ten days to begin fulfilling his contract but must wait on the iron workers.

The Duffin Iron works has the contract to fabricate the steel to be used in the new school building. John Duffin, speaking for that concern, said he has been ready to deliver the steel, but the men who are to set it and who are employed by the Overland Construction company, are not ready to receive it.

Custodian Blamed for Wait Order.

Some unnamed person, identified as the job custodian, had told the iron workers to wait until the settlement of the question of whether Chicago or Indiana stone cutters should be used by the Goss company. Patrick Sullivan, president of the Building Trades council, said no strike had been called either by iron workers or stone cutters.

The council of building trades unions has passed a resolution, binding on no one but themselves, urging that Chicago contractors use only material produced by Chicago union workers. Goss was told about the resolution, Sullivan said. He added he knew nothing about Goss's present difficulty.

John C. Christensen, architect for the board of education, said the stoppage of work did not amount to a strike. He said there were differences which might be settled at a meeting today of representatives of the Building Trades council and the Building Construction Employers' association.

Because the Public Works administration is furnishing 45 per cent of the money for the school, labor leaders are said to be hesitant about calling a strike—actually. It was explained the government might regard any delay in the project as interference with interstate commerce, a criminal offense. Government officials were reported to be interested in this angle.

Under terms of the federal grant the school must be ready for occupancy by September, 1940.

Isn't This Why You Are Constipated?

What do you eat for breakfast? Coffee, toast, maybe some eggs? What do you eat for lunch and dinner? White bread, meat, potatoes? It's little wonder you're constipated. You probably don't eat enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean the amount you eat. It's a kind of food that forms a soft "bulky" mass in the intestines and helps a movement. If this is your trouble, may we suggest a crunchy toasted cereal—Kellogg's All-Bran—for breakfast. All-Bran is a natural food, not a medicine—but it's particularly rich in "bulk." Being so, it can help you not only to get regular but to keep regular. You won't have to endure constipation, you can avoid it. Eat All-Bran daily, drink plenty of water, and life will be brighter for you! Made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek.

TALKS UNDERWAY FOR SETTLEMENT OF TIENTSIN ROW

BULLETIN.

SHANGHAI, June 27 (Tuesday).—(AP)—Japanese naval officials advised foreign consuls today that Japanese were launching offensives against the ports of Foochow and Wenchow and requested all foreign ships to withdraw from them. Foochow and Wenchow are the last major South China ports not under Japanese control.

TOKIO, June 27 [Tuesday].—(AP)—Preliminary talks are under way for a settlement of the 14 day old British-Japanese deadlock at Tientsin, it was said authoritatively today, with actual negotiations expected to develop speedily with agreement upon a "few remaining points."

The British ambassador, Sir Robert Leslie Craigie, conferred for half an hour yesterday with Foreign Minister Hachiro Arita, on a basis for a settlement.

It was understood one of the points to be settled before actual negotiations start is selection of the place of the conferences. Japan was understood to be desirous of holding the conferences in Tientsin where she presumably would be represented by her consul general, Shigenori Tashiro, and a high ranking Japanese diplomat sent to assist him. Britain preferred holding the conversations directly with the foreign office in Tokio.

It was said authoritatively that Japan had not yet outlined concrete demands for a settlement. So far Japanese demands nave been confined to press reports of Japanese army spokesmen in China declaring Britain must promise to cease support of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek and to aid Japan in establishing her "new order in Asia."

Milkmen Resume Service.

TIENTSIN, June 27.—[Tuesday.]—(AP)—Milkmen mysteriously resumed part of their rounds in the blockaded British and French concessions today amid increasing reports that negotiations were under way with Japan to lift the military blockade.

How the milk entered the concessions was not revealed, but the shortage eased, particularly in hospitals where patients have had no milk in recent days.

The British-Japanese quarrel, which began with a Japanese demand that the British turn over to them four alleged terrorists who were in the British concession, since has widened into a test of Britain's entire far eastern policy. When the British declined to turn over the accused men without a hearing by a neutral board, Japanese imposed the blockade.

A Japanese spokesman declared Japan had not and would not investigate reports that a British couple had been forced by Japanese to disrobe in Tientsin on Sunday because "in principle such a case could not happen."

British consul Maj. G. A. Herbert had charged that a British subject and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Finlay, were undressed and searched before being allowed to cross the Japanese barrier surrounding the blockaded British concession here.

Bar Foreign Shipping.

HONGKONG, June 26.—(AP)—Japanese naval authorities announced today they had forbidden third power vessels to discharge either passengers or cargo at Swatow and even to approach the wharves there during the period of military operations.

Swatow, a leading port of South China, was captured by the Japanese last Wednesday. The British are the only third power nationals regularly operating and controling wharves there.

The new Japanese order, according to Japanese reports, followed entry into Swatow harbor today of two British vessels. Japanese naval authorities ordered them not to approach the wharves and soon afterward the vessels, which were not named in advices received here, left Swatow.

Hawaiian Visitors

When you wish to accomplish something during the day in Hawaii, you do it in the early morning to avoid the sun. But when two young Hawaiian girls tried to apply the same principle in Chicago yesterday they were sadly disappointed.

Rachel Lee and Angeline Rapoza, president and past president of the Future Homemakers of Hawaii, in Chicago for a day on their way home from a national home economics conference at San Antonio, Tex., arose early. By 6:30 a. m. they were out of their hotel, the Brevoort, and hurrying over to State street for a brisk bit of shopping. State street, needless to say, was still asleep.

2 NAZI OFFICERS GET 15 YEARS FOR KILLING CZECH

PRAGUE, June 26.—(AP)—Two German policemen, George Bulla and Paul Stehr, were convicted today and sentenced to 15 years' imprisonment each for the killing of Johann Mueller, a Czech policeman, at Nachod on June 6.

The sentence was imposed by a special tribunal from whose verdict no appeal is possible. In addition to the prison term, both defendants were dishonorably discharged from the German police service.

Two fellow officers of Mueller testified at the trial that he was shot through the head as he passed against the wall of the Nachod police station in an attempt to escape the Germans' gunfire through a window. Three barmaids said the Germans drank $18.80 worth of beer, wine and cognac in a bar and that they went through the streets shooting into the air prior to shooting Mueller.

GERMAN ENVOY TO PUSH TRADE PACT IN MOSCOW

BERLIN, June 26.—(AP)—Count Friedrich von der Schulenburg is en route back to his post as ambassador to Moscow to complete preliminary negotiations for a German-soviet Russian trade treaty, it was disclosed today.

The count had been in Berlin ten days working out details of what Germany might offer Russia and what Germany wants. He was understood to have conferred with industrialists and bankers regarding the possibilities of delivering goods and advancing credits.

A trade mission is expected to follow the ambassador if a treaty appears possible. Both sides have expressed readiness to come to some terms.

Nazis Seize Catholic School at Birthplace of Hitler

LINZ, Germany, June 26.—(AP)—The Catholic Theological School of Linz has been notified to leave its buildings at the end of the current scholastic year, it was disclosed today. Linz was the birthplace of Reichsfuehrer Hitler and the site of the school will be an open space when plans approved by Hitler for extensive rebuilding of the city are carried out.

BRITAIN ORDERS FLEET KEPT AT FULL MAN POWER

Fears New Crisis Will Break in August.

LONDON, June 26.—(AP)—Fears of a new European crisis during the late summer or early fall were given further impetus tonight by admiralty orders which would maintain the British fleet at its maximum manpower during the month of August.

The orders made no mention of a possible new crisis, but they advanced the summer leave period from August to July and abandoned the customary navy week celebration, normally held in August.

It was announced the changes were made "preparatory to carrying out of exercises in August." Informed quarters pointed out this also would make possible mobilization of the fleet if developments waranted.

The admiralty said advancement of the leave period for ships of the home fleet would involve cancellation of visits by warships to certain resorts.

This would permit the fleet to remain in readiness to move with a full complement a month before the German harvest releases the Nazis' full manpower for other duties—a fact regarded as more than mere coincidence.

CHAMBERLAIN HOPEFUL

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 26.—Despite the fact that the British today were talking about running the blockade of Tientsin with warships and staging a naval demonstration against Japan, Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain told the house of commons he had some reason to hope that discussions between the British ambassador in Tokio and Hachiro Arita, minister of foreign affairs, would lead to a settlement at Tientsin.

An examination of the far east situation shows signs of much backstage maneuverings and uncertainty, particularly when contrasted with further delays in British negotiations for a pact with Moscow with which most diplomatic observers now appear convinced there is a tieup.

Chamberlain Cautious.

Chamberlain said he did not want to say anything about the far east negotiations which would prejudice prospects for a satisfactory issue of the conversations with the Japanese, hinting that the British and Japanese were making some kind of a deal. The fact that it is said here there is no question of any British economic boycott of Japan convinced some persons today that a deal is in the offing.

An economic boycott, on the other hand, probably would be a more effective measure than the talked of naval demonstration. It is doubtful, moreover, if Great Britain would want to remove warships from Europe at this moment and thus contribute to Adolf Hitler's plans. On the whole the British press plays down the Japanese situation.

Consider Soviet Proposals.

On the Russian negotiations Chamberlain told the house of commons that the British and French governments were considering the soviet government's comments on the latest British proposals. He said that Viscount Halifax, British foreign secretary, soon would send further instructions to the British ambassador in Moscow.

It was reported tonight, after a long meeting of the foreign affairs subcommittee of the cabinet, that it was agreed that Russia's demands including a guarantee of the Baltic states must be met. This report was not confirmed.

SOVIETS REPULSE JAP AIR RAID ON MONGOL BORDER

Shoot Down 25 Planes in 2 Hour Battle.

MOSCOW, June 26.—(AP)—Dispatches from Mongolian-soviet troop headquarters in the Mongolian peoples republic described a "stubborn" two hour aerial battle today near Lake Bor in which 25 of 60 invading Japanese planes were shot down.

Tass, official soviet news agency, said the battle occurred over Mongolian territory in the area of Mongolryba with 50 soviet planes repulsing the attack.

"The battle lasted about two hours, was of a stubborn nature and ended in a rout of Japanese aviation which fled from the place of battle pursued by soviet-Mongolian fighters up to the area of Konchur," said Tass.

Repelled Raiders, Japs Claim.

TOKIO, June 26.—(AP)—An undated Domei [Japanese news agency] dispatch said three Japanese planes disabled six Mongolian war planes near Lake Bor on the western Manchoukuo frontier today, repelling a raid of 60 Mongolian planes in a half hour battle. Another dispatch claimed 131 soviet Russian planes had been shot down in border fighting since May 20.

A Domei dispatch from Hsinking, capital of Manchukuo, quoted a Kwantung army headquarters announcement that 56 Russian planes were brought down last Thursday alone, one on Friday and 15 more on Saturday.

Report Soviet Bombing.

A belated report of heavy aerial fighting Saturday, it said, disclosed a night foray in which three soviet bombers escorted by 24 fighting planes, dropped several bombs over Amuyalan, northeast of Lake Bor, from an altitude of 13,000 feet.

A foreign office spokesman charged that Mongolian planes had invaded a maximum of 37 miles of Manchukuoan territory as it is depicted on Japanese maps with which, he said, "some" Russian maps agree.

BRITISH COUPLE DIE IN MISSION BOMBED BY JAPANESE PLANES

SHANGHAI, June 26.—(AP)—The British embassy announced today that the Rev. and Mrs. A. T. Caswell, Canadian missionaries, were killed at Changteh, Hunan province, last Saturday when Japanese airplanes bombed the Canadian Holiness mission, of which the Caswells were members.

Headquarters of the mission are in Ottawa, Ont. The embassy statement said Japanese bombers "systematically bombed Changteh, including mission property for one and one-half hours."

[A telegram from the Changteh mission to the British consulate at Chungking, temporary Chinese capital, said the Japanese made repeated power dives over the compound, razing the mission's walls despite British union jacks clearly painted on them. The Rev. and Mrs. Caswell were buried beneath the debris, it said.]

The SUBURBS bloom in Summer

In Winter, the suburbs may bow to the town. But in summertime the suburbs come into their own.

Suburbs are gay in Summer. Week-end visitors come with bag and baggage. Vacationers flock to the country and seashore. The year-round suburban family blossoms out with a large assortment of golf togs, riding habits, beach clothes, and sportswear. The suburban hostess buys new things for the guest room. Children need and get going away outfits for their annual trek to a Summer camp. Even the house is spruced up, and the grounds refurbished with lawnmower and sprinkler. The suburbs are a good place to sell—if your advertising reaches the suburban readers.

It does in The New York News! In each of the 23 suburban counties in the retail trading area as defined by the New York Merchants' Association, The News—both daily and Sunday—has more circulation than any other New York newspaper. In total suburban circulation, the Daily News leads other New York morning papers two and one-half to three times . . . and the Sunday News leads the next largest paper by several hundred thousand. The New York News alone reaches 31% of suburban families on weekdays — and 57% on Sundays. It delivers most of the market, at least cost.

If you have anything to sell the suburbs or New York City, The News should be your medium! Are you using it as much as you should?

NEW YORK G. O. P. ROW IS AIRED ON FLOOR OF HOUSE

Congressman Warns of Danger to Party.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 26.—[Special.]—Preliminary skirmishing in the battle over the Republican nomination for President next year reached the floor of congress today.

Representative Francis C. Culkin (R., N. Y.) made a speech in the house denouncing the campaign undertaken by conservative Republicans in New York to retire Kenneth F. Simpson as New York Republican county chairman and as Republican national committeeman for New York. Entangled in this row is the potential candidacy of New York County Prosecutor Thomas E. Dewey for the Republican nomination for President.

Simpson Liberal Republican.

Simpson is a liberal Republican of an aggressive type who has achieved considerable success as a Republican leader in New York. He engineered several fusion deals between the local Republican organization and the American Labor party in New York City whereby Fiorello La Guardia was elected mayor, Mr. Dewey, prosecutor, and several other Republicans were elected to offices previously held by Democrats. Simpson also was active in promoting the nomination of Mr. Dewey for governor last year.

The conservative Republicans never approved of Simpson's deals with the American Labor party and endeavored, unsuccessfully, to block his election as New York national committeeman.

When Simpson came to Washington to take his seat as national committeeman he issued a statement in which he spoke disparagingly of Herbert Hoover. That aroused Mr. Hoover and his friends who at once placed Mr. Dewey on the spot to make it known whether he countenanced Simpson's fling at Hoover. Dewey soon made it apparent that he did not. He took part in the New York Republican club's Lincoln day program, which featured Hoover.

Dewey Holds Aloof.

As a result there is a rift between Dewey and Simpson. Dewey recently disavowed Simpson as his political sponsor. The young prosecutor is holding aloof from the scrap, but he is suspected by the Simpson followers of sympathizing with the friends of Hoover and other conservatives who are endeavoring to unhorse Simpson.

Congressman Culkin, addressing himself to what he termed the "purge of Simpson," said that the Republican gains in the 1938 elections seemed to point to Republican victory in 1940.

"These encouraging signs," he went on, "are now being offset by the acts of certain alleged leaders who are again attempting to get control of the party and drive out all who think in terms of a progressive nation.

Strikes At Old Guard.

"In recent months certain gentlemen who regard themselves as leaders of the Republican party in New York state and in the nation have been openly making plans to remove Kenneth F. Simpson as Republican leader in New York and as national committeeman from New York state. They already have been able to prevent his election to the executive committee of the Republican national committee. This stupid performance brought a vigorous protest from the young Republicans and gave much joy to the New Dealers now in the saddle in Washington.

"These gentlemen who are warring on Simpson represent the 'old guard' of the Republican party which has been repudiated by the people in two national elections and in many state elections in New York."

GETS SIX MONTHS FOR HARVEY CITY ELECTION FRAUD

Jack Steinman, 40 years old, was sentenced to the county jail for six months yesterday by Judge Albert E. Isley of Newton, sitting in County court, on a charge growing out of the Harvey city election last April 18.

Steinman, who lives at 10 South Homan avenue, was found guilty by a jury on June 13 of attempting to cause the name of a qualified voter to be erased from the registration lists. The board of election commissioners complained Steinman had filed with them a false affidavit with the names of 227 Harvey residents who, it was contended, had no right to vote.

One of the persons listed protested he had lived at the same address for 19 years and in the suburb for 40 years. Steinman said a politician, whom he did not name, had asked him to take the affidavit to the election board's office and a clerk there told him to sign it.

War Veteran Dies from Self-Inflicted Gun Wound

Milo P. Brown, 44 years old, a world war veteran, died last night in the County hospital of a self-inflicted bullet wound. He was found shot in the head at 7th street and Leif Eriksen drive in Grant park on June 19. He told police he shot himself while despondent over illness. Brown lived at 639 Melrose street.

BLACKETT BANS 'COUNTRY CLUB SLATES' IN G. O. P.

Pledges 'Open Door' Policy in His First Talk.

Hill Blackett, recently elected Republican national committeeman for Illinois, presented a somewhat formal statement of his policies yesterday to the 1940 club at a luncheon in the Hotel Sherman.

He declared against back room slate making and for a free primary open to all candidates who want to run. He proposed that the campaign funds collected in Illinois be used to take care of the needs of the party within the state before any money is sent elsewhere. He urged that a big Republican primary vote be brought out next April. He was optimistic about the outcome the following November.

Predicts New Deal Defeat.

This was Blackett's maiden speech since he was chosen by the Republican state committee to succeed the late George F. Harding. He told of conferences with party leaders in Washington last week.

"The country is ready to leave the New Deal," he said. "The country is ready to turn to new leadership, provided we give the right kind of leadership. But any one who has felt the pulse of the American people knows there is one thing they do not want in our state or in the nation—they do not want candidates selected in that well known 'smoke filled' back room and thrust down the throats of our voters.

"It looks as though we are going to have an open field of candidates here in Illinois and we must do our best to keep the field open. Every Republican who feels that he has the qualifications and the record which entitle him to run for public office must be made to feel that the door is wide open.

Assails Rule by Cliques.

"Too often in the past we have operated as though the Republican party here in Illinois were a country club with a waiting list. Some little group or clique would get together in a huddle and come out with a slate and foist it on our party."

After Blackett had been warmly applauded, Chairman Harry S. Ditchburne introduced several other speakers. Among them were Richard J. Lyons, an announced candidate for governor, Dwight H. Green, who may run for the same nomination, and Otis F. Glenn, who is believed certain to run for United States senator.

TIN CAN SUB WILL TRY TRIP DOWN HUDSON RIVER

Barney Connett started out yesterday in search of new waters for his tin can submarine to conquer. The garage service foreman loaded his home made vessel onto a trailer and with a helper left for New York, where he will attempt a submarine cruise forty miles down the Hudson river to New York City. A few days ago Connett tried to cross Lake Michigan, guided only by radio signals. Adverse weather forced him to abandon the attempt.

TWO GUN GANGS TAKE $10,000 IN THREE HOLDUPS

Two gun gangs took nearly $10,000 in three daylight holdups yesterday.

One gang of three highwaymen seized four canvas bags of silver and another bag of currency—$6,000 in all—in a holdup of three messengers at East End avenue and Richton road, between Steger in Cook county and Crete in Will county. The victims were employés of concessions at the Lincoln Fields race track, on their way to a bank with receipts from Saturday, which had been kept at the track over the week-end.

Three other gunmen got $2,072 at the Good Humor Ice Cream company office at 2736 Armitage avenue. Then they moved over to the Society Cleaners and Dyers store at 2535 North Western avenue, where they took $1,000. A police squad sighted the bandits' automobile at Homan and Grand avenues, but lost it a few blocks away when a truck crawled into the pursuers' way.

BRIDGES HEARING ON DEPORTATION WILL BE PUBLIC

Washington, D. C., June 26.—(AP)—James Houghteling, immigration commissioner, said today arrangements would be made to admit representatives of press services to the government's deportation hearing at San Francisco July 10, concerning Harry Bridges, west coast C. I. O. director.

Bridges has been charged with being a member of the communist party and the labor department is seeking to deport him to his native Australia.

Labor department officials said deportation hearings generally were closed. Bridges will be permitted to have counsel present and cross-examine all witnesses appearing against him and introduce any witnesses or documentary proof in his behalf, Houghteling said.

LABOR SLAYING SUSPECT DENIED RELEASE ON BAIL

Oscar Kofkin, business agent of the Taxicab Drivers' union, was denied bail yesterday when he was arraigned in the Felony court on a charge of murdering a Wieboldt truck driver. The slaying occurred April 12 during a labor dispute.

Oscar Kofkin.

Judge Matthew D. Hartigan continued the hearing until July 10 at the request of Richard Devine, assistant state's attorney. Devine said the state wanted more time to investigate the case.

The truck driver, James Lawrence, was slain by a fusilade fired from an automobile which pulled alongside a Wieboldt truck on which he was riding. A secret witness told investigators that Kofkin was in the assassins' car. Police are searching for two other persons whom the witness said also were in the death car. The labor dispute, in which the International Brotherhood of Teamsters was seeking to force Wieboldt drivers into one of its affiliated unions, has been settled.

STOLEN SAFE FOUND.

A 500 pound safe stolen Saturday night from a shoe store at 4816 Milwaukee avenue was found yesterday in a vacant lot at Waveland and Kilbourn avenues. The burglars had smashed the safe and taken $65 and $250 in money orders.

BLESSED WORDS OF THE TRULY GOOD.

Mr. Roosevelt was not the first to learn that if you call yourself a liberal it is easier not to be one, but no one beats him in the use of the trick. Liberalism has always meant just what Mr. Roosevelt is not. Liberals would blackball him if he applied for membership. He's an autocrat. The false assumption of liberalism is expanded by the New Dealers into a complete mythology.

Going broke is called investment financing. That is to make debts and deficits look like receipted bills and money in the bank. If you name it flood control and make it electric power development you can take over starved public utilities and then ask the management why it fears to put more money in new plants.

If a country with a king-emperor, a titled and privileged nobility, and three or four hundred million subject peoples is called a democracy, then you can make common cause with it for world freedom and liberty. If persons successfully conducting business and affording employment with good pay and working conditions can be called the cold blooded few it is easier to escape responsibility for the unemployed who might learn the real cause of their misfortune.

Senator William H. King, Utah Democrat, while sitting with the temporary national economic committee, the sounding board of the revolution, discovered that the New Deal propagandists appearing as experts were using a little primer of good and bad words prepared for government use by Stuart Chase of the left wing literary staff. Mr. Chase has standardized the vocabulary for the Rooseveltians. "Investment in self-liquidating enterprise" is a pretty way of saying that the treasury is throwing it into a rat hole. You must say that savings taken by the government are put to investment use. If the savings are, perforce, lying idle in the banks they must be called private hoardings. That's bad. One word glorifies the spenders, the other stigmatizes the losers.

"Debt" is a bad word, to be avoided by saying that it is not a debt but merely a shifting of money from one pocket to another. "Spending," says Mr. Chase, is a bad word. The substitute is expansion of government plant. "Economy" is a good word, but it can be demonized by associating it with unemployment, low wages, and long hours. Thus the spendthrift can be made to appear the considerate, prudent man.

When Mr. Roosevelt and his New Dealers complain that their opponents will not utter the truth, they mean that their own vocabulary will not be accepted. Nothing else infuriates them so much. Frustrated, they yell "liar!" THE TRIBUNE saw through their word tricks long before Mr. Chase explained them in his primer and refused to use the vocabulary as some papers did. That is one reason the New Dealers apply their bad words to this newspaper. It protects its readers from the trickery. The tricksters have all read Hitler's "Mein Kampf" for their own purposes. He says that people can be made to believe anything, no matter how improbable or how dangerous to them, if they hear nothing else and hear it vigorously presented. The New Dealers have not yet been able to censor all other utterances and make their vocabulary law, but they do the best they can with the power they have.

SOCIABLE SINGING.

What this country could use, in addition to a five cent nickel, is a little more sociable singing. The motion picture houses were on the right track a few years ago when pipe organs were flourishing, and it is another black mark against bank night and the double feature that this splendid revival of a fine old American custom was quashed.

Most Americans can still recall the time of the church sociable and the family circle when a dozen or so lusty if not harmonious voices lifted to the grand old melodies from the hymn book or the paper-backed collection of favorites. There was a real community of sentiment, an active participation envisaging true art, in that old fashioned singing.

Moreover, there were such flourishes as the barber shop quartet, the more formidable musical, and the splendid practice of bathroom yodeling. It was fitting that the country which developed the bathroom should evolve such perfection in its cultural concomitant, the shower bath serenade.

But nowadays singing appears to be deteriorating to the status of a profession. Not that many professionals are not good—they are—but it is dangerous to a people to turn over such idealistic vocal expression to hirelings, even though they be artists. That way you can't vicariously extract the fullest, richest values from song. The complete, kinosthetic appreciation comes from round, sonorous notes reverberating in your own diaphragm, smiting the tympanum through the medium of the jawbone which, science says, is the finest possible conductor of sound. Hitting a high C may do little good to your own blood pressure or the plastering, but it offers psychic stimulation not to be found in any recital hall.

And, from a purely social point of view, there is nothing to equal homely singing. Put a few people around a piano or organ and run them through "Auld Lang Syne," "The Lone Cow Hand," and, of course, "Sweet Adeline," and you have a community of beings nothing will split asunder. Probably if every international conference could be started with "Heigh Ho!," the dwarfs' song, and a few stiff bars of "Anchors Aweigh" there would be such ensuing harmony that international conferences could be abolished altogether. The net gain of this for the United States in particular would be inestimable.

There can be, of course, no genuine, old school sociable singing without long practice in the bathroom. It is but little to ask, in view of the ends possible, that every man, woman, and child run through a couple of choruses of "Let the Rest of the World Go By" every morning just before the daily gargle. What with the new protective devices on razors, the men can even do it while shaving.

It is perhaps true that there is little to sing about these days, with the news from Washington ever with us, but there are some splendid dirges.

PICKETING BY STRANGERS.

Following the recent decision of the Illinois Supreme court in the Swing Beauty Shop case, the so-called stranger pickets have been withdrawn from a number of bakeries in Chicago.

The law of Illinois regulating union activities leaves employés free to organize if they wish to do so and to bargain collectively if organized. It leaves them free to strike and in a strike to picket the place of their employment. On the other hand, as the Swing case reminds us, the law does not sanction the coercing of men and women into joining labor unions. They have a right not to join as well as a right to join.

Stranger picketing was the device used to force employés into unions against their wills. In the Swing case the union admitted that the employés of their own unhampered choice had decided not to join the union. Thereupon the union surrounded the beauty shop with pickets who were not employés there: stranger pickets. They carried banners charging the employer with being unfair to union labor. There was evidence to show that these pickets had manhandled customers and prospective customers with a view to terrorizing them.

The purpose of this stranger picketing was manifest. It was intended to injure the proprietor to the point where he would be forced to instruct his people to join up, contrary to their desire. If it is wrong for an employer to use force and threats to prevent the organization of his men, it is equally wrong of a union to use these weapons against men and women who do not wish to join and doubly wrong to use them against the employer to force him to force them to join.

If that kind of thing were lawful, it would invite an unprecedented reign of violence in union affairs. Any terrorist, any blackmailer could operate in the guise of a labor organization to shake down employers and workers alike. As it is, not a few labor unions have been captured by hoodlums who use their control to levy tribute on the members always and the employers as often as possible. If stranger picketing were legal, this kind of racketeering would boeome the rule, not the exception. The racketeer with his gang of sluggers posing as pickets could operate anywhere under the protection of the law to force reluctant men and women to pay tribute.

Recent interpretations of the labor law in Illinois are a reminder that it is fair to all interests. It does not forbid peaceful picketing by persons who have a direct interest in protecting their jobs. It does not hamper union organization. It does forbid violence and the coercion in such practices as stranger picketing and secondary boycotts. The law is neither pro-labor not anti-labor; pro-employer nor anti-employer. Because the law is fair, opinion in this state will support public officials who enforce it impartially and courageously.

FINE WORDS—BUT—

[Times-Picayune, New Orleans.]

During his stay in New Orleans, United States Attorney General Murphy pledged his department to a vigorous and thoroughgoing effort to break the alliances between politics and the underworld—politicians in office and criminal racketeers. The safety of democracy, the preservation of honest government, depends, in his belief, upon the success of that campaign. We quote direct from his published interview:

There is no mystery about how government is corrupted. It starts with slush funds amassed by vice. I divide vice into the two divisions of prostitution and gambling. The gambling includes the numbers racket [we call it the lottery racket in New Orleans], the slot machines, the gambling houses. . . . They make their alliance with partisan politics, these overlords of vice and crime. What follows is corruption of elections, corruption of the courts, corruption of the whole governmental structure. . . . The present situation in America must be cleaned up. My department is now at the start of a national campaign to clean it up. . . . No new laws are needed. We've got all the laws and machinery to enforce them that we need. We know where we have to fight and what we have to fight, if city and state governments won't clean up of their own accord.

Doubtless the federal bureau of investigation knows much and can learn more about the prevalence and profits of the gambling houses and lottery rackets flourishing so openly in this section of Louisiana that their protection by government is generally taken for granted. In short, the situation Attorney General Murphy promises to clean up exists openly and notoriously here in Louisiana. The resulting evils he lists —including crooked elections—have been in evidence here, too.

This is matter of national knowledge. Yet the Washington government and even its department of justice maintain close and friendly coöperation, social and political, with officials and representatives of Louisiana governments which permit these evils to flourish. Indeed, since Attorney General Murphy's own appointment as attorney general, the President, with his department's approval, has promoted to the federal bench a Louisiana law officer who once used his official powers openly in an attempt to prevent grand jury investigation of flagrant election frauds in this state.

We cite this as one of many indications that the government Attorney General Murphy represents is entirely willing to tolerate, encourage—even to strengthen by federal patronage and other favors—governments under which by toleration flourish the very vices and criminal rackets he now promises to clean up. Even as he spoke, the intergovernment accord or alliance was being given fresh manifestation. So a lot of us in Louisiana cannot help but wonder whether the promised cleanup by the attorney general will be extended to Louisiana—or the close social and political ties between the administration Attorney General Murphy serves and the Louisiana governments will save the tolerated rackets in this state from his pursuit.

Miss Edith P. Rea bulletins that the other day the firm by which she is employed received a check from Mr. C. H. Memory—but he forgot to sign it!

Line, Please!

We can't resist re-telling an old story, after telling about Mr. Memory, the one about the rehearsal of a stock company production in an eastern resort town some years ago. The play was an allegory and written by Mr. Channing Pollock, if our own memory serves. At the first rehearsal one of the actors, advancing to the center of the stage, announced impressively:

"I am Memory." Then, with hand cupped to the prompter in the wings, "Line, please."

Our other piece of incidental info for today: The lawn at Scott street and Lake Shore drive is dotted with buttercups—authentic wild flowers gone sophisticated.

An Older Chicagoan's Slant.

Where are the snows of yesteryear, the spirit of comaraderie, the honesty, the sincerity that was once Chicago? When one could feel that the hand clasp of John Drake at the Grand Pacific hotel, or J. K. Seebree at the Saratoga, or John Hollowed in his saloon on Adams street, or Charlie Clayton at Monroe and Clark, or Charlie Herman of Chapin & Gore's, which meant that the "welcome" on the mat really meant welcome. When Nat Goodwin found the crowd waiting at the stage door, something for which to be grateful. When Lillian Russell, Della Fox, or Jeff De Angelis left the old Columbia theater on Monroe street to wave sincere greetings to the waiting crowds. When Joe Ryan and Lou Houseman wrote a sports column on the Inter Ocean. When Hughie Keough started the Wake in the Trib.

What has become of that fine spirit that made the gripman on the Madison street cable car hail passengers with a real hello? Where are we going that we should forget that smiling trafic cop who directed you correctly with a smile without looking at his vestpocket guide book?

What do you think the old crowd would say about the self-centered Chicagoan of today?

What do you suppose that Billy Emmett of the Academy of Music, R. M. Hooley of Hooley's, or J. H. McVicker of McVicker's, who used to stand at the exit door and thank you for attending their shows, would say about the courtesy [sic] that greets you at theaters today? Why has Chicago's slogan become "I Won't!" Thank heaven, I am old enough to have known the real Chicago.

TEACH TURKS GOOD MANNERS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ISTANBUL.—"It is an important factor for success in life to learn the rules of good society when young in order afterward to be able to apply them." This is quoted not from a book on etiquet, but from a circular addressed to all schools by the Turkish board of education.

As a result, manners and rules of good society will be taught in schools of Turkey. Turkish society in former days had its own code of behavior, some of it of considerable refinement. But with the disappearance of the eastern conception of life, of which certain manners were an expression and with which they were intimately bound, they, too, have vanished.

But while the ancient rules were considered no longer fitting, the western forms did not replace them overnight. The Turkish board of education has called attention to the fact that even students of the highest classes often do not know how to greet people, shake hands, doff hats, and talk, and are unaccustomed to dinner table etiquet and behavior when paying calls.

Thus the teaching of manners will be included in Turkish lessons on civics. Suitable, if somewhat drastic measures, are to be applied to those students who cannot or will not follow the rules.

VACCINE REINFORCEMENTS AGAINST INFECTION.

It has been said a million times that nature is our great healer. About all the physician can do is to remove handicaps. Good nursing performs a part equal—if not superior—to medicine. Certainly more is accomplished for comfort and well being by a tepid sponge, skilfully given, than by a few tablets of some coal tar derivative. In either event the temperature will be lowered, but the drugless plan is preferable. We recognize, however, that the medical man has many strings to his bow and that they are increasing constantly in scope. For example, the timely breathing of oxygen may save a life in pneumonia, or a dose of digitalis at the right moment may halt advancing heart failure and restore function.

Unfortunately we have but few specifics which will stop completely and effectively the progress of illness. Special preparations of arsenic will destroy the spirochete responsible for syphilis; and quinine will attack the plasmodium of malaria, but a single capsule, even a hundred, may not cure. It requires great discrimination on the part of the doctor —born of training and experience—to know how much to prescribe and when.

Most remedial measures merely assist the body to exhibit its full fighting power. We may look upon certain compounds as flank assaults that are made at a time and place when least expected by the enemy—disease. In diphtheria, the blood is struggling desperately not only to neutralize the toxins produced by the growing germs but to eradicate the bacilli themselves. As we have learned through bitter experience, reinforcements are essential and only when antitoxin is employed will enough poison be rendered harmless to insure safety.

Within recent years vaccines have been looked upon as cheer leaders, if not actual combat troops, in the contest against infection, but they cannot supply all of the forces required for victory. If, for instance, inflammation exists within the tissues, our first rule is to provide drainage for the collected pus, but all too often flourishing nests of organisms cannot be reached or removed wholly by the knife. Occasionally, after surgery has done its best, improvement fails to come because of the presence of dangerous microbes in the immediate vicinity. Thus, an operation upon a sinus may open an escape channel widely but a focus may remain despite a generous outpouring of foul débris. The defensive armies of the system must then be relied upon to win the battle and here a substantial reserve stands the patient in good stead.

But sometimes the blood is doing all it can—straining to the utmost to manufacture antitoxins and substances designed to annihilate the invading hosts. This is where vaccines frequently play a helpful rôle, providing stimulation for renewed effort. Those prepared from the causative bacteria are more effective—as a rule. Cultures are taken, grown on a suitable media, suspended in salt solution or some other liquid, and the "creatures" are then killed by heat or some chemical. Now and then a dozen or more types of microbes will be found and the bactericlogist may select the one or two that predominate.

Let us assume that the material is ready. How is it used? Most authors agree that—at first—a minute amount is advisable and its introduction between the layers of the skin will give some idea as to the probable effect. If no reaction of moment appears the first injection may contain as few as 5,000 dead bacteria or as many as a million. If a severe upset ensues, at the next treatment the strength is reduced. If it is well borne the second and each succeeding "shot" is larger and hence more potent. The interval may vary from a day or two or extend for several weeks.

We must not forget that we are whipping up the individual's resistance and with too rapid repetitions we are likely to fail because we may stimulate too often. After ten or a dozen trials, if no favorable result is observed, vaccine therapy is discontinued. But when signs of improvement appear the recess between doses is lengthened.

Fortunately these floggings of the latent energy—if they do no good—will work no harm. The only precautions that should be followed are that the germs shall be "completely defunct" and that the first administration shall not be too large.

THEY SEE BUT CAN'T FOCUS.

Mrs. D. L. V. writes: Does an infant see before he is 6 weeks old?

REPLY.

Unless born blind sight is present at birth. Both eyes are farsighted. The ability to converge must be acquired, however, through practice. In other words the babe has no power to fuse the separate images. By the end of the first five weeks the gaze may be fixed upon objects within the line of vision. Within six months parents will note that the eye movements as well as fixation are well on the way.

CORN BREAD OR WHOLE WHAT?

K. D. writes: I am afflicted with gallstones and my diet includes whole wheat bread. I would like to know if I could eat corn bread instead or is it too heavy to digest?

REPLY.

Properly chewed, in moderate amounts there is no reason why any one should be denied corn-pone. On the other hand, corn meal contains more fat than wheat flour. The crux of the matter may lie in the amount of butter used.

SEEK THE CAUSE.

F. R. writes: My 15 year old daughter has a small amount of albumin in her urine. The family doctor said I should forget about it, but I am worried.

REPLY.

An effort should be made to determine whether it indicates actual damage to the kidneys or is due to some other condition. If some degree of inflammation is present further injury may be prevented by proper management. Our chief reliance is diet.

YES, BUT GUARD THEM.

IN OUR NATIONAL PARKS.

Chicago, June 24.—My experience with many of the so-called national parks proves that the whole interior department could be wiped out with no loss. A rise in efficiency would ensue, which, as you and I know, is the last thing this administration cares for.

In Death Valley the roads could be much better, but it is more important that concessionaires be allowed to charge $3 a night for alleged sleeping quarters. The price of food is also on a high plane.

In Sequoia, which is terribly overrated, the department is a party to a deal whereby tourists are charged $4 for a log cabin without lights, toilet or running water. One load of wood is the limit, but the limit is also reached when one climbs into the beds. Besides being lumpy, the sheets are damp.

The Carlsbad caverns: Just another place where people are treated as cattle, it being assumed that this method is the only way whereby all the tourists may be conducted through this marvelous hole in the ground!

If Ickes would spend more time taking care of his job in a proper manner and less time calling people names and shooting off his mouth, the department could be run much better. H. M. F.

A HEAD SET FOR RADIO.

Evanston, Ill., June 22.—To Sufferer from Too Loud Radios: Why not suggest to your neighbors that they get a head set? Then they can enjoy their radio without disturbing others. There are radio head set attachments on the market that enable one to get even better reception than through the loud speaker. They're light in weight and made more comfortable by rubber ear cushions.

If you can't induce your neighbor to buy a head set, get one yourself, and you can at least enjoy your own radio. The head set attachment, incidentally, will be a boon to any hard of hearing member of your family. It will help your children in their study of foreign languages, since it means more sensitive reception of short wave broadcasts from foreign lands.

If you're a wife who doesn't like to listen to baseball games and you have a husband or son who is a rabid fan, the solution is a head set attachment.

Head sets for everybody should be the motto in this world, where radios are fast becoming the great American menace, simply because otherwise courteous people forget that there is such a thing as the application of courtesy to radio listening. Yours for peace in the land.

THE LOOP PIGEON PEST.

Chicago, June 23.—I have had three dresses ruined within the last two weeks by the pigeons that are permitted to congregate on the First National bank building. The first time, entering the savings department on Monroe street; the second time, on coming out of that same bank; the third, in walking by the building. Could I bring suit against the city of Chicago and the bank building? It is strange that with all the parks and vacant lots around the city our wonderful board of aldermen cannot pass a law that will protect the people. I am told by many people that they have had the same experience. The pigeons in the loop are a pest. More numerous than sparrows.

"MISTAKEN AND IGNORANT."

Chicago, June 22.—Your editorial, "Pulaski vs. Crawford," shows not only how greatly you are mistaken but how grossly you are ignorant of the movement to restore the name of Crawford avenue.

One of the supposed objections to Pulaski road was the cost in the change in stationery. Surely, to this date, they have used up all of their old stationery. The other objection was that old established businesses would suffer by the change. I wonder if any one could enumerate one or two such business houses. There is only one real very wealthy objector to the present name, and if you would remove him there would be no objectors.

In today's TRIBUNE you quote H. C. Brodman, head of the city map bureau, as stating that 500 street names were deleted in 1913-'15 and 300 deleted in 1934-'35 and the four names created in 1936, and yet did you ever mention any objectors to the 804 changes of street names?

BROADCASTS NOT IMPARTIAL.

Kiel, Wis., June 23.—About the Chicago baseball radio broadcasts: A listener who expects an impartial broadcast is out of luck. The broadcasters go romping along, tossing bouquets to the Chicago players and making flippant comments on the others. If the broadcasters could dispose of the umpires they would be perfectly happy. No opposing team would ever make a run and no opposing player would reach first base. Evidently it is too much to hope that radio listeners can ever expect to hear an honest broadcast. It is a situation certainly discreditable to those responsible.

LETTER WRITING—HERE AND ABROAD.

Chicago, June 22.—Our deep appreciation of your editorial on "Learning to Write" is understandable for we have long been engaged in encouraging high school and college students, both at home and abroad, to follow your sound editorial advice—i. e. to learn to write by writing.

Whether the responsibility rests with our general educational emphasis—we can not say, but the fact remains that students of other lands, addressing us in a language that is foreign to them, write more readable and interesting letters than do the majority of our own students to whom the English language is native.

We are hopeful that the time may come when letter writing will be recognized as an art. That this distinction is not an arbitrary one may be noted by a comparison of letters that come to us from the orient—Japan and Java.

The Japanese student acquires a remarkable mastery of copybook English. He writes with infinite care and a punctilious regard for all the rules of punctuation and syntax—building a letter, leveling and squaring it, with mechanical precision. His craftsmanship is faultless.

The native Javanese students write with an easy spontaneity that is rhythmic. Rather than build, they drape—with the result that their letters are patterns of exquisite artistry.

From students of Czecho-Slovakia comes our best penmanship and perhaps the most practical knowledge of European political trends. Their letters bear little evidence of a rigorous censorship.

MONEY OWED ESTATE.

Chicago, June 16.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Last July my mother died leaving no will. There are three heirs, two brothers and a sister. The estate consists of a small amount of insurance and some unimproved land in Missouri. The insurance is not sufficient to pay all expenses of last illness, funeral, etc., and the land, if it can be sold, would not bring much.

1. If the land cannot be sold can the debtors sue the heirs for the unpaid bills?
2. Must the estate be probated before it is possible to sell the land?
3. What steps must be taken to settle the estate?
4. One of the sons and his wife signed a note for $500 which was loaned them by mother. Since her death they claim she advised them they did not need to pay it. The note is still with her papers and nothing is shown on it as to cancellation. What steps, if any, can be taken to care for this? E. L.

1. No.
2. Yes.
3. The ordinary course would be to employ an attorney for probate proceedings.
4. One course would be for the administrator of her estate to bring an ordinary suit to collect the note. This is on the assumption that its amount would exceed the share of the maker. If the amount is less than his share then the administrator could present a final account setting off the debt against the share, and the maker would have an opportunity to be heard on objections to such final account.

ESTATE ASSETS.

Chicago, June 16.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—My husband's mother died last November leaving no will. Two sons are the only heirs. The one son and his daughter made their home with the mother after he was divorced. He doesn't want the property probated.

1. Isn't it better to have it probated?
2. How long after the mother's passing can he hold possession if the other brother wants to close estate?
3. Can he live there rent free?
4. Who is accountable for taxes and upkeep while he has possession?
5. What is to be done to have place sold or rented? W. A.

1. Depends in part on the value of the property, on how soon you expect to sell and on other facts that are not before us. We can say that probate is necessary in order to produce a real estate title which a contract purchaser would be forced to accept, but if the value is small you may be able to find purchasers who would be willing to waive probate, particularly if there is substantial delay before the sale.
2. Depends in part on whether a partition suit is contested. If these points cannot be settled amicably we advise the employment of an attorney.
3. No.
4. He should be charged with rent and both should contribute to the taxes and upkeep.
5. Employ an attorney.

CONGRESS NEAR DECISIVE FIGHT ON NEUTRALITY

Administration Bill Is to Reach House Today.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 26.—[Special.]—On the eve of the 25th anniversary of the assassination at Sarajevo which plunged Europe and eventually the United States into a world war, congress tonight was prepared for a battle over neutrality legislation.

When Representative Sol Bloom [D., N. Y.], acting chairman of the foreign affairs committee, brings up in the house tomorrow the administration's bill revising the present neutrality act, he will face an opposition of rapidly growing strength.

As a concession to this opposition, Democratic leaders and Democratic foreign affairs committeemen headed by Bloom agreed at a secret conference late today to drop from the bill a section permitting the President to define areas of combat operations from which he might exclude American ships.

This section had been attacked as permitting the President in effect to quarantine certain nations by defining the areas.

Other Changes Agreed On.

Other last minute changes in the bill were agreed upon, including the elimination of a proviso permitting short term credits to belligerent nations. The alterations will be offered by the committee and are expected to be adopted.

These changes, it was said by administration spokesmen, strengthen the chances of the bill for passage while not affecting the main feature of the measure—repeal of the arms embargo which existing law requires to be put into effect against belligerent states as soon as the President proclaims a state of war to exist.

Party lines will be partially forgotten in the legislative struggle which will continue most of the week. Democrats from western states are wavering in their support of the administration proposals. On the other hand, some Republicans from eastern states are in favor of the Roosevelt program.

The Bloom measure nas been attacked as giving the President authority to line up the United States on the side of Great Britain and France in any contest. By permitting the sale of war materials to those who can come and get them, opponents say the bill gives an advantage to those countries which control the seas.

Hold Balance of Power.

The nationalists who oppose the bill declare that the safest way to stay out of war is to refuse to sell war equipment to any belligerent.

Republicans and Democrats alike joined in deploring the statement of French Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet yesterday that the United States should make it clear that it would be on the side of the British and French in case of war. They characterized the statement as "very unfortunate."

"We do hold a balance of power," commented Representative James A. Shanley [D., Conn.], member of the foreign affairs committee. "But it was an unfortunate statement."

"It was an exceedingly unfortunate statement for him to make at this time in view of the present conditions of the world and of this country," said Representative Charles A. Eaton [R., N. J.], another member of the committee.

Representative George H. Tinkham [R., Mass.], a third committee member, said that Bonnet's statement proved there was no maneuver which both England and France would not perform to commit the United States in a European war.

Senator William E. Borah [R., Idaho] termed "rather remarkable" the daily admonitions the United States is receiving from France and Great Britain concerning its foreign policy.

SEIZE WEDDING FETE GUEST AS HIT-RUN KILLER

Carl W. Strassburger, 47 years old, 3922 North Monticello avenue was arrested yesterday as the hit and run driver who killed Elmer Carlson, 40, of 3916 Milwaukee avenue, early Sunday morning. Carlson was hit in front of 4705 Irving Park road.

Witnesses took the license number of the car that struck Carlson. Capt. Frank Gill of the Albany Park police traced them to Strassburger. He found Strassburger's car had a broken left ventilator window, a bent handle on the left rear door, and stains on the car's left side.

Strassburger said he had been in the vicinity of the accident after attending a wedding anniversary party at which he had several drinks. He said he had been alone and was not aware of hitting anything. He said a stone smashed the window.

Albert Brown, 49 years old, 726 West Monroe street, was killed early today when he was run over by a truck as he lay sleeping in an alley at the rear of 183 North Canal street. The truck driver, Charles Lippert, 2528 North Spaulding avenue, was not held.

Richard Anderson, 22 years old, Geneva salesman, died yesterday of injuries incurred Sunday when a car in which he was riding hit a tree. Ross Johnson, 21, driver of the car, was seriously injured.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 392 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these, 305 were killed in Chicago, where 9,913 were injured in the same period.

SCHOOL PRICES LAID TO DELAY IN PAYING BILLS

Creditors Forced to Wait, Says Board Aid.

When the board of education is charged more than list or catalog prices for materials, supplies, or construction work, it is because it can't pay its bills on time. Contractors who are low bidders for board contracts must wait from one to two years for their money. Howard P. Savage, business manager of the board, made that statement yesterday in reply to charges that the board is paying too much for materials.

Savage said that the outstanding debts of the board have been greatly reduced during the last few years but that in the building fund the bills still are approximately $2,000,000 behind. "We have paid all 1937 bills and now are starting to pay 1938 bills," he explained.

The business manager said that to take advantage of Public Works administration contributions for building new schools the board must provide cash for the PWA projects in advance of the award of contracts.

5 Million Placed on Deposit.

Five million dollars was deposited in banks the first of this year to provide for an $8,577,000 PWA construction program.

"That $5,000,000 came out of approximately $10,000,000 to be received from 1939 taxes for the building fund, and consequently slowed up the reduction of outstanding debts," said Savage.

The building fund is used for all expenditures for construction, repairs, or improvements to school buildings.

Savage said the educational fund's outstanding debts now are reduced to approximately $600,000, compared with $5,000,000 in 1933. Bills for purchases from the educational fund are paid in about one year, he said.

Fence Contract Cited.

The charges against the board were made to Dean W. F. Clarke of De Paul university law school, chairman of Mayor Kelly's school advisory committee. They were made by Raymond F. Kraft of Evanston, a teacher in the Winnetka schools.

In a statement to Dean Clarke, Kraft said that the board last year awarded a contract for a school fence to the Lane-Stewart company, 4842 Kinzie street, for $573. Kraft said that a private individual asked a company for a bid on an identical job and was quoted $432.

The statement also charged that school contracts which ordinarily would be more than $300 and subject to approval by the board of education frequently are broken into smaller items to avoid that rule. Under the present school board the limit on contracts requiring board approval was reduced from $500 to $300.

Savage said last night that even if small contracts do not go to the board for approval before being awarded, competitive bids are requested from at least three companys in each instance.

MINIATURE PARK TO TOUR CITY IN ANTI-LITTER WEEK

Anti-litter week was opened yesterday with the dedication of a miniature park, mounted on a flat car, at Madison and State streets. The ceremonies were performed by Mayor Kelly, Karl Eitel, chairman of the anti-litter committee; Mrs. Burnett D. Warner, president of the Chicago Woman's club; Robert C. Dunham and George T. Donoghue of the Chicago Park district, and Walter C. Gregory and Oscar D. Mayer of the State Street council. Three girls, who have been selected by the park district, will ride on the flat car on the surface lines in a 700 mile tour of the city during the week.

CHIEFS RESPOND TO INVITATIONS FOR THRILL SHOW

Fire and Police Guests to Join Parade.

BY CHARLES LEAVELLE.

So you thought volunteer fire departments were extinct, did you? Know then that Chief Herman J. Schmidt of the volunteer department in Justice Park, in the Clearing area of Cook county, is coming to the Chicago Police and Fire Thrill show July 16 as living proof that they aren't. And his twenty-three men want to come along with him.

Chief Schmidt was among the first of the many police and fire chiefs of Chicagoland who have responded to THE TRIBUNE'S invitation to be its guests at the thrill show that Sunday afternoon in Soldiers' field.

The invitation to Chicagoland's police and fire department heads was extended officially more than a week ago through the columns of this newspaper and now is repeated. No further invitation is required.

Tickets to Be Mailed.

All that is necessary for each police chief and fire chief in the area to obtain a ticket is that he write to the Thrill Show committee, at THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, addressing his letter in care of Philip Maxwell. It is preferred that each use his official stationery. Tickets will be mailed within a few days.

The invitation is not confined merely to Chicago's immediate suburbs but is intended for all Chicagoland, which reaches into Wisconsin, Iowa, Indiana, and Michigan as well as Illinois.

The visitors will be welcomed officially by Mayor Edward J. Kelly, will be greeted by heads of the Chicago fire and police departments, and will join in the opening parade.

Guests to See Radio Show.

In addition to being guests at the thrill show, the first 600 chiefs who reply to THE TRIBUNE'S invitation will be special guests that night at another entertainment.

Harold Stokes, W-G-N's orchestra leader, has dedicated his program, "Your Sunday Night Date," to the visitors, who will watch and hear Mr. Stokes, his orchestra, and his singers in their broadcast from the main studios of W-G-N, beginning at 8 p. m.

Attendance is limited to the first 600 who respond because of the studio's seating limitations. Among featured singers will be "The Three Graces"—Patricia Clayton and Annette and Kathleen Bretzlaff.

The fire and police departments and the Chicago park district—which with THE TRIBUNE sponsor the thrill show—will start rehearsals soon.

Admission prices, 25 cents for adults and 10 cents for children, will be the same as last year—the lowest charged anywhere for a show of this magnitude.

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: Never Say Die

FATHER OF ITALIAN FOREIGN MINISTER, COUNT CIANO, DIES

PONTE A MORIANO, Italy, June 27 [Tuesday]. — (AP) — Count Costanzo Ciano, president of the Fascist chamber and father of Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano, died at midnight, it was announced today. He was 63 years old. The elder Ciano was an admiral and a hero of the war in the Adriatic. He was one of Premier Mussolini's earliest prominent supporters and as minister of communications reorganized sea and land transport. His son married Mussolini's daughter, Edda.

DEATH CAN TAKE NO HOLIDAY! IT'S FIREWORKS TIME!

Suburb Sale Starts as State Ban Is Asked.

The sale of fireworks is prohibited by ordinance in Chicago and most of the suburbs. But in a few nearby towns and the many unincorporated areas merchants of death and injury today begin their annual sale of firecrackers to children. This is permitted by state law from June 27 to July 4, inclusive.

Audrey M. Hayden.

In their campaign for a safe and sane Fourth of July, many agencies yesterday pointed to the need for a state law completely banning the sale of fireworks. Last year 25 persons were killed and 7,933 were maimed, burned, or otherwise injured throughout the country. The toll for Illinois was one dead and 513 injured, including 176 in Chicago.

Save Children from Blindness.

Only by a statewide ban, said Miss Audrey M. Hayden, executive secretary of the Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness, can effective control be exercised. Otherwise children may purchase the deadly playthings at many stands located within easy access of a prohibited district, such as Chicago.

As a result of the drive for stringent regulation, led by the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness, five state legislatures this year enacted laws regulating the distribution and use of fireworks. Eight states now have fireworks prohibitions of some character.

Utah and West Virginia now have a law prohibiting the sale or use of fireworks, except for supervised public displays. Such displays, approved by the Society for the Prevention of Blindness, will be given in many communities. The Chicago exhibition will take place in Soldiers' field, under the auspices of the Cook County Council of the American Legion.

California Invokes Ban.

California recently designated certain types of fireworks as dangerous, banning their use. Connecticut tightened its regulations and stopped sales to children under 12, while Pennsylvania outlawed all fireworks, except cap pistols. The other states with restrictions are Michigan, New Jersey, and Iowa, all of which have outright bans.

The Indiana legislature this year voted to ban the sale of fireworks entirely, effective after August, thus providing for next year. At Springfield legislators tabled a bill that would have prevented them from indulging in their favorite pastime—setting off firecrackers on the last night of the session.

Other regulatory measures failed of passage in Nebraska, Missouri, Ohio, Tennessee, Maryland, Idaho, and Arizona. It is expected that a comprehensive bill, patterned after the "model" fireworks law, soon will be introduced in the Illinois legislature, possibly at the next session.

Only two north shore suburbs permit fireworks to be sold. They are Winthrop Harbor, in Lake county, and Lake Forest, the latter allowing sales between July 1 and 4, under restrictions. In the western part of Lake county, however, the sale is widespread.

Five to Open in Lincolnwood.

Five large fireworks stands are ready to open today in Lincolnwood, just northwest of Chicago. Firecrackers also will be found in No Man's Land, between Wilmette and Kenilworth, and on Milwaukee avenue, between Chicago and the Village of Niles.

Maywood, Melrose Park, and Forest Park permit the sale at American Legion stands. There also will be stands in Lyons, North Riverside, West Chicago, Bensenville, and Geneva on the west side, and Calumet Park, Calumet City, Burnham, Chicago Heights, and Blue Island.

Miss Hayden praised Chicago police for their prompt arrest and prosecution of firecracker bootleggers, most of whom have been caught selling to children. Twenty-three per cent of the eye injuries suffered by children at play are caused by fireworks, she said.

Settlement for $12,500 of the $2,000,000 breach of promise suit brought against Harold F. McCormick, chairman of the International Harvester company, by Mrs. Olive Randolph Colby of Kansas City, Mo., was announced yesterday.

Sol R. Friedman, counsel for Mrs. Colby, a widow, appeared before Judge Robert A. Meier of Chicago Heights, sitting in Superior court. With Friedman was Attorney Kenneth Montgomery, representing McCormick. Montgomery said he had been authorized to make the settlement rather than wait for trial of the case, because McCormick is seriously ill and would be unable to go to court for some time.

Friedman said that in view of McCormick's illness his client was willing to settle the case. McCormick is in Pasadena, Cal., with his third wife, the former Adah Wilson, his one time nurse, whom he married May 31, 1938.

Canada Thistles Blooming

June 26, 1939.

CANADA thistles are blooming in Du Page and Cook counties. Within the next two weeks, unless the plants are cut, they will begin shedding seeds to be blown about the countryside by the winds.

The Illinois noxious weed law requires that Canada thistles be destroyed before they reach a seed bearing stage. Land owners who violate the law are subject to a fine of not less than $10 or more than $300 for each offense.

in fields and along roadsides, on streets, alleys, and vacant lots in Chicago and suburbs, in forest preserves, and on railroad rights of way. Some were growing in the edges of golf courses and in cemeteries.

Development Stage Varies.

The thistles are in different stages of development. Some are only a few inches high. Others are four and five feet tall and in full bloom. Canada thistles usually begin blooming in this area about June 20. Some continue to bloom until frost.

Farmers apparently do a better job of controling Canada thistles than do town and city property owners. There are fewer thistles, considering area, on farm lands than in towns.

Numerous vacant lots, both in Chicago and in the suburbs, are badly infested. On some streets thistles waist high and in full bloom are leaning over the sidewalks. People walk around them.

There are many Canada thistles on farm lands in the area. Scattered plants may be found in meadows and grain fields, plants that are not visible at a glance. Doubtless many of these have escaped landowners' attention. On some farms the pests are thick. One field of about six acres was noted where the thistles had become so thick and rank that the land had been abandoned for farming. A man was disking the field, trying to destroy the thistles. In some cultivated fields thistles in the rows are higher than the crops.

Mowers and Scythes Used.

In many places efforts are being made to destroy thistles before seeds form. Mowers and scythes are being used to cut thistles and other weeds along highway rights of way. Farmers are cutting them in their fields. Crews of men are cutting thistles on vacant properties in towns under the direction of township weed commissioners, the costs being charged to the property owners. Some railroads and forest preserve districts are said to be following this practice.

The Canada thistle is a perennial weed that spreads by seeds and from the roots. It spreads rapidly and is difficult to control, once it gets a start. The seeds, equipped with a sort of parachute, may be carried long distances by the winds.

Canada thistles have been outlawed in Illinois since 1872. Officials of the state department of agriculture estimate that the thistles are growing on 1,000 acres of land in the state for every acre that was infested with them when the law was passed. They think the weed occupies at least 100,000 acres of Illinois land. Some authorities say that 150,000 acres would be a more accurate figure.

Buds Get Early Start on Gayety This Summer

BY JUDITH CASS.

THE debutantes will be taking over the spotlight before long for each year the sweet young things begin "coming out" earlier in the season. Once upon a time there were no debuts before October; then there started an epidemic of early fall parties for the girls who were combining debutante and college careers, and now there are a few summer debuts each year.

All of which is very nice for the caterers, florists, dressmakers, engravers, musicians, social secretaries, and other tradespeople who profit by the parties. And pleasant for the buds and their friends, and material for the society columns!

An early fall tea will be one on Saturday, Sept. 16, at which Mr. and Mrs. Albert Blake Dick will present their daughter, Helen. The party will be at Applegate, the Dicks' Lake Forest home, which also will be the setting for a small dinner-dance that night for the bud and her assistants.

Miss Dick will return to the Finch Junior college in New York for her second year shortly after making her debut. She was finished at Miss Hall's in Pittsfield last June.

Caryl Harrison To Be Debutante.

The junior Carter H. Harrisons, who are back in their Lake Forest home with their four daughters, are planning a September tea for the third one, Miss Caryl. The family probably will spend the winter in Lake Forest. During the Christmas time rush of parties, however, the debutante and Mrs. Harrison will come into the city.

The senior Mr. and Mrs. Carter Harrison are looking forward to a day long visit on Sunday from the only sister of the late President Taft, Mrs. William A. Edwards of California. Mrs. Edwards, the widow of a distinguished Los Angeles surgeon, is on her way east to visit her brothers, and as is her custom she will break the long journey by spending a day with her old friends, the Harrisons.

Mary Louise Hulburd To Bow Next Saturday.

There was one June debut last summer, but the first of this season's formal parties will not be given until July 1. Next Saturday night Mr. and Mrs. DeForest Hulburd are entertaining at dinner and dancing for their daughter, Miss Mary Louise Hulburd. The party will be given in the Hulburd home in Lake Bluff. Miss Hulburd has been attending the Erskine school in Boston.

The junior George W. Blossoms are giving a small dinner-dance at the Shoreacres club next Monday for their debutante, Miss Barbara Blossom. She is a student in a kindergarten training school in New York, to which she will return next fall.

Miss Grace Shumway, daughter of the Edward DeWitt Shumways, will have two debut parties, one on July 1 at the Onwentsia, and one during the Christmas holidays on Dec. 23 at the Casino. Both parties will be dinner-dances. Miss Shumway is a graduate of St. Timothy's at Catonsville, Md., and is attending Vassar college to which she will return in September.

Saturday night, July 15, will bring the debut supper-dance of Miss Barbara Buchanan. Her parents, the DeWitt Buchanans, will give the party at the Shoreacres.

Mrs. D. Mark Cummings is entertaining at the Onwentsia's Thursday night party this week for the daughters of her son-in-law, Curtis B. Munson. They are Miss Frances and Miss Marion Munson. The latter is to be a debutante of this season. Mrs. Cummings is giving a luncheon at home next Sunday for the bud. The Misses Munson will arrive from Providence tomorrow or Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Munson [Edith Cummings] are at their ranch in Edmonton, Alta., Canada.

Debut Supper-Dance Planned for September.

The first debut supper-dance to be announced for September is one Mr. and Mrs. Mellen C. Martin and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh G. Petersen will give at the Indian Hill club on the 8th to introduce their daughters, Miss Marilyn Martin and Miss Elise Petersen. There will be a reception from 8 until 10 o'clock for the friends of the Martins and Petersens. The young people will start dancing at 10 o'clock.

Miss Petersen, who will enter Finch Junior college in New York next fall, and her family will spend part of the summer at their homes near Mercer, Wis., going north in July. Miss Martin will return to Finch for her second year. The debutantes were at the Hacienda del Sol school in Tucson, Ariz., at the same time several years ago. Two years ago both went to Europe for the spring months. Miss Martin attended school in Switzerland for three years and was graduated from Monticello college before entering Finch.

Miss Martin's brother Ed, who will

Special for summer: An exciting perfume that miraculously achieves a blend of beauty, cool woodsyness and sophistication. It has a decided tang that is immensely stimulating in hot weather. The streamlined bottle has a stopper of walnut.

For your outdoors hours and clothes and moods there is a wonderfully smart perfume with which you ought to get acquainted.

In summer a great many people feel that delicate floral scents are best. Sometimes we have our doubts about that. Florals run to sweetness, and if there's anything stickier than a sweet scent on a hot day we don't know what it could be. For ourself we prefer a scent that has a decided "lift" to it—and if it's a little sophisticated so much the better. Just because you feel as wilted as a bit of left over salad you have a good reason to choose a perfume with a bit of spirit.

This perfume is woodsy, for the most part. It's got plenty of tang and zip, but it's also got what is best described by the word "oomph." You know what we mean. It's the important note that makes your perfume a subject of interest and even conversation. It will make you think more of wood sprites than flat heeled lassies striding over the golf course.

The bottle is a stunner; streamlined as anything and with a stopper of natural walnut. The perfume is highly concentrated. Be a bit sparing when you put it on.

There is a wonderful cologne in the same fragrance. And a body duster, the like of which you've never seen before. This is an entrancing prystal brush with bristles every bit as soft as down. Powder in the scent of the perfume goes in the handle, and sifts down through the bristles while you brush yourself after the bath. More fun!

You'll like this scent for evening, with your fussiest, flutteriest clothes just as much as you will with your simple little summer numbers.

THE CAST.

Steve Bishop.....Tony Martin
Julie Harrison.....Gloria Stuart
Papa Gambini.....Henry Armetta
Muldoon.....Slim Summerville
Paulie Mitchell.....Kane Richmond
Tom Walker.....Robert Allen
Mama Gambini.....Inez Palange

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

Another prize fight story, b'gorra! Quickie. And a right good one.

The hero is a bird with charm, and fists that know their way about. A cowboy from Montana who has come to New York to make money enough to put him through agricultural college. . . . Though no fool, he's a trusting soul and suspects nothing wrong about a series of fake matches into which he's wangled by a bright Manhattan manager.

But the fair newspaper sports reporter, Miss Julie Harrison, whose papa had been a champion lightweight, knows her ring onions. Besides, she's in love with Cowboy Steve and wants him to be on the up and up all the time in every way. Julie has another friend who's an able and legitimate fighter. She also has initiative. . . . SHE SMELLS A RAT!

Ere long she has Steve's contract—and the goat of a number of folks. . . . H. E.

I think you'll find yourselves quite fond of Tony Martin and Gloria Stuart. I'm SURE you'll be asking one another, "Who IS that handsome chap who plays Paulie Mitchell?" for he IS a good looker and, I suspect, could do a neat job of acting if handed a chance. Practically all he does in this movie is to put up a cracking good fight. But in a "bit" here and there he demonstrates a neat histrionical touch.

Henry Armetta is fun as Papa Gambini—who runs a spaghetti restaurant and gives Steve his first chance to win New York cash—as a waiter. Robert Allen is clever as a two timing fight promoter.

The film is short, pretty well directed and dialoged, and is so light that it couldn't induce brain fag.

See you soon.

The Good and Bad in Fashions Turns Out for Arlington Opening

BY INDIA MOFFETT.

THEY'RE OFF for a month at Arlington Park, off to a good start, too. Not just the horses, but the spectators. Yesterday's throng that filled the Post and Paddock club was as smart a one as has been seen on an opening day. It was a perfect day to attract one to the races, no glaring sun and cool breezes.

The feminine portion—and it far outnumbered the masculine one—rivaled with their colorful costumes the pink roses blooming in lush profusion in front of the club, and the red geraniums outlining the enclosure boxes.

The whole was a stunning picture and the parade that passed any one who stayed in one spot all afternoon was a fascinating one, including, as it did, the best of spectator sports fashions, and the worst. Fashion sleuths out to see one of the queen's parasols were disappointed for there wasn't a sunshade in the crowd.

There were plenty of cartwheel hats, though, to shade eyes, although there were just as many wee turbans, most of them nosegays anchored to heads by narrow straps, snoods, or enchanting wisps of colored veiling.

Thumbs down on the fishnets, said our fashion expert. They're too numerous, they're too sloppy and they're too casual. One wide brimmed brown straw seen was all right from the front but from the rear, oh my! The crown was a collapsed dunce cap of fishnet. Another fashionable young matron spoiled a stunning vertically striped dress of blue and white by a drooping fishnet turban that looked as if it had been tied by loving hands at home.

To the question, which is the most spectacular outfit you have seen, our fashion critic replied, "the red and yellow outfit on the red-head." The wearer of this startling outfit was Mrs. James R. Kemper. The red was the veil on the little yellow hat and Mrs. Kemper's copper color curls. The rest of the outfit, including her sandals, was yellow. When she watched the races she pulled out of her bag the final color accent, a pair of grass green sun-glasses.

"Only once in a century is there any one daring enough to try such an unusual and individual color combination," continued Rhea Seeger admiringly. Another attractive color combination was a shining burgundy straw sailor on a beautiful white haired woman.

Mrs. David Crawford and her daughter, Miss Libby, belonged to different Scotch clans for both wore plaids but they were not the same. Mrs. Crawford copied the cover of a recent issue of a nationally known fashion magazine in a cotton gingham dress with full skirt, long, full sleeved blouse, and large white hat with an enveloping veil banded with the Scotch plaid cotton.

Ginghams certainly have come out of the kitchen and gone to the races. Young Mrs. Irving Osborne wore a cool looking brown and white plaid gingham and a white hat. She is so tanned that her arms and face were almost the color of the brown in her frock.

One of the smartest hats seen in the boxes of the Post and Paddock enclosure was a tiny one of white field clover with a carbon blue veil. The enchanting fragrance of sweet clover that filled the air had nothing to do with the hat, but it was a pleasant contrast to French perfumes.

"Candidly speaking, why do women who are washed-out looking wear washed-out looking clothes?" asked the fashion expert. There is no answer.

"Look at her," she went on, nodding towards a Lake Forester whose hair, skin, dress, and hat all were the same nondescript color.

"And her," Rhea Seeger went on, motioning towards a younger woman who really is very pretty but who yesterday looked as though she might be recovering from a long illness, in a pallid print with turban to match.

"A bright hat or a bright bag would redeem either outfit."

"Now, there's a printed dress and matching turban that has distinction and charm," she went on, looking at Mrs. Esther Gries' costume of dark blue and dull red with accents of yellow. Small, precise prints that do

Good-bye To Vienna

By Olga L. Rosmanith

SYNOPSIS.

An American girl and her Viennese sweetheart, Franz Gruenwald, in a café in Vienna, hear a radio announcement of Hitler's entry into Austria. The girl, Marian, has been staying in Franz's home, studying voice. Franz fears for his foster father, Prof. Josef von Plasy, author of a recent anti-Nazi book. He refuses to flee the country and leave his wife, Gisela, and son Johann, who has the mind of a child. Leopoldine, a pro-Nazi woman surgeon, in love with Franz, warns him to send the American girl home. Her brother, Karl, is a Storm Trooper. Von Plasy is taken off to jail to die from shock. In order to take Gisela's money out of the country to deliver to her friend, Emil Wiedermann, in Riga, Marian invests it in rare stamps. Herr Speyer, the stamp merchant, guesses her purpose, but is sympathetic and asks her to deliver a picture to a friend of his in Riga, a Mme. Lonska. Marian leaves without telling Franz her purpose. Franz loses his job.

BATTLE FOR SURVIVAL.

Franz spent the major part of the money he had left in his pocket buying food to take home. He refused the offer of a gift with smiling dignity. He would not let Herr Dortler know there was such dire necessity as that. The old man came out to the street door with him. "I'm sorry Franz. You had a promising future. Heaven knows what it now holds for you. But we must be brave, my boy. We are all in the same position."

Franz walked home. It was worse for old Dortler than it was for Gisela. He would be handicapped by his loyalty to his sweet ageing wife. He loved her. He would never divorce her. The big Jewish cemetery was already crowded by the bodies of such inseparable souls as these. The city hummed with rumors of these pathetic suicides.

A uniformed messenger put a telegram in his hand as he entered the main door of the apartment house in the Reichsratstrasse. It was an unsigned message from Marian, handed in at Warsaw. She had taken an hour to compose it taking for granted that Gisela would see it and immediately understand.

Franz read it over and over, his hurt tired mind amazed and baffled by the unexpected wording. "Here I am, very happy, very rich, very successful." He crushed it into his pocket, and pushed the starter button of the little elevator. Darling Marian—thank God she doesn't know about this—but I wish I knew what she's got to be so exuberant about."

It was inevitable that Leopoldine should take advantage of Franz's appeal to Karl for help and make the most of it. She wasted no time. He saw her leopard skin coat hanging over the tooled leather chair in the hall when he opened the door of the apartment. Before going into the big yellow living room he put the cheese and sausage and pickles and schwarzbrod and sweet butter into the dark chilliness of the kitchen. There was no food cooking although it was supper time. I hope she won't stay, he caught himself thinking.

He tidied himself hastily in his bedroom, brushing his disheveled clothes and smoothing his hair. There was a bruise on his face beginning to show darkly along his jawbone. He went through the double doors into the lamplit room and saw Leopoldine in a short slim red frock and smart black hat sitting smoking with one elbow on the big circular table. Johann was seated under the lamp laboriously repairing the cuts in the sofa cushions. Gisela had a new alert look in her pale face under her plaited crown of hair.

"Leopoldine's got a job for you darling. Isn't that wonderful?"

Actually it was. It was also so bitter that it must be the last dregs of the cup, but it was his duty to swallow it. A day's food in the kitchen and enough money left to buy one more square meal. The professor had rescued him from an orphanage existence and given him a first rate start. While they needed him all his energies belonged to the professor's son and his widow.

"That is wonderful," he said simulating enthusiasm.

Franz felt sick. He had only heard that morning about Jacob's suicide. But he did not mention it. Life was as savage as the deep sea battle for survival these days in Vienna. Eat or be eaten.

"You were very quick Pola. When did you hear about the closing of the laboratory?"

"Before you, I expect." She never blushed, but her hasty extinguishing of her half smoked cigaret showed she had spoken too hastily and regretted it. Gisela, however, did not notice it and Franz was too disillusioned to care. It was kind of you to use your influence. You know I'm grateful."

"Are you?" she said, with her meaningful jewel bright stare.

"It's too mild a word. I don't know if Gisela has explained the extremity of our situation—"

Leopoldine rose. She was aware that no cooking was going on, and there was nothing to be gained by talking with Franz in the presence of that half-wit oaf and depressing foster-mother. She was tactful enough not to mention the recent call from the Storm Troopers. She said—"you'll get an official notice of course to come for an interview. But it's quite definite. And you're needed badly. You're sure to hear from them tomorrow."

Franz went down with her to walk around the corner and put her in a taxi. It wasn't fair not to like her. This was a kind thing—a marvelous thing—no matter why she did it. For the second time that day he put the needs of others before his own and accepted humiliation. He took her hand through the door of the taxi. "I'm really grateful. I wish I could tell you how grateful."

"That's all right Franz. The little American girl has gone, hasn't she?"

"For the time being."

"Good. Be sensible and don't encourage her to come back. If you do as I tell you and work with the party you will never regret the anschluss. You'll be a whole lot better off."

What was the use of arguing with her? With any one? With anything?

"Time will show," he said noncommitally.

She leaned towards him, her eyes burning. "Don't wait for time to show. Don't be a fool Franz. Get in on the right foot while you can. Get rid of Gisela too. Her associations put you in a rather equivocal position."

He was swept by an impotent anger. But he would serve Gisela least by carrying her banner now. "That will solve itself," he said coldly. "When she can she will leave Vienna. Thank you again Pola. Good night—"

He gave the driver the address. She waved from the window as the taxi disappeared around the corner. Franz knew he was in a difficult position, but it was not so difficult as it was an hour ago when he was a penniless derelict without hope and without work.

It was a change for the better whatever she expected from him. At least the three of them could eat tonight in comparative peace.

Gisela seemed anxious about Marian. She left her coffee making to ask Franz about her when he came in. "Because it's curious we have no news."

"But we have. I forgot to tell you. I got a telegram from Warsaw."

"O good. Did she send any message for me?"

"No, just that she'd arrived and was all right."

Marian did not know she had a preconceived idea of the personality of Emil Wiedermann until she met him. Then she knew she had because he was so unlike what she had subconsciously expected that he took her by surprise. Or perhaps, being Gisela's "good friend," she had instinctively measured him by the almost elderly, genial, studious professor. Herr Wiedermann however was youthful, in his late thirties, not exactly handsome, not strictly speaking slim, but likable at sight, and on closer acquaintance indubitably possessed of a most compelling charm. He was so openly good natured, so sincerely friendly, so magnetically full of life.

He came to see Marian at the most modern caravenseral in Riga, comparable with a third rate hotel in a provincial American city, the famous Hotel de Rome. He was nervously anxious for news of "Frau Professor," but his good manners controled his impatience. First he must welcome the visitor to the city and attend to her affairs. "Have you everything you need? Are you comfortable in the hotel? Do you like it here? No? Yes?"

Lovely Voice Crowns Every Woman's Type of Beauty

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

[Copyright: 1939: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

What stature tiny women can achieve with dignity, grace, charm, and a fine bearing!

We thought again of how this miracle is accomplished while talking to the well known actress, Helen Hayes. Perhaps it is the rich personality that dominates, but, after all, is not personality the possession of the above named qualities to which, perhaps, a rich, round speaking voice is added? Miss Hayes, of course, has a rare talent, being one of the recognized first ladies of the stage today, which automatically adds cubits to her stature.

She is but five feet in height, and weighs 99 pounds. A jockey weight, as some one said. She tells amusingly of how, since the end of her famous Queen Victoria rôle, she decided, after years of dietary discretion, to eat what she wanted when she wanted it. Two helpings of ice cream at a time, if fancy dictated. And never gained a pound. All those carefully regulated years for naught, was the tenor of her regret.

We talked of beautiful women, soliciting Miss Hayes' judgment and experience observing the fair sex. Fine bone formation, we learned, supersedes every other physical expression, in her opinion. The beautiful bones of Eve Curie's face, of Greta Garbo's, of Hepburn's were extolled as infinitely more interesting to her than the conventional pattern so often lauded as perfection. But, above all, beyond everything else, every other gift or talent a woman might possess, to Helen Hayes nothing is so triumphant as a good voice and fine diction.

A woman has nothing to offer, we gathered, without that pleasing voice. Incidentally, the diminutive but great young actress herself would rank head of the ten best-voiced beauties on that score. We remember Hollywood's Ernst Lubitsh telling us when Miss Hayes was playing screen rôles, that there was no more perfect voice in talkies than hers.

A. C. Radio Would Cheer Shut-in.

Does some north side reader have a small alternating current radio which could be given to a Mr. C., a shut-in? A friend will be glad to call for it for him. The person in question is a middle aged man who is suffering from a painful and incurable disease. He is on relief and lives alone in one small room. Confined to bed most of the time, he has little amusement or pleasure, and a radio would mean a great deal to him.

Meat Loaf Is Good Cold as Picnic Fare

[Copyright: 1939: By The Chicago Tribune.]

Cold meat loaves are good picnic fare and grace the summertime buffet table appropriately, too. Jellied veal or chicken loaf may be prepared in cool morning hours for eating in the evening or a day or so later. Ham loaf is such a simple combination that it may be put together and baked at any convenient time. Serve it hot with a sauce one day and take the cold remains a-picnicking the next.

Jellied Veal Loaf

[Serves eight]

2 pounds lean veal, cut in pieces
1 veal shank
2 teaspoons salt
1 onion
½ green pepper
1 bay leaf
3 peppercorns
2 stalks celery
1 carrot, sliced
2 slices lemon
6 hard cooked eggs
1 pimiento, cut in pieces
1 tablespoon gelatin
¼ cup cold water

Wipe meat and place in kettle with 4 cups water, salt, onion, green pepper, spices, celery, carrot, and lemon. Cook over very low heat until meat is tender, about 3 hours. Remove meat from kettle. Cut meat from shank and return bone to kettle. Put all meat through food grinder, first removing fat and gristle. Add pimiento. Cook bone in meat liquor without a cover until the liquid has evaporated to measure 1 cup. Strain. Soak gelatin in cold water 5 minutes and dissolve in hot broth. Chop the egg whites finely and put yolks through a sieve. Pack half the ground meat into a greased loaf pan, pressing it firmly. Sprinkle lightly with salt. Cover with the egg yolks, sprinkle with pimiento, then add egg whites. Sprinkle each of egg layers with salt. Top with remaining veal. Pour broth over the loaf, covering all parts well. Cover loaf with wax paper and chill until firm. Turn out onto a platter and cut in slices.

Ham Loaf

[Serves eight]

1 pound ham, ground
1 pound fresh pork, ground
½ green pepper, ground
1 medium onion, ground
1 cup soft bread crumbs
1¼ teaspoons poultry seasoning
1 teaspoon dry mustard
2 eggs, slightly beaten
½ cup top milk

Combine ingredients, mix well, and pack into a greased loaf pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 1½ hours or a few minutes longer. Serve hot with tomato sauce or sliced cold.

A frozen chicken, fish, or vegetable salad is a fine main dish for a porch supper. There are thirty-two recipes for refrigerator frozen salads in Mary Meade's booklet, "Freeze the Salad." It sells for 3 cents at the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street, and Tribune Tower lobby; or it will be mailed for 5 cents in stamps.

Transfer Pattern in Cross Stitch Creates a Motto

BY NANCY CABOT.

At the earliest possible age we are taught that cleanliness is next to godliness. This dainty cross-stitch motto is designed to keep that adage foremost in the youthful mind, and to instill the thought of consideration for others. A cross-stitch wall hanging, 13½ by 16 inches, can provide a colorful picture for the bath and dressing room as well as interested embroidery for idle hands.

For the hot iron transfer pattern of the motto, No. X-594, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth avenue, New York City.

Little English schoolboys are pretty uch like American youngsters, as ou boys and girls will find out if ou come with me to see "Good-by, r. Chips."

On Thursday, July 6, fifty boys and fty girls will have an opportunity to e this film with me. Think you'd ke to come? I'll bet you would, so ere's how to go about trying for an vitation:

If you think this party will be an pecially fine treat, and really and uly would appreciate an invitation. rite a letter and tell me all about it. hat's all you have to do to be eli- ble for an invitation.

You see, from your letters I can dge which of you will really enjoy most. I have invitations for 100, nd I'll select my guests by reading our letters and choosing the writers f those which seem most enthusi- stic and sincere.

Your letter must include your name, ddress, and age, and you must write all by yourself. A note from any ne else won't fill the bill. Please on't ask for more than one invita- on. If your pal or your cousin wants o come, give him a pencil and paper nd let him try his luck, too.

I'm going to read all the mail on ext Thursday, so you'll have to be ire to post your letter in time to each me on or before that day. The ddress is just Sally Joy Brown, the hicago Tribune, Chicago.

Indispensable Jacket Outfit

JACKET DRESS FOR WOMEN.

For summer there is nothing more indispensable than a cool, dark jacket ensemble, particularly for the busy woman. If one's figure is larger than average, the jacket type of outfit is particularly flattering, since it conceals overweight rather deftly. The pattern today presents a graceful idea along these lines, and we think that you will like it.

The V neckline may be left plain or be bound in a contrasting color. There are sunburst tucks radiating from the waistline, which is slim and flattering. The paneled skirt molds the hips and flares at the hem. The sleeves of the dress may be short and puffed or be allowed to flow, depending upon whether or not you use the jacket, which has long, puffed sleeves and binding to match that used on the neckline.

Silk and cotton sheers, either plain or printed, are ideal for this costume, which you will wear simply everywhere on "dog days."

Style No. 2662 is designed for 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, and 50 inches bust measurement. Size 36 requires 3½ yards of 39 inch material, with 1⅞ yards of 39 inch for the jacket.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central station, NEW YORK CITY, inclosing 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly.

East	South	West	North
1 club	1 heart	1 spade	Pass
1 no trump	Pass	2 diamonds	Pass
2 no trump	Pass	Pass	Pass

"I bid one no trump on the second round because my club suit was too anæmic for a rebid, and I thought my no trump would show partner a spade fit and, at the same time, frighten my opponents out of a possible heart contract. This worked out as I had planned. I admit my two no trump bid was pretty bad, but this was the first time that I had played with West and I did not know whether his two diamond bid showed a biddable suit or merely control. I felt safe because I always could run to three diamonds if I were doubled.

"South opened the five of clubs. North hopped up with his ace and returned the jack of hearts. The argument centered about this return. I maintain that North's correct return was a club, for several reasons. South had led up to my original bid and, therefore, marked himself with excellent clubs; he might very well hold a K-J tenace over my queen. The only alternative was a low heart lead. With that lead I would have ducked, and South could not play his hearts for fear that I had both the king and jack in my hand.

"The question is: What card should North return after winning the first trick with the club ace?—A. G., Massachusetts."

Since my correspondent has criticized his own bidding, there is little left for me to say except to echo his sentiments. Now, as to the play: There was only one right card for North to return after winning with the club ace, and that was the deuce of hearts. South had overcalled, vulnerable, with a heart and presumably [although not actually] had considerable strength in the suit. His failure to open hearts was a virtual guarantee that he had a tenace position that he wanted North to lead to, if possible. Since North himself had four hearts and South must have a minimum of four, then it was not a fact, as my correspondent suggested, that "South could not play his hearts for fear that I [declarer] had both the king and jack." South certainly could lead out the top hearts on the hope of capturing the king, because North's deuce would show at least three hearts and, quite possibly, four. In the latter case, declarer could have only two and the king would have to drop; and in the former case, if he held the K-J-4, then there would be nothing South could do about it anyway. The return lead of the heart jack by North was very bad, inasmuch as the 10-9-8 were staring him in the face in dummy. Obviously, the defenders should have taken four heart tricks and three clubs before declarer could even take the lead.

Children Give Show; Ice Fund Receives $15.50

BY IRENE STEYSKAL.

The entire box office receipts from "The Big Night"—$15.50—have been turned over to Tribune Charities, Inc., by the young producers of the musical revue. The show, a smash hit, was given in the Belden-Stratford hotel. The contribution was among the first received this summer for the Free Ice fund.

This is the third year that Doris Perlman and her closest friend, Renée Hork, both 11 years old, have assembled an all-girl company from among their playmates to give a benefit show. Doris is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Perlman, and Renée, of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hork. Both families live at the hotel.

Star performers in "The Big Night" included Maurine Pohn, Joyce Wexler, and Barbara Norian. Betty Toras played the accompaniments and Pauline Marks was mistress of the wardrobe. The girls recruited Marvin Chirlestine and Yale Wexler as a stage crew. Fathers, mothers, and other adults who attended the show paid 25 cents for their tickets, and children were admitted for 15 cents.

Juvenile groups, giving shows and circuses and operating lemonade stands, have been loyal contributors to the Free Ice fund for the city's poor. The fund, to which TRIBUNE readers have been donating for twenty-six years, is administered by the United Charities.

In spite of the campaign that is raging against open toes and no heels, there were plenty of both seen yesterday. But they are ugly, there's no denying that. The habit of going without stockings is an unattractive one, too, except at beaches, unless the stockingless one has hairless, Marlene Dietrich legs.

And few have. It's nice to see sleek, neat hair-dos again, though, and it must feel better.

One of the largest luncheon parties at the Post and Paddock was given by Laurance H. Armour, the club president, and his charming wife, for the newly-wed Clarence Prentices. Young Larry Armour was in the party with three other young people, Diane Prosser, Brooks McCormick, and David Garraway. Among others at the table were the Lester Armours, the Farwell Winstons, Ralph Hines, the William McCormick Blairs, the Samuel J. Walkers, the Junior William B. McIlvaines, the J. Andrews Kings and the Chauncey McCormicks.

Some of the thousands of others who enjoyed the program were Mayor and Mrs. Kelly, Mrs. John F. L. Curtis and her daughter and grandson, Mrs. Henry N. Radio Station WLW Loses in Its Battle for 500,000 Watts

Washington, D. C., June 26.—[Special.]—The Crosley Radio corporation, operating station WLW at Cincinnati, today lost its battle to force the federal communications commission to restore its 500,000 watt superpower permit when the United States Court of Appeals of the District of Columbia dismissed an appeal for lack of jurisdiction.

The first station in the world to operate with 500,000 watts, which gave it an effective signal substantially throughout the country, WLW last March returned to the 50,000 watt output on orders of the FCC. WLW had operated with "special experimental authority" for superpower for nearly five years.

In the majority opinion, Chief Justice D. Lawrence Croner held that nothing in the commission's action warranted the contention of WLW that the decision was arbitrary or capricious.

A Piano Tuner of 92 Tells How to Stay on Key

Julius N. Brown says he is blessed among men. For 92 years his life has been one of absolute pitch. This might not mean much to men in ordinary pursuits other than to give them many moments of anguish when the neighborhood choir sings off-key. But to Mr. Brown it has been all-important, for he has been a piano tuner for 72 of his 92 years.

Absolute pitch is an ear so delicately and acutely attuned that it can detect the most minute discord. It is the ability to hear a musical note [A, for instance] and say, "Why, that's terribly flat. It's only 439 vibrations per second [instead of 440]." It is an inherent attribute and cannot be acquired. As Mr. Brown says, "It's a gift. Very few piano tuners have it."

Until last January, when his hearing began to fail slightly, he could tune middle A to 440 without the use of a tuning fork, and it wouldn't vary more than two vibrations. He still tunes an occasional piano for old customers of half a century's standing. They won't have any one else.

The members of the Piano Tuners Association of Illinois, young squirts of 50 or so, met in convention yesterday at the Hotel Sherman. They crowded around Granddad Brown, as they call him. Tall and trim in white suit, with a wing collar and flowing tie, he carried his head high. His white hair is worn long on the neck. He bowed with the grace of an old world cavalier when he was introduced as "the dean" of piano tuners.

"For seventy-two years," he told them, "I've been a tuner boy, and I'm still a tuner boy, although I spend most of my time in the mechanical end now.

"There's just one thing I want to say to you youngsters, though. A tuner boy must be musical. He must be ambitious. Then he must be patient enough to do good work before he announces he wants to work.

"A tuner must love music," he stressed. "He can't be a mere machine, because he can't conceive what music is unless he loves it."

Altogether he has tuned 40,000 pianos [at the rate of two a day; some days none, some days eight] in seventy-two years.

BREWERY HEIR'S DRINKING BOUTS TOLD BY NURSE

Testifies Against J. M. Bosch in Divorce Suit.

Details of the drinking habits of Joseph M. Bosch, investment banker and heir to a brewing fortune, were described yesterday at a divorce hearing before Judge Oscar F. Nelson in Superior court. The witness was Miss Mary Wheeler, who said she served in the Bosch home as nurse, housemaid, and sometimes even as barmaid.

Joseph M. Bosch.

Mrs. Elsie W. Bosch, 41 years old, 5555 Sheridan road, is the complainant. She took the stand briefly, largely to establish her claims that Bosch was cruel to her. Most of Mrs. Bosch's testimony was taken at previous hearings before a master in chancery.

In depositions before the present hearing, Bosch said his wealth totaled approximately $366,000. He said he was a partner in the firm of Case, Bosch & Co., and that much of his wealth consisted of brewing properties left him by his father, Joseph, who died in 1935. The concern is the Bosch Brewing company in Lake Linden, Mich.

Wife Contests Estimate.

Mrs. Bosch in her depositions said he was worth more than $366,000 and that a half million would be a modest estimate.

She has been receiving $450 a month for temporary alimony and support for their son, Joseph E. Bosch, 4 years old.

Miss Wheeler testified that Bosch's drinking bouts would last two or three weeks and that he then would be sober one or two weeks. She said his regular daily ration of liquor was 1½ or 2 quarts of whisky. For variety he would spice his drinks with straight alcohol, she said.

In answer to questions by Ferre Watkins, attorney for Mrs. Bosch, Miss Wheeler said he would drink approximately half a water tumbler of alcohol at a time. If measured in fingers, she said, the drinks would be "three fingers, well spread."

Often Ill, Says Nurse.

She added that Bosch would lounge in his bathrobe on these occasions, and often would be ill, but that he "would keep on till one stayed down."

In her testimony before the master in chancery, Mrs. Bosch said she feared to have guests in her home because she never could be certain of her husband's condition or appearance. She testified that he was likely to walk forth in the nude.

Mrs. Bosch's side of the story is expected to be completed today. Bosch then will take the stand, his attorney, Royal W. Irwin, said, to assert that Mrs. Bosch often joined him on sprees. Bosch is 45 years old and lives in the Stevens hotel.

Tar Case Figures

Warrenton, Va., June 26.—(AP)—Three young Virginians charged with participating in a tar-and-feathers assault upon Igor Cassini, chit-chat columnist for a Washington newspaper, waived preliminary hearing today and put up $2,500 bond pending action by the Fauquier county grand jury.

Colin Montgomery, Ian Montgomery and Alexander Calvert, members of prominent families in this northern Virginia horse and hunt country, waived hearing before Justice B. Richards Glascock. All declined later to comment on the affair.

Defense Counsel W. H. Robertson said there is a fifty-fifty chance the case will be quashed before it reaches the grand jury because of feeling against the columnist in the Warrenton neighborhood.

Cassini, who said the young men objected to recent items in his column, asserted he was beaten, threatened with emasculation and tarred and feathered by five young men after he was lured from the exclusive Warrenton Country club Saturday night during a dance.

Annenberg Quiz Expected to Be Completed by Aug. 1

William J. Campbell, United States district attorney, said yesterday the federal grand jury is expected to conclude its income tax investigation of M. L. Annenberg, wealthy publisher and New Deal critic, by the middle of July or Aug. 1. The jury yesterday began its fourth week of investigation. More than sixty witnesses have been heard.

TRUCK BUSINESS AND A KISS END 2 DIVORCE SUITS

Two Husbands Find Two Keys to Romance.

Two divorce suits were dropped yesterday and two couples were reunited because one husband gave his estranged wife a Saturday night kiss and the other turned over a trucking business.

Mrs. Opal Perrin: She's in the truck business.

Mrs. Norma Seaholm, 21 years old, 4534 North Mason avenue, appeared before Judge Philip J. Finnegan to seek temporary alimony. She had filed a divorce suit last Thursday against her husband, Carl, 23. She charged cruelty.

Mrs. Seaholm's attorney, Norman Becker, had just finished presenting the case to Judge Finnegan when Seaholm stepped up to the bench.

The Magic of a Kiss.

"I can't understand this, your honor," said the young man. "I had a date with Norma Saturday night, and kissed her. I thought she was going to drop this suit."

Becker conferred with his client.

"I think she ought to talk it over with her husband in my chambers," replied Judge Finnegan.

In a few minutes the Seaholms returned, smiling and talking about their daughter Carol, who is 1 year old. Mrs. Seaholm said she didn't want a divorce.

She's in Truck Business Now.

The other reconciliation was before Judge Robert C. O'Connell. Mrs. Opal Perrin, 30, of 112 South Western avenue, was suing her husband, Lavrent, 37. Attorney Harry X. Cole, representing Mrs. Perrin, told the court the Perrins had quarreled over Perrin's trucking business, the Perrin Brothers Motor Express.

"She wanted to modernize the business. He didn't think it was necessary," said Cole. "Now——"

"She's the boss," said Perrin. "I've got myself another job as a garage mechanic."

"Judge, I know the business so well I can even run the trucks," smiled Mrs. Perrin.

Judge O'Connell dismissed the suit. Mrs. Perrin went back to the trucking office. Perrin went back to the garage.

WIFE AND NEIGHBOR ARE FINED FOR PLOT TO KILL HER HUSBAND

Mount Carroll, Ill., June 26.—[Special.]—Mrs. Ethel Adams, a former Oak Park, Ill., school teacher, and her neighbor, John Solt, were fined today in the hayloft murder plot against the woman's husband, Charles Adams. Both pleaded guilty.

Mrs. Ethel Adams.

Mrs. Adams was fined $1,000 and costs. Solt was fined $500 and costs. He had been in the county jail since the attempt on Adams' life on May 4. Mrs. Adams had been at liberty under bond of $2,500.

The plot to slay Adams failed, it is alleged, because of the intended victim's fright. As Adams climbed up a narrow ladder to the hayloft of his barn, he was confronted by a masked man with a hammer in one hand and a rope in the other.

Adams was so surprised he fell back to the stable floor. Later he recalled that the man resembled his neighbor, Solt, a young widower of 27.

Mrs. Adams is a vivacious brunette of 38. Her husband is 54. Solt said she asked him to kill her husband.

NIGHT SLEEPERS TO BE DRIVEN OUT OF GRANT PARK

Park officials announced yesterday that Grant park will cease to be an open air summer hotel. Police arrested forty-one men Sunday night in the area between Randolph and Congress streets. Thirty-eight were dismissed on charges of disorderly conduct yesterday by Judge Joseph B. Hermes when they said they had jobs and were sleeping in the park because it was cool there. Three were fined $5.

DRUDGERY WINS INAUGURAL AT ARLINGTON

LOUIS ENDS HEAVY DRILLS FOR GALENTO BATTLE

BEATS EASY MON BY 2 LENGTHS; JOE SCHENCK 3D

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Winston Guest, who generally is classified as an exceptionally good poloist, yesterday introduced himself to Chicago's sporting public in a new rôle—an owner of thoroughbred race horses. To be more specific, the owner of the thoroughbred race horse which won Arlington Park's $5,500 Inaugural handicap.

He made the introduction by remote control for he was in Honolulu on vacation, but the details were well handled by his 5 year old brown gelding, Drudgery, which dominated the Inaugural from start to finish. Under Johnny Longden's expert handling Drudgery came home two lengths ahead of Warren Wright's Easy Mon, while Herbert M. Woolf's Joe Schenck was getting in third, another length farther back.

17,000 Attend Opening.

As Drudgery came out on the track before Arlington's opening day crowd of 17,000, Guest's chocolate, primrose and gold colors were making their first appearance on a Chicago district track. Guest purchased the horse from Mrs. Isabel Dodge Sloane during the Hialeah meeting. It is the only race horse he owns. Since Drudgery began racing for Guest, Trainer William E. Martin has sent him to the post 13 times. He has won four times and been out of the money only twice.

Fifteen horses, one of the largest fields in the history of the stake, went to the post in the Inaugural. Easy Mon was established as the 3 to 1 favorite with the field second choice at 7 to 2. This group included Flying Lil, Co-Sport, Floragina, and Court Counsel.

Drudgery was held at 9 to 1 odds, paying off at $20.00, $9.80 and $7.40. Easy Mon returned $6.20 and $4.60, Joe Schenck's show price being $7.20. The winner ran the seven furlongs in 1:23 2-5.

They Get Away Well.

Starter Roy Dickerson sent the big field away in good alignment. Breaking near the outside, Dora May rushed to the front with Lightspur beside her and Drudgery close up. As they came out of the chute, Drudgery moved up fast and took full command by the time they were half way down the back stretch. Easy Mon was running close to the rail quite a way back at this stage.

Around the turn, Drudgery increased his lead to two lengths. Easy Mon moved up fast and launched a determined challenge as the stretch run began. Here Drudgery responded well to Longden's urging and had little trouble holding his rival safe to the end. Joe Schenck, which had been outrun in the early stages, closed well in the stretch to beat Flying Lill out of third place.

The net value to the winner was $4,230.

Mutuel play was $273,264 as compared with $237,274 on opening day last year, an increase of $35,990.

In the Oak Park purse, a race at a mile for three year olds, the Woolford Farm's Unerring beat Tom Taggart's Yale O' Nine by nine lengths after leading all the way. Chief Onaway, owned by E. W. Duffy, was third. Unerring was the even money favorite.

An Outsider Comes Down.

Under threatening skies, the crowd began to gather early, many arriving for luncheon parties. By noon the tables in the Post and Paddock club, the main dining room and the cloud terrace were well filled.

Shortly before 2 o'clock horses were brought out to be saddled for

In the Wake of the News

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

NEW YORK, June 26.—As a rule, this department goes to heavyweight championship fights with an open mind and an open heart. . . . We seldom care which man wins. . . . In the Dempsey-Tunney fight we were sentimentally a Dempsey man, although outside the ring we liked one as well as the other. . . . There was something about the slashing, gambling, devil-may-care type of attack employed by Dempsey that caught our fancy. . . . When Joe Louis moved up to his championship fight with Jimmy Braddock in Comiskey park two years ago, it made no difference to us how it ended. . . . Braddock was a great fellow. . . There was something inspiring in his rise from the relief rolls to a position of affluence, his reaching back through the mists of time and producing another miracle of fists. . . . On the other hand, there was something rapturous about the remarkable flash to the heights of the sleepy eyed son of an Alabama cotton picker. . . . Only three years previous he had been one of our Chicago Golden Glovers. . . . Here he was fighting for the championship of the world. . . . We couldn't lose, no matter how the bout terminated. . . . We got a vicarious, rowdyish sort of thrill out of Louis' amazing finish of Max Schmeling. . . . We had just returned from Germany where every one was hailing Schmeling as a superfighter who soon would establish once and for all the fistic supremacy of the Nordics. . . . It made no particular difference to us how the Joe Louis-John Henry Lewis bout ended. . . . We realized the fate of the universe didn't hinge on the outcome.

Jimmy Braddock.

However, we can't say that we have the same impartial attitude toward Wednesday's match in Yankee stadium. . . . There is something more at stake than the slugging potentialities of the two fighters. . . . The result will have an influence on the youth of the nation. . . . Louis represents the fundamentals of physical training. . . . No matter what other shortcomings he may have, he remembers always he is an athlete. . . . When he steps into a ring he is in condition. . . . He has observed the rules of common sense in his athletic career. . . . You cannot say as much for Galento. . . . He has trained on alcholic drinks and has violated almost every recognized essential of sound conditioning. . . . If Galento succeeds on that routine, isn't it reasonable to assume that younger men who regard the heavyweight boxing championship as something intrinsically, culturally, and spiritually important may be tempted to follow in his footsteps?

In short—what's that? The Cubs have scored again? Swell! What's the latest on the Sox?

Shrine of Memory.

How nice it was to talk with you
And chat of other days
And catch the twinkle in your eye

How nice it was to take your hand
And hold within my own
To find that you were still the same
As I had always known.

And what a lot of fun we shared
Within that little while,
And once again I felt the charm
That lies beneath your smile.

And then you slipped away from me
Before I was aware,
Although I searched and searched
I could
Not find you anywhere.

For you had vanished with the dream
And I was left alone
Beside the shrine of memory
With joys I once had known.

IF GALENTO WINS IT'LL BE BY NECK (HIS OWN NO. 18½)

BY WILFRID SMITH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Summit, N. J., June 26.—Tony Galento's neck measures 18½ inches. He told us so this afternoon. And he's as proud of this as he is of his ability to play rhummy. Tony's card playing at 4 cents a point has brought him $41 so far, and Joe Jacobs is the loser. Tony's neck may help him win the heavyweight championship of the world.

It isn't the circumference of Galento's neck that is important. It's the fact that his head is set on his shoulders with the minimum of pivot space, something like Jim Londos' for instance, only more so. Now Joe Louis won't be using Galento's neck as a target. But according to Nate Lewis, whose reminiscences date back almost to the battle between Cain and Abel, the shorter the neck the less the shock after a punch to the button.

He Sheds Those Punches.

"I've seen Galento take a punch flush on the chin and recover in less than two seconds," Nate said today as he discussed the heavyweight bout Wednesday night. "Lorenzo Pack, who throws a mighty hard right hand, caught Tony on the jaw. Tony staggered momentarily and came back immediately. Galento can't be hurt easily.

"And I'll predict that Louis will be in danger all the time," Nate continued. "Tony is a rough, tough fighter. He's vicious. He has an excellent chance to win because he is not afraid and he will fight Louis as he hasn't been fought in five years."

Don't Sell Tony Short!

"Louis can't stand up under punishment. That's the other reason why I think Galento has a chance to become heavyweight champion. The public saw Joe knocked out by Max Schmeling. I've seen him dropped in the gymnasium with twelve ounce gloves.

"Luther McCarthy was generally recognized as about the best heavyweight of his time and when he was matched to fight Arthur Pelky, conceded to be a great puncher, the odds were 25 to 1 against Pelky. McCarthy outclassed Pelky, but Pelky landed a wallop in the first round and McCarthy was counted out."

Tony Has Three Cheer Leaders.

Lewis has come to Galento's camp in an advisory capacity. He will assist Joe Jacobs in his pep talks. The slow speaking, deliberate, and convincing Lewis is foil for the dynamic Jacobs. Their enthusiasm equals that of Harry Mendel, the 6-day bicycle impresario, who already has set

5 Americans Win Matches in Wimbledon Tennis Tourney

Wimbledon, England, June 26.—(AP)—That old American terror spread over Wimbledon's trim green courts today as Bobby Riggs, Don McNeill, and Elwood Cooke dominated the first round of the all-England tennis tournament before the queen mother and a crowd of 12,000.

Bobby Riggs.

The Americans, losing only one of their six man team, started this tournament in the doghouse but by nightfall they were ready to move into the royal box. Only Bill Robertson of California fell by the wayside as Gene Smith of Berkeley, Cal., and Owen Anderson of Los Angeles joined the big three in the second round. Of the five only Cooke was carried to more than three sets.

Riggs Can Be Aggressive.

For the first time since he arrived in this part of the world, Riggs deserted the baseline and showed that he can really play aggressive tennis if he so desires. The 21 year old Chicagoan defeated a good player from India, J. Dhamija, 6-3, 6-0, 6-4 without removing his sweater.

If possible McNeill was even better. He simply wiped portly K. Aschner of Great Britain off the court and lost only two games in winning 6-1, 6-1, 6-0.

Cooke proved that even if there's no American genius in this tournament, there's still a lot of American courage. When the Portland, Ore., youth arrived on the center court for the first time in his life there was Queen Mary sitting in the royal box, leaning on her victorian parasol, and chatting to home Secretary Sir Samuel Hoare.

Boussus Starts Quickly.

Across the net was Christian Boussus, familiar with the atmosphere of Wimbledon, and an inspired Boussus at that. The left handed Frenchman simply whistled line drives past young Cooke and quickly won five straight games. But once Cooke forgot about the atmosphere and got away from the baseline he chased the wilting Boussus all over the court, winning 1-6, 6-4, 6-0, 6-3.

Anderson took care of M. E. Lucking of Great Britain, 7-5, 6-1, 7-5, and Smith, who like Cooke overcame a shaky start, beat Ed Andrews of New Zealand, 6-2, 6-3, 6-4. Robertson, who couldn't keep his feet on the sticky turf, lost to Otto Szigeti of Hungary, 12-10, 6-4, 6-4.

Austin Has a Struggle.

One reason for America's stock standing so high tonight was that the favorite, England's H. W. [Bunny] Austin, took two hours to beat Hungary's young star, Joseph Asboth, 6-1, 6-4, 12-10.

Nobody blamed Austin for having trouble with Asboth, for he is a capable player. The trouble with Austin was that he couldn't hold his own service.

Women Play Today.

PAYCHECK DEALT 10 ROUND BEATING BY STRICKLAND

BY FRANK MASTRO.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Des Moines, Ia., June 26—Maurice Strickland, heavyweight from New Zealand, won a newspaper decision over Johnny Paycheck, former Chicago Golden Gloves champion, in a ten round bout in League park tonight. The verdict was not unanimous, two of the sixteen votes taken in the ringside poll naming Paycheck the winner and two scoring the bout a draw.

It was Paycheck's first defeat in 24 bouts covering three years. Paycheck came back strong after suffering two knockdowns and many in the assemblage, among them Benny Leonard, former lightweight champion, believed he deserved at least a draw. Promoter Pinkie George indicated he would arrange a rematch.

12,500 See Battle.

An overflow crowd of 12,500 paid $17,350 to see the bout. It is a record gate for Iowa.

They battled on even terms in the first round, but Paycheck found the range in the second with a series of head blows which stung Strickland and continued to attack in the next round, landing several left hooks to the face.

In the fifth Strickland drove his right to Paycheck's chin and the blow sent John spinning to the canvas for a nine count. Paycheck returned to his corner in a daze, but was revived between rounds and held his own in the sixth.

Shortly after the seventh opened Strickland dropped Johnny for a nine count with a left hook to the chin.

Comiskey Scores Knockout.

Edward Patrick Comiskey, Paterson, N. J., heavyweight, knocked out Clem Dawson of Barberton, O., in the first round of the six round semi-final, and Chet Jones, Dallas, Ia., welterweight, pounded out a decision in six rounds over Art Katos.

THREE ENTRANTS TIE FOR LEAD IN COLLEGIATE GOLF

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Des Moines, Ia., June 26.—Rus Vifquain, a tow headed student from Iowa State college, plays golf as well in the dark as he does in daylight. At 8:20 o'clock this evening, he came up out of the blackness of the Wakonda Country club, without the benefit of any illumination other than a brilliant 72 on his score card.

That 72 enabled young Vifquain, 21 years old, son of Iowa State's personnel director, to tie for the lead at the end of the first half of the qualifying round of the 42nd National Intercollegiate golf tournament. It also projected Vifquain and his Iowa State associates into the team lead with a foursome total of 301.

Ties Two Southerners.

Tied with Rus were the only other par shooters in the field of 181 players from forty-seven universities and colleges. They were two southern gentlemen, bespectacled Lewis Oehmig, of the University of Virginia, and handsome Vincent D'Antoni of Tulane. Oehmig, a first year law student at Virginia, is 23 years old and hails from Chattanooga, Tenn., while the 21 year old D'Antoni is a New Orleans native who plans to pursue further studies in the Harvard Business school come September. Both have been semi finalists in the tournament, Lew last year and Vince in 1937.

The after dark performance of Vifquain was a truly remarkable one. Around the turn in 39, three over par, he was not even considered a possible leader. At any rate, he went one over par at the tenth and then knocked down four pars and four birdies, the last two on the seventeenth and eighteenth holes. Because of the big field, six of the contestants including Tom Sheehan, captain of the Notre Dame team, were unable to finish, and will have to play out their matches tomorrow, as well as get in the final half of the qualifying round.

Qualify 64 Players.

The low 64 scorers for these 36 holes of medal play will enter the match bracket. Double rounds will be played Wednesday and Thursday, leaving the four semi-finalists, who will go 36 holes on Friday. Saturday's championship match also will be 36 holes. The qualifying field was doubled because of the large entry in the tournament which this year is being conducted by the National Collegiate Athletic association for the first time. In addition to determining the qualifiers for the individual battle, the qualifying round will decide the team championship.

Iowa State's leading quartet includes Vifquain, 72; Tom Hoak, 74; Billy Hall, 77, and Walt Neumann, 78. Northwestern, Western conference winner two of the last three years and tied for second in the 1938 national, is four strokes behind with 305. Stanford, the defending champion, and Yale are next with 309, followed by Princeton with 310 and Duke with 311.

Five Tie for Second.

The fight for the individual medal easily may be as snug as last year when Oehmig and Willie Turnesa tied with 145s. Only a stroke back of the three leaders is a fivesome of 73 scorers, headed by Sid Richardson of Northwestern, former western junior and Big Ten champion in 1937 and 1938. It includes John David, Purdue captain and Indiana college title holder; Warren Tansey and Stanley Kowal of Michigan State, and Marvin Mesch of Oklahoma, Oklahoma State amateur champion.

Tomhoak of Iowa State, Dean Ritchie of Kansas, and H. R. Merritt of Yale all had 74s, followed by a number of 75s, including John Burke of Georgetown, defending the individual title. Leading scores:

Popular Song 687.

It's little we want as we wander along;
The flash of a smile, the sweet strain of a song,
The touch of the hand that goes straight to the heart
Proclaiming, "I love thee whatever thou art!"
It's little we lack if the faces we find
On life's stony pathway are smiling and kind.

CHORUS.

Give me a little white cottage down South—
That's where I'd be;
Give me the touch of your hands and your mouth,
O, tenderly!
Give me the pale purple light of the eve
After the cares of the busy day leave,
There with you constantly how could I grieve?
That's heaven for me.

—T. E. B.

BREWERS RALLY FOR 5 RUNS TO WHIP CUBS, 7-6

Milwaukee, Wis., June 26.—[Special.]—In a battle of extra base hits, Milwaukee's hustling Brewers of the American Association defeated the Chicago Cubs, No. 4 occupant of the National league, 7 to 6, in an exhibition game today before 6,500.

The Cubs, making their first appearance in Borchert field, had things pretty much their own way until the sixth inning. At that point the Brewers, managed by Mickey Heath, whose salary is being paid by the Cubs, moved ahead for good with a five run blast. Gordon Foth's home run with two on climaxed the Milwaukee rally.

Move to St. Louis.

The Cubs returned to Chicago after the game and hied to the Union station, where they took a train for St. Louis. They will open a three game series against the second place Cardinals tomorrow afternoon, with Ol' Man Whitehill going after his fifth victory.

The Cubs have won three games of the five they have played with the Cards thus far this season. The games they didn't win were shutouts at the hands of that splendid former Cub, Lon Warneke, who is scheduled to oppose Whitehill.

Dean to Start Series.

According to dispatches from St. Louis, Vice President Charles A. Weber of the Cubs has sent assurances to President Sam Breadon of the Cardinals that Dizzy Dean will start in the St. Louis series.

Parker Wins Clay Courts Title in 4 Sets

Frank Parker of Pasadena, Cal., won the 29th annual national clay court singles tennis championship at the River Forest Tennis club yesterday. He defeated Gardner Mulloy of Miami, Fla., in a four set match, 6-3, 6-0, 5-7, 6-1.

It was the fourth consecutive tournament victory for the former Milwaukee youngster, and strengthened his chances for a berth on the United States Davis Cup squad. Before competing in the clay court meet, he won titles in California, Kansas City, and St. Louis.

It also was the second clay court title for Parker, who captured it in 1933. He is 23 years old and was a member of the Davis Cup team two years ago, winning the deciding match.

Parker had complete command in his match with Mulloy, and the only close battle came in the third set. Parker was leading five games to one, and was two points away from winning the set and match when Mulloy rallied to win six straight games.

Parker teamed with Gene Mako of Los Angeles to win the doubles title. They won a four set match from Johnny Doeg of Newark, N. J., and Wayne Sabin of Portland, Ore., 6-3, 3-6, 6-3, 6-4.

Sox Home to Open Browns' Series Today

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

The White Sox are back on their own acres today, but only for a brief visit. They are scheduled for three games with the Browns, who for the moment are basking in the glory of an outstanding achievement — they finally won a decision last Sunday over the Yankees. After these three battles, the Sox resume traveling for series at Detroit and St. Louis, but they will be back July 5 for a long stay.

Part of today's program will be the appearance of the 38 year old Ted Lyons, who at this late stage in his career is nursing an impressive winning streak. Ted will tackle the Browns in hopes of frisking them for his eighth straight triumph and if successful, will feel a bit better about what happened at Comiskey park last April 22. The Browns whipped him that day in his first start of the year. He wasn't exactly bad that afternoon, but Buck Newsom, now of the Tigers, was better. Since then Lyons has completed and won seven starts.

His opponent will be John Whitehead, the gay gourmand, who recently was traded down the river by the Sox.

Sixteen Years Sunday.

The success of the veteran who eight years ago was thought to be headed for the discard because of a bad arm, includes decisions over four of the rival clubs. He began the string May 2 by beating the Athletes, 4 to 1. On May 11 it was Boston's Red Sox, 3 to 2. Washington succumbed May 21, 3 to 2 in 10 innings. He gave the Tigers a shearing, 6 to 2, on May 30. The A's succumbed again, 14 to 9, on June 4. He repeated on Boston June 11, 7 to 5. The A's joined up for the third time June 18, 6 to 5.

Next Sunday at Detroit the boys may have to throw a party for Lyons, possibly presenting him with an autographed ball. The date will mark the sixteenth anniversary of the day he joined the Sox at St. Louis, fresh from Baylor university. If Lyons feels like celebrating, Dykes might agree to let him pitch against Detroit.

Sore Arms Disappear.

When the Sox went away two weeks ago more than a few of the pitching members were singing the sore arm blues, but all these miseries, imaginary or otherwise, appear to have vanished. Lefty Lee, Eddie Smith, John Rigney, Clint Brown, and even Jack Knott joined in the lugubrious chorus and for a time Manager Dykes admitted the tune annoyed him, not only because it added to his worries, but because he believed the invalids were exaggerating their complaints. Anyway there are no more sore arms and the manager is hoping the condition remains unchanged for at least another week during which there will be two double-headers.

Heileman and Sherman Sign Bear Contracts

BY GEORGE STRICKLER.

Three outstanding football players developed in the central states in the last three seasons congregated in Chicago yesterday to sign professional contracts. Solly Sherman, University of Chicago quarter back, and Charles Heileman, Iowa State end, joined the Bears, and Paul Kell came up from Notre Dame to meet Coach Curley Lambeau of the Green Bay Packers and accept terms. All had been drafted.

Of the three, Sherman and Kell are the best known to football fans in this section, but out in Iowa, where Heileman caught thirty-seven passes last year, the former Fort Dodge High school star is regarded as the finest wingman sent to the National league since Gaynell Tinsley came up from Louisiana State to join the Cardinals.

Sherman, six feet, 1 inch and 190 pounds, is a Chicago boy. He attended John Marshall High school before entering the University of Chicago and makes his home with his parents on the west side. He comes highly recommended by Coach Clark Shaughnessy of Chicago and all Maroon opponents during the last three seasons. Coach George Halas suspects, and Shaughnessy agrees, that conditions under which Sherman was forced to compete on the midway prevented him from proving just how good a football player he is.

Heileman, on whom Halas depends for a solution to the end problem caused by the retirement of Bill Karr, was the leading pass receiver in the central states last year and ranked second in the nation. He caught three of Patterson's passes in the East-West game at San Francisco and kicked one of the extra points. Among his 37 receptions were ten made in approximately five minutes against Kansas State. Two of the ten went for touchdowns and enabled Iowa State to tie the Kansans, 13 to 13. Heileman, like Kell and Sherman, is robust. He stands six feet, ½ inch and weighs 197 pounds.

Louis Closes Heavy Drill for Galento Bout

is the greatest fighter the game has known. I don't care what the people say about Galento. Joe has got to figure him tough until he whips him."

Doesn't Ask for Quick Knockout.

Blackburn, whose development of Sammy Mandell and Bud Taylor answers any question of his knowledge of ring science, isn't especially anxious for a quick knockout. He doesn't think Louis' one round victories over Schmeling, Lewis, and Roper improved him as a workman.

"You don't learn much in them one round fights," Blackburn explained. "Joe may be forgetting every thing he knows by putting away his opponents too quickly. Fighting is just like any other line of work. If a job becomes too easy, a fellow's inclined to grow careless. I hope this one will be longer and tougher."

It's 6 to 1 Against Galento.

Jack Doyle, Broadway commissioner, today was quoting 6 to 1 against Galento. It was even money that Tony would not come up for the sixth round and 5 to 1 that he wouldn't respond for the fifteenth.

Tickets are priced at the usual championship scale, $27.50, $16.50, $11.50, $5.75, and $3.50. Twenty thousand general admission tickets at $2, including tax, will be placed on sale at the stadium at 6 o'clock Wednesday night.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 26.—(AP)—Ray Mangrum, Pittsburgh, today won the Pennsylvania open golf championship, turning in a 36 hole score of 72—67—139 for the one day tourney. Mangrum slashed five strokes off par 72 his second round at the Llanerch Country club to beat Jimmy Thomson, Shawnee; Charlie Schneider, Concord, and Matt Kowal, Philmont, who tied for second at 140.

RAILWAYS FLOUT FEDERAL PLAN FOR EQUIPMENT

Fear Government Control in Leasing Scheme.

New York, June 26.—[Special.]—Leading railroad officials were reported today as having little enthusiasm for that part of President Roosevelt's newest recovery program which provides for the government to finance building and leasing of locomotives and passenger and freight cars to the carriers.

Fear that the program might be another step in the direction of government control or ownership of the railroads was given as one of the reasons the carriers are opposed to the leasing idea. They were said to realize that the government would exercise even greater control over the rolling stock than it does now through the operation of the interstate commerce commission.

Deny Needing Equipment.

Moreover, spokesmen for the railroads declare that they do not need new equipment at the present time, particularly with the volume of trafic at such a low level. Leasing of locomotives and cars from the government would mean not only extra charges, but also writing off other pieces of equipment which would be replaced, officials contended. They asserted that they are not in position to do this at the present time.

The railroad leaders pointed to the easy terms offered by equipment companies, the commercial banks, and the investment bankers as evidence that they can purchase rolling stock without difficulty.

Can Sell Equipment Votes.

Almost any railroad, it was pointed out, can sell equipment trust certificates on an attractive basis in the present market. In fact, it was contended if the maturity is only a few months' distant, the road might be able to sell as low as 1½ per cent, or probably less.

Those in close touch with the railroads do not agree with the views of administration leaders that the government, by leasing the equipment to the carriers, occupies a premier position in the event the road goes into receivership. They point to court decisions in the last year which held that equipment trust certificates payments were not to be disturbed by the trustee during the financial difficulties of the road.

SHORT, LONG POSITIONS.

Investors' Guide: In a recent issue of a daily paper there appeared an article saying that "U. S. Rubber and Chysler Short Interest Shows Gains." I would indeed be thankful to you if you would give me an explanation of the term, short interest, or short position, in a stock. Is there a long interest, or long position, too?

H. M. B.

Answer: An investor who first sells a stock, bond or commodity and then buys to cover his sale is known as a "short." He is said to be in a "short" or "minus" position, or to have a "short" or "minus" interest in a security.

A "long," on the other hand, is one who buys a stock, bond or commodity outright, holds it for a time, and later sells it. He is described as having a "long" position or interest in the security or commodity.

A "short" can sell something he doesn't own because he is simply guaranteeing to make delivery to the purchaser at some future date. He believes prices will decline and that if he sells now, with the promise to make delivery later, he will be able to buy what he promised to deliver at a lower price than that at which he sold. This difference accounts for a "short's" profit.

Frequently a "short" borrows the stock in order to make quick delivery to the purchaser. The "short" later buys the stock in the open market and returns it to the person from whom he has borrowed it. The difference between what a "long" paid for his security or commodity and the price at which he sells represents his profit.

The articles you read referred to the collective or aggregate "short" interest of numerous investors over a certain period in the stocks mentioned.

AIR CONDITIONING PROPOSAL.

Investors' Guide: Can you tell me the purpose of the meeting being called for debenture holders of the Hotel Waldorf-Astoria corporation June 30? Have the corporation's earnings for the latest quarter been reported?—R. C.

Answer: The meeting called June 30 by the Hotel Waldorf-Astoria corporation for holders of its 5 per cent sinking fund debentures is for the purpose of approving modification of present restrictions upon the deferment of interest and sinking fund payments. This proposal is in connection with a plan to finance from earnings an air conditioning program at an estimated cost of $382,000.

ENATE TO HEAR F HOMESTEAD LAN IN INDIANA

Frank L. Hoess. one of four Hamond, Ind., brothers who devised a w cost homestead and housing plan fit the average working man's all income, is going to tell about before a United States senate committee.

Hoess was subpenaed yesterday to pear in Washington, D. C., on July . The subpena was sent by Sena- Joseph C. O'Mahoney [D., Wyo.], airman of the temporary national onomic committee. This committe is considering amendments to the 37 housing act. The Hoess plan s been suggested as the basis for a tional program.

Fit Homes to Incomes.

A year ago the Hoess brothers—ank, William, Joseph, and John—arted to subdivide a forty acre hite elephant into dividend paying ngle acre homesteads.

To do that they built homes for a arket. They sized up the average eel and refinery laborers with an onomic yardstick. The average rned from $25 to $30 a week. He d no savings, no assurance that yoffs would not curtail his income.

But the Hoess brothers decided to ild homes that steel and oil men uld buy—neat five room structures an acre of land for $1,600 to $2,500. They financed the project themlves, building the homes to order to architectural design and price. ey had no outside help. They asked payment of 10 per cent down, $25 a onth, with 6 per cent interest amorzed. Today thirty-six of the forty omestead sites are occupied and rning dividends.

Senate Told of Plan.

What the Hoess brothers achieved as brought to the attention of his lleagues by Senator George Norris nd., Neb.]. He remarked in the nate chamber:

"The trouble with the homes hich have been built or those which ill be built under the present fedal program, is that they probably st too much. The idea is to build home for as little money as posble. If it is possible we should exnd assistance to the laboring men nd the poorer classes who do not ow own homes, but desire to own em."

Senator Norris recommended that ne housing authority consider the erits of the Hoess venture.

"The government could better afrd to do that than a private inividual, who might be pushed by nancial interests to crowd the buyrs, or to foreclose on them," Norris aid.

The Hoess homes were built to fit ne small income of the working an. They have two bedrooms, a ving room, kitchen, and small bathoom, a chemical toilet, and attic. here are no fixtures, but they are ired for electricity.

Hold Down Initial Cost.

These basic structures, as the Hoess rothers call them, hold the initial ost down. The buyer can do his wn painting, decorating, plumbing, nd fixture installation.

Plenty of space for gardening enbles each family to raise enough egetables and poultry to cut down rocery bills and contribute to intalment payments.

As secretary of the Hammond Taxayers' association, Frank Hoess is pposed to a four million dollar slum learance program in Hammond and Gary.

He said that erection of tenement partment buildings to house families ow living in tarpaper shacks would e creating a slum problem instead f removing it.

"Those lower income families could ever afford tenement apartments," he continued. "In Lake county we ave plenty of suburban land for development. Why not give the working man a chance to own his own home on easy payments that would e equal to rent money?"

Bus Service to Factories.

The Hoess venture in Lake county s on Burr road between Hammond and Gary. Bus service provides transportation of workers to and from the factories.

Each home is attractively painted and decorated. Window boxes have been erected, flower gardens developed, trees planted, and garages have been added. All these improvements have been done by the buyers in their spare time.

Hoess recommends his plan for a national program. He suggests a three point program: [1] Financing by private capital as under FHA; [2] small aid by the federal government, such as providing a payment in return for a second mortgage; [3] building small homes with space and ground instead of big tenement buildings.

State to Shun Death Tax on Nonresidents

Atty. Gen. Cassidy.

Illinois is included among those states whose statutes provide that there shall be no inheritance or death taxes on the intangible personal property held in this state for nonresidents of the state, John E. Cassidy, attorney general, yesterday notified the Corporate Fiduciaries Association of Chicago. The association is composed of the trust departments of the downtown banks, with outlying banks as associate members.

Cassidy's statement was held to be of great importance by the Chicago banks because if Illinois statutes had held that intangibles of nonresidents were subject to a death tax, more than a half billion dollars of business might easily have been lost to the city. In addition the Chicago Stock exchange and the Chicago brokers and investment houses might have lost the business of supplying securities for estates.

Recent Decision Cited.

The United States Supreme court held recently that states could levy death taxes on trust funds set up within their confines for the benefit of persons resident in other states, thereby creating double taxation, since the trust funds were subject to death taxes in the states in which the persons were resident.

New York and other states were quick to notify the public that their statutes prevented such double taxation, thereby safeguarding huge estate business of banks and trust companies.

Cassidy quoted the Illinois statutes which not only exempt intangibles in estates and trusts of nonresidents from inheritance taxes but also exempt bank accounts and intangibles held in safety deposit boxes.

Statement Held Important.

"The importance of the official statement by Mr. Cassidy as to the nontaxibility of such trusts, interests and intangible property of nonresident decedents is evidenced by the fact that members of our association have personal knowledge of trusts and securities of nonresidents in excess of $200,000,000," the association said after receipt of Cassidy's letter.

"If securities in safe deposit boxes and in the hands of individuals, brokers and financial institutions were taken into consideration, the total amount involved would easily exceed five hundred million dollars.

"The value of this business is reflected in the earnings of various institutions and individuals, in the employment of people to conduct this business and in sundry other intangible benefits to the people of this state.

Tell Investment Problem.

"Chicago and Illinois trustees, individual and corporate, are naturally familiar with midwestern investments and much of the capital in question is available for local investment. Its removal from this state would have made such enterprise more dependent for its financial support on the already over-centralized east.

"Also involved are individuals who built up their capital in local enterprise while residing in Illinois, but who have subsequently retired to states such as Florida and California. With this ruling by the attorney general such persons can be assured that their estates will not be subjected to a double death rate."

Half a Billion Involved.

The association pointed out that the Chicago Stock exchange's drive for more business would have been seriously affected by the removal of more than a half billion dollars in investments from this trading area.

"The desirability of this business," the statement continued, "is reflected in the concern shown by the trust companies in the eastern metropolitan centers. New York trust companies, by their advertisments and by personal letters, have been assuring nonresidents of that state that their estates will not be subject to inheritance or death taxes in New York."

ST. LOUIS FIRM GIVES VACATIONS ON DOUBLE PAY, PROFIT SHARING

St. Louis, Mo., June 26.—(AP)—Employés of the Welsh company, manufacturer of baby carriages and infants' furniture, will receive vacations with double pay and participate equally with stockholders in dividends up to 10 per cent declared on common stock under a new profit sharing plan.

A. D. Walsh, president, said today the 193 employés of the company would receive approximately $30,000.

Employés with the company five years or longer will be given two weeks' vacations with pay and extra pay for an additional 16 days. Those employed from one to five years will receive one week's vacation with pay and extra pay for eight days.

The plan is similar to one recommended recently in a senate report by Senator Vandenberg [R., Mich.].

TIE UP $413,325 OF ALLEGHANY FIRM'S ASSETS

New York, June 26.—(AP)—The Alleghany corporation, top holding company in the former Van Sweringen rail system, was restrained in a court order today from disposing of free assets of $413,325 except for payment of $10,000 monthly in expenses.

Federal Judge Vincent L. Leibell issued a limited temporary injunction pending trial of a suit by trustees under two Alleghany bond issues to determine whether the assets should be posted as collateral for the obligations, totaling nearly $45,000,000.

The trustees—the Midland Trust company and the Continental Bank and Trust company of New York—maintain Alleghany is bound under the trust indentures to keep behind the bonds collateral in the ratio of 150 per cent of the face value of the issues. On May 1, the banks said, the collateral posted was valued at $27,633,792.

HOUSE, SENATE CAN'T AGREE ON TVA BOND ISSUE

Washington, D. C., June 26.—(AP)—Efforts to reconcile differences in house and senate legislation authorizing a bond issue by the Tennessee Valley Authority collapsed today.

Senator Norris [Ind., Neb.], chairman of the senate conferees, announced after a meeting with house conferees this afternoon that there was no possibility of agreement "and there will be no further conference."

Fate of the $78,600,000 contract for the purchase of Tennessee Electric Power company properties hinges on passage of some proposal by Friday, the deadline for consummating the deal.

Speaker Bankhead [D., Ala.] of the house indicated one final effort might be made to get consideration of the bond issue proposal pending in the house as a senate "rider" to the $45,000,000,000 government debt limitation bill.

Treasury Tells Banks' Federal Bond Holdings

Washington, D. C., June 26.—(AP)—The treasury disclosed today that member banks of the federal reserve system owned 52 per cent of the available securities which have been issued by federal corporations and guaranteed by the treasury.

At the end of March, the treasury said, such bonds in the amount of $5,409,000,000 were outstanding, of which a total of $5,087,000,000 was in the private market. Of the latter figure, the banks owned $2,660,000,000.

At the same time the treasury's direct debt was $39,985,000,000, and $29,545,000,000 of this was in the private market, the rest being in government trust accounts.

36 Per Cent Held by Banks.

Of the total in the private market, 36 per cent, or $10,691,000,000, was held by banks.

Officials said these figures did not necessarily indicate the banks preferred the guaranteed to the direct securities. They pointed to the difference in the sizes of the issues.

However, they said the banks may have been attracted to the guaranteed securities because of the fact, that at least formerly, they bore slightly higher interest rates than direct treasury obligations. The treasury, in a recent financing, has tried to narrow the margin, however.

More May Be Issued.

Some $3,000,000,000 of new guaranteed securities may be offered under President Roosevelt's new lending program.

The treasury report also showed that existing lending agencies lent $812,577,825 in the first ten months of the current fiscal year, and received $746,624,716 repayments on old loans.

The Reconstruction Finance corporation, the largest of the lending agencies, lent $349,179,143 and received $354,155,000 repayments.

FHA INSURANCE FOR HOME REPAIR LOANS EXTENDED

Washington, D. C., June 26.—(AP)—The Federal Housing administration notified banks today of the extension for two years of its offer to insure modernization and repair loans to home owners.

The extension, recently voted by congress, decreases the maximum amount of insured modernization loans from $10,000 to $2,500.

Since 1934 $827,005,411 of such loans have been insured.

Treasury Sells Discount Bills to Yield 0.005 Pct.

Washington, D. C., June 26.—[Special.]—The treasury sold its weekly issue of 91 day bills at an average price of 99.999 or, in terms of interest, at approximately 0.005 per cent, against 0.003 per cent last week, Secretary Morgenthau announced today. Bids aggregating $236,069,000 were received for the offering of $100,000,000, and the total accepted was $100,109,000.

WORLD C. OF C. TOLD CIVILIZATION CANNOT STAND ANOTHER WAR

Thomas J. Watson.

COPENHAGEN, June 26.—(AP)—Thomas J. Watson of New York, retiring president of the International Chamber of Commerce, declared today "we must not have another war for it will mean the destruction of civilization as we understand it today."

Watson addressed the tenth congress of the chamber in the presence of King Christian of Denmark. He said he would propose that the six or seven leading countries of the world each appoint a committee of economic experts to work with representatives of government and business in a study of the economics of their countries from the standpoint of national needs.

Such a committee, Watson said, subsequently would appoint a second committee in collaboration with the International Chamber of Commerce to work out plans for adjustment which would give all countries an opportunity to share the world's resources on a fair basis.

NEW ELEVATORS TO RISE ON SITE OF RECENT FIRE

Grain elevators having the most modern safety features will be erected at 102d street and the Calumet river, scene of the elevator fire and explosion which last month claimed nine lives and destroyed $4,000,000 of property, it was announced yesterday.

Officials of Rosenbaum Brothers, grain firm which leased elevators owned by the Chesapeake & Ohio railway, said the railroad will begin construction at once of facilities costing nearly $1,000,000 to replace destroyed elevators. The John S. Metcalf company of Chicago, elevator engineering firm, is handling the project.

The elevators will be built of steel and concrete, with thirty-six circular tanks, each 110 feet tall, and with a combined storage capacity of 2,800,000 bushels. An elaborate dust collection system has been designed in an effort to eliminate the hazards of dust explosions. Mechanical features include facilities for the automatic dumping of railroad freight cars loaded with grain.

250 MILLIONS OF SECURITIES NEAR MARKET

Today's Offerings Top 32 Million.

Nearly a quarter of a billion dollars of new securities, representing the most diversified list of issues available to investors in many months, will be placed on the market soon, according to plans announced yesterday. Three issues, totaling more than 32 million dollars, will be offered the public today, and the others when registration under the securities act becomes effective.

Issues to be offered today include $25,000,000 of bonds of the Bethlehem Steel corporation, the nation's second largest steel producer; nearly $3,400,000 of capital stock of the Brown & Sharpe Manufacturing company, producer of machine and precision tools, and $4,000,000 of preferred stock of the American Investment Company of Illinois, which operates a small loan business.

Bethlehem Bonds Are 3¼s.

The Bethlehem Steel bonds will bear 3¼ per cent coupons and will mature July 1, 1939. They will be offered at 99 and accrued interest by a list of underwriters headed by Kuhn, Loeb & Co., Smith, Barney & Co., and the Mellon Securities corporation.

Proceeds will be paid by the corporation to the Bethlehem Steel company [Pa.], wholly owned subsidiary. Of the amount to be paid $21,400,000 will be used to replace in part the amount by which the company's working capital has been reduced in connection with bond retirements.

The Brown and Sharpe offering, representing initial public financing on the part of this old New England company, consists of 34,000 shares, which are being offered at $99.50 a share by the Lee Higginson corporation. The stock has been purchased from shareholders, principally members of the Henry D. Sharpe family.

$6 Dividends Being Paid.

The company's only capitalization consists of 138,620 shares of stock, on which dividends of $6 a share are being paid.

The American Investment issue will consist of 80,000 shares of 5 per cent cumulative convertible preferred stock, $50 par, which will be offered at $50 a share.

Stock not subscribed will be offered by a banking group headed by Alex, Brown & Sons. The company is offering its common stockholders rights to subscribe at $50 per share for a maximum of 16,000 shares of the preferred stock at the rate of 0.25542 of one share of preferred for each share of common.

An expected offering of $85,000,000 of Shell Union Oil corporation bonds is the largest of those scheduled to be made within the near future. The bonds, to be issued for refunding purposes, will carry a 2½ per cent interest rate, the lowest in the company's history. The company is expected to file a registration statement with the Securities and Exchange commission this week.

Other Issues Scheduled.

Other issues scheduled for early offering are:

Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph company, $25,000,000 of forty year 3 per cent bonds, proceeds of which will be used to redeem obligations to the parent company, American Telephone and Telegraph company.

Washington Water Power company, $22,000,000 of first mortgage 3½ per cent bonds.

New York State Electric and Gas corporation, $13,000,000 of first mortgage 3¾ per cent bonds and $6,000,000 of 5½ per cent cumulative preferred stock.

May Imports Are Largest in 17 Months

The United States imported $202,502,000 worth of goods from foreign nations in May—the largest amount in seventeen months—the department of commerce disclosed yesterday in its monthly report on foreign trade. The gain in imports was attributed to increases in raw materials brought into the country to meet the needs of industry, which has been moving at a livelier pace.

American imports in May, 1938, totaled $148,248,000 and in April, 1939, the total was $186,195,000.

Exports from the United States totaled $249,259,000, compared with $257,276,000 in May, 1938, and $230,947,000 in April. Materials sent to nations that are re-arming bulked large in the exports.

Imports Rise, Exports Fall.

For the first five months of this year imports totaled $915,479,000, compared with $815,085,000 in the like 1938 period. Exports totaled $1,179,369,000, compared with $1,358,062,000 in the like 1938 period.

The larger amount of goods sent abroad than was imported enabled the nation to continue its excess over imports, for May exports exceeded imports by $46,757,000 and for the first five months exports exceeded imports by $263,890,000.

Gold, which is treated separately in the report, continued to pour into the United States from the disturbed nations abroad. Gold imports in May totaled $429,440,000, compared with $52,987,000 in May, 1938, and for the first five months they totaled $1,780,697,000, compared with $192,536,000 in the like 1938 period. Gold exports totaled $36,000 in May, compared with $212,000 in May, 1938, and exports for the first five months were $416,000, compared with $5,618,000.

Silver Imports Decline.

Silver imports in May totaled $6,152,000, compared with $17,952,000 in May, 1938, and for the first five months they were $40,757,000, compared with $92,346,000. Silver exports for May were $611,000 compared with $317,000, and for the first five months they were $8,312,000, compared with $1,345,000.

Included in the raw materials which were imported to serve American industry were crude rubber, tin, woodpulp, newsprint, and coffee.

American exports in May showed gains in the following divisions: aircrafts, rubber manufactures, metal working machinery, textile manufactures, meat products and certain chemicals. Most of these items were sent to meet the demands of rearming nations.

Exports of gasoline, automobiles and copper and steel products, which had lagged in the first part of the year, expanded in May.

Fewer Farm Products Exports.

Farm products did not fare so well. American wheat exports in May totaled 10,672,000 bushels, compared with 11,043,000 bushels in May, 1938, and the totals for the first five months of 1939 and 1938 were 44,034,000 and 43,268,000 bushels, respectively. Imports were negligible.

Corn exports totaled only 1,175,000 in May, compared with 25,408,000 bushels in May, 1938, and exports for the first five months were 16,449,000 bushels, compared with 84,271,000 bushels.

There were 82,629,000 pounds of raw cotton exported in May, compared with 110,942,000 pounds in May, 1938, and for the first five months exports were 41,778,000 pounds, compared with 43,300,000 pounds.

Saturday Bank Closings in Pennsylvania Vetoed

Harrisburg, Pa., June 26. — [Special.]—Announcement was made today by Gov. Arthur James of his veto of the bill which would have permitted the closing of banks on Saturdays during July and August. The veto message said banks and public institutions are for the accommodation of the public in facilitating the transaction of business and that, because banks have not agreed to act in unison, confusion and inconvenience would result if some banks closed all day on Saturdays and others remained open for half a day.

JONES TO RESIST FEDERAL PLAN TO BUY STOCKS

Opposes New Deal's Lending Schemes.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 26.—Jesse Jones, chairman of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, said today he would oppose any plan for government purchases of common and preferred stocks as a so-called aid to business.

Jesse Jones.

Such a plan is now contemplated by the administration planners and is expected to be ready for presentation at the next session of congress. It is advocated by A. A. Berle Jr., brain truster and assistant secretary of state; Marriner Eccles, chairman of the federal reserve board, and other seers in the New Deal inner fold.

The intention is that the government would provide weak business enterprises with equity capital in exchange for stock—and control—which opponents of the scheme declare would lead to socialism in finance and industry.

Jones Heads New Agency.

As head of the new federal loan agency, to which he has just been named by President Roosevelt, Jones might well be in charge of the stock buying plan.

The new agency, consolidating government lending activities, will direct lending and the new federal works agency spending, both of which are called for on an unprecedented scale under the master economic plan of the New Deal's future, presented at the recent hearings of the monopoly investigating committee.

Jones was nominated as administrator of the loan agency last week. The senate has not yet acted on the nomination, but confirmation is assured. Jones would share responsibility for the new 3 billion 860 million dollar lending program asked by the President, if it is approved by congress.

Foresees Possible Dangers.

Jones was asked for his attitude toward the stock purchase plan at a press conference today. While the RFC has bought preferred stocks in banks during the depression, his opposition to a wide scale program involving all industry indicated he realized the possible dangers in such a policy.

The RFC chairman will testify later this week before the senate commit-

New York Stocks.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 26.—Reflecting increased uneasiness over foreign developments, the stock market turned downward today. Losses ranged from fractions to more than 2 points, and extended to practically all types of issues.

Trading expanded on the setback, a total of 502,290 shares changing hands.

Reports that Japan had forcibly barred the unloading of British ships at Swatow, coming on the heels of indications that London was taking a more serious view of the Tientsin situation, were characterized by most Wall street observers as threatening developments.

The list started lower, steadied for a brief spell, then extended its losses at the session wore on. Closing prices generally were around the lowest of the day.

Such representative shares as United States Steel, Chrysler, General Electric, United States Rubber, Bethlehem, General Motors, Montgomery Ward, Texas corporation, and Goodyear paced the downtrend. Loft again was most active issue of the day but declined ⅝ of a point.

Douglas was conspicuously weak in the aviation section, dropping 2 points. Glenn Martin and Sperry broke 1¼ and 1⅛ points, respectively.

New York Bonds.

New York, June 26.—(AP)—Medium priced rail issues and some utilities led a decline in the bond market today which accompanied easing of share prices.

Many foreign dollar bonds sagged badly. Czech 8s of '51 closed at 26, off 6; Rome 6's of '52 at 59½, off 4, and Japanese 6½s at 76⅞, off 1¼.

Among United States governments obligations the majority of treasury issues showed declines of 2-32s or 3-32s of a point, although the 2s of '47, countering the trend, advanced 15-32s on sale of a lone bond.

A point or more lower in the corporate list were Delaware & Hudson refunding 4s at 56, Great Northern 4s of '46 "G" at 96, Illinois Central 4¾s at 44⅝, New York Central 5s at 52¼, International Telephone 5s at 65, and Studebaker 6s at 83½. American and Foreign Power 5s at 62¾, and Portland Gas and Electric 4½s at 72½, lost ¾ each.

Up sharply were Lehigh Valley Coal issues. The 5s of '74 gained 6¼ at 31½ and the 6s of '43 advanced 5 to 45.

Chicago Stocks.

A majority of stocks closed lower in trading on the Chicago exchange yesterday. Commonwealth Edison, which last week sold at its highest level of the year, receded ⅛ point to 29½ on a turnover of 4,100 shares.

Kellogg Switchboard and Supply common was under aggressive accumulation, advancing ½ point net to 8, a new 1939 peak. Net changes of other active issues were confined to fractional proportions.

Trading volume was 19,000 shares. In addition, 1,700 Aviation corporation stock purchase rights changed hands. Of 87 issues traded, 18 advanced, 50 declined, and 19 closed at Saturday's final levels.

Bank Stocks.

Several Chicago bank stocks declined yesterday. Losses of from $2.50 to $5 a share were registered by American National, Continental Illinois, First National, and Harris Trust. There was no increase in the recent small trading.

60 LEADERS VOW TO MAKE CHICAGO DRIVE A SUCCESS

Pledge Aid to Revitalize City's Industries.

Sixty Chicago business executives declared yesterday that the Greater Chicago plan will be carried through to success if they have to do it themselves. Meeting at the Union League club, they pledged themselves to work until there has been collected the $625,000 sought by the Chicago Association of Commerce as the amount necessary to make the plan effective.

"Chicago and Chicago business cannot be too over-confident," Oscar G. Mayer, president of the association of commerce, told the business leaders. "The entire country is watching to see what progress Chicago makes in its revitalization. While it may be difficult at the start to consolidate universal public coöperation in a metropolitan center as large as our own, we will get it if we stay with the assignment.

Termed Work of Years.

"Although the volunteers now seeking the funds to underwrite the Greater Chicago plan are due to wind up their drive for funds this week, the work of the plan must go on for years. This will take the active efforts of thousands of our citizens. The association of commerce can be only the working tool in the undertaking."

George H. Richardson, manager of the Marshall Field estate; Robert H. Babell, president of Armour & Co.; Donald M. Nelson, executive vice president of Sears Roebuck & Co.; J. H. Mellinger, president of the Illinois Bell Telephone company, and Guy Reed, vice president of the Harris Trust and Savings bank, were among those who pledged themselves to see that the Chicago plan is carried through to success.

Urge 200 New Pay Rolls.

"Business must have confidence in itself," Cabell said. "It cannot depend upon others to do the job. If we must have new business in Chicago, then it is up to existent business here to go out and bring it to Chicago. Two hundred new factory pay rolls in Chicago would put the city in the front of national recovery."

Frank A. Hecht, civic leader and capitalist, said that if Chicago's thousands of companies, with their millions of employés and their big investments, "will show determination and a united front there can be no stopping Chicago."

Publishers of six of Chicago's large daily newspapers are scheduled to address a meeting of the volunteer field force at noon today at the Palmer House.

MOST OF RAIL EARNINGS SHOW UPWARD TREND

Statements on net income and net operating income issued yesterday by railroads showed a higher trend in most instances.

The Chicago, Burlington and Quincy halved its net loss in May as compared with a year earlier. For May, 1939, the carrier reported a net deficit of $275,494, against a net loss of $556,005 in May, 1938. For the first five months of this year the Burlington showed a net loss of $1,229,336, compared with net loss of $2,618,243 in the like period of 1938.

The Milwaukee road's net operating deficit in May amounted to $193,488, against an operating loss of $173,010 in May a year ago. For the five months, however, the road reported net operating income of $599,157. A year ago an operating loss of $55,178 was shown.

The Pennsylvania reported for May net operating income of $3,501,032, and for the five months, $30,944,198. These figures compared with $3,384,549 and $14,494,407, respectively, in the corresponding 1938 periods.

MOST BUSINESS LINES IMPROVE IN MIDDLE WEST

Detailed reports issued yesterday by George J. Schaller, president of the Federal Reserve bank of Chicago, showed that most lines of business and industry improved in the 7th federal reserve district during May. These reports supplemented the summary of business conditions made public on Sunday.

Trends in wholesale trade were generally favorable, with the combined group topping the preceding month by 12 per cent and exceeding May, 1938, by 11 per cent.

Strikes at supplying factories and a gradual winding up of the 1939 model season brought production of automobiles in May to a level moderately below that of April. Production, however, continued substantially larger than the depressed 1938 level.

BUTTER TOUCHES ITS LOWEST JUNE PRICE IN 6 YEARS

Top grades of butter in the Chicago cash market yesterday dropped ¼ cent a pound to the lowest June prices in six years. The break reduced 93 score butter to 23½ cents a pound, and 92 score to 23 cents.

The general tone of the market was unsettled, and buyers found nothing in the day's news to encourage purchases. The November butter futures contract on the Chicago Mercantile exchange held at 23¾ cents a pound, equaling the lowest June price for that contract since 1933.

Cuts Veterans' Cake

ALAINE BRANDES.

More than 500 members and guests yesterday attended the twentieth anniversary luncheon celebrating the founding of the Adpost post of the American Legion at the Hotel Sherman. Twenty founders of the post were honored at a special table. A decorated, white birthday cake was cut with a saber by Alaine Brandes, who has been chosen the queen of advertising models in Chicago.

MEMBER BANKS' DEPOSITS SHOW GAIN FOR WEEK

Demand Funds Exceed 17 Billion Dollars.

Demand deposits of the member banks of the federal reserve system increased 26 millions in the week ended June 21 to a total of 17 billion 238 million dollars, the federal reserve board reported yesterday.

The board's report, which covers the condition of member banks in 101 leading cities, showed that total demand deposits were 2 billion 27 million dollars larger than on the corresponding 1938 date.

Business loans declined 8 million dollars during the week, bringing the total outstanding to 3 billion 823 millions. This was 93 millions below the amount outstanding on June 22, 1938.

Following are comparisons of the principal assets and liabilities of the weekly reporting member banks of the federal reserve system in 101 leading cities last Wednesday [in millions of dollars]:

Business Done by Checks Increases in Middle West

Indicating improvement in business, the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago yesterday reported that check transactions in the 7th federal reserve district in the week ended June 21 increased 3.3 per cent over the preceding week and 7.8 per cent over the 1938 period. Debits to individual deposit accounts of 159 banks in forty-one clearing house cities aggregated $1,136,622,000 for the June 21 week. Chicago transactions totaled $637,834,000, against $629,573,000 a year ago.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK

Another rise in the market for hogs yesterday brought prices for the various classes to the highest levels in thirty-nine days. Gains of 5 to 10 cents were recorded, which brought quotations mostly 50 to 75 cents above the five year lows of two weeks ago.

Other live stock did not follow the higher lead taken by hogs. Lambs met narrow demand despite small receipts at fully 25 cents lower rates. A heavy run of longfed steers hustled into the yards to take advantage of the strong rates prevailing at the close of last week caused a setback of 15 to 25 cents. [All prices are in dollars per 100 pounds.]

JONES TO RESIST STOCK PURCHASE BY GOVERNMENT

Opposed to New Dealers' Lending Scheme.

tee considering the Mead bill for government guarantees on loans to small business. The government, through the RFC, would guarantee up to 90 per cent of the loans. This bill is sponsored by the Roosevelt planners and is part of the Berle plan. Jones has withheld comment on the bill.

Discusses Foreign Loans.

In extensive discussion of possible loans to foreign countries, for which 500 million dollars is set apart in the President's proposed program of new lending, Jones said that it would be possible for the Export-Import bank to make loans to countries defaulting on their war debts to the United States, but that he did not think the bank would make such loans.

The bank, he said, is exempted from the provisions of the Johnson act, prohibiting extension of credit to defaulters.

He said he expects that as much as 200 million dollars, the full amount allotted, might be made in export loans on agricultural surpluses and heavy goods in the next fiscal year.

He would not take a direct stand on the opposition expressed in congress toward making loans to Latin American countries which have defaulted on their private debts, although President Roosevelt has approved such lending.

Cites RFC Policy.

"We make loans every day here to people who have defaulted on their debts," said Jones, referring to RFC industrial loans. "The people who come here are people in trouble, else they wouldn't come."

He said he thought that the Latin-American countries "can be made good customers."

To a query on his attitude toward a proposal that the government make straight "character loans" to small business, Jones said there is no such thing as a pure character loan, that while a large part of the banker's security is character the law also requires collateral of some sort. "On many of our loans the best part of security is character," he added.

Jones announced that since the RFC resumed lending in February, 1938, it has authorized 6,185 loans totaling 1 billion 201 million dollars. Ot these loans, he said, 5,413 involving 256 million dollars were made to business. Banks also participated in business loans to the extent of 62 million dollars.
